FOREWORD

The first edition of "A Dictionary of Sanskrit Grammar" by Mahamahopadhyaya Professor Kashinath Vasudev Abhyankar was published in 1961 as Gaekwad's Oriental Series No. 134 by the Oriental Institute under the authority of the M. S. University of Baroda. In 1977 its second revised edition by MM. Professor Kashinath Vasudev Abhyankar and Dr. Jayadevbhai Mohanlal Shukla was published with an addition of "about three hundred new entries" (Preface to the second edition by Dr. J. M. Shukla) as Gaekwad's Oriental Series No. 134. Within a very short span of time the edition went out of print indicating its importance and utility as a reference-book.

There has been an incessant demand for this book and we are happy to bring out its third edition.

I tender my most sincere feelings of gratitude to Professor Dr. M. N. Desai, Vice-Chancellor, M. S. University of Baroda for his keen interest and for providing facilities for the reprint. I am grateful to Professor Ramlal Parikh, Vice-Chancellor, Gujarat Vidyapeeth, Ahmedabad for his interest in this work by persuading the Navajivan Press to accept the printing of this work, "A Dictionary of Sanskrit Grammar" by photo-offset process. We are thankful to Shri Jitendra T. Desai, General Manager, Navajivan Press, Ahmedabad, for his cooperation and for expediting the printing. I am also thankful to Shri P. N. Srivastav, Manager, M. S. University of Baroda Press and also Shri N. N. Shah, Technical Assistant and my other colleagues in the Oriental Institute for cooperation and for expediting the publication of this work.

PREFACE TO THE SECOND EDITION

Within a few years after the publication of 'A Dictionary of Sanskrit Grammar', the book became out of print. With continuous inquiries pouring in about its availability it was thought necessary that a second edition should be made available to the serious students of Sanskrit learning. Hence, a request was sent to the Director, Oriental Institute, Baroda for the issue of a second edition. He readily accepted the request.

Prof. K. V. Abhyankar, my revered teacher asked me to revise all the entries, add a few more references to the existing entries and further add about three hundred new entries. I readily accepted his suggestion. The new entries are mostly of the nature of semantic terms.

Before the printing of the book was taken up a tragic event took place. Prof. Abhyankar, with Mrs. Abhyankar, their two brilliant young grand children and an aged servant, met with an unnatural and tragic death. Sanskrit scholars in India and the West were shocked at this unprecedented vagary of Destiny.

Prof. Abhyankar was the most authoritative of the grammarians active in India. He enriched research in Vyākaraṇaśāstra by his scholarly works like Vākyapadīya, Mahābhāṣyadīpikā, Paribhāṣasamgraha and others which are indispensable to students of grammar.

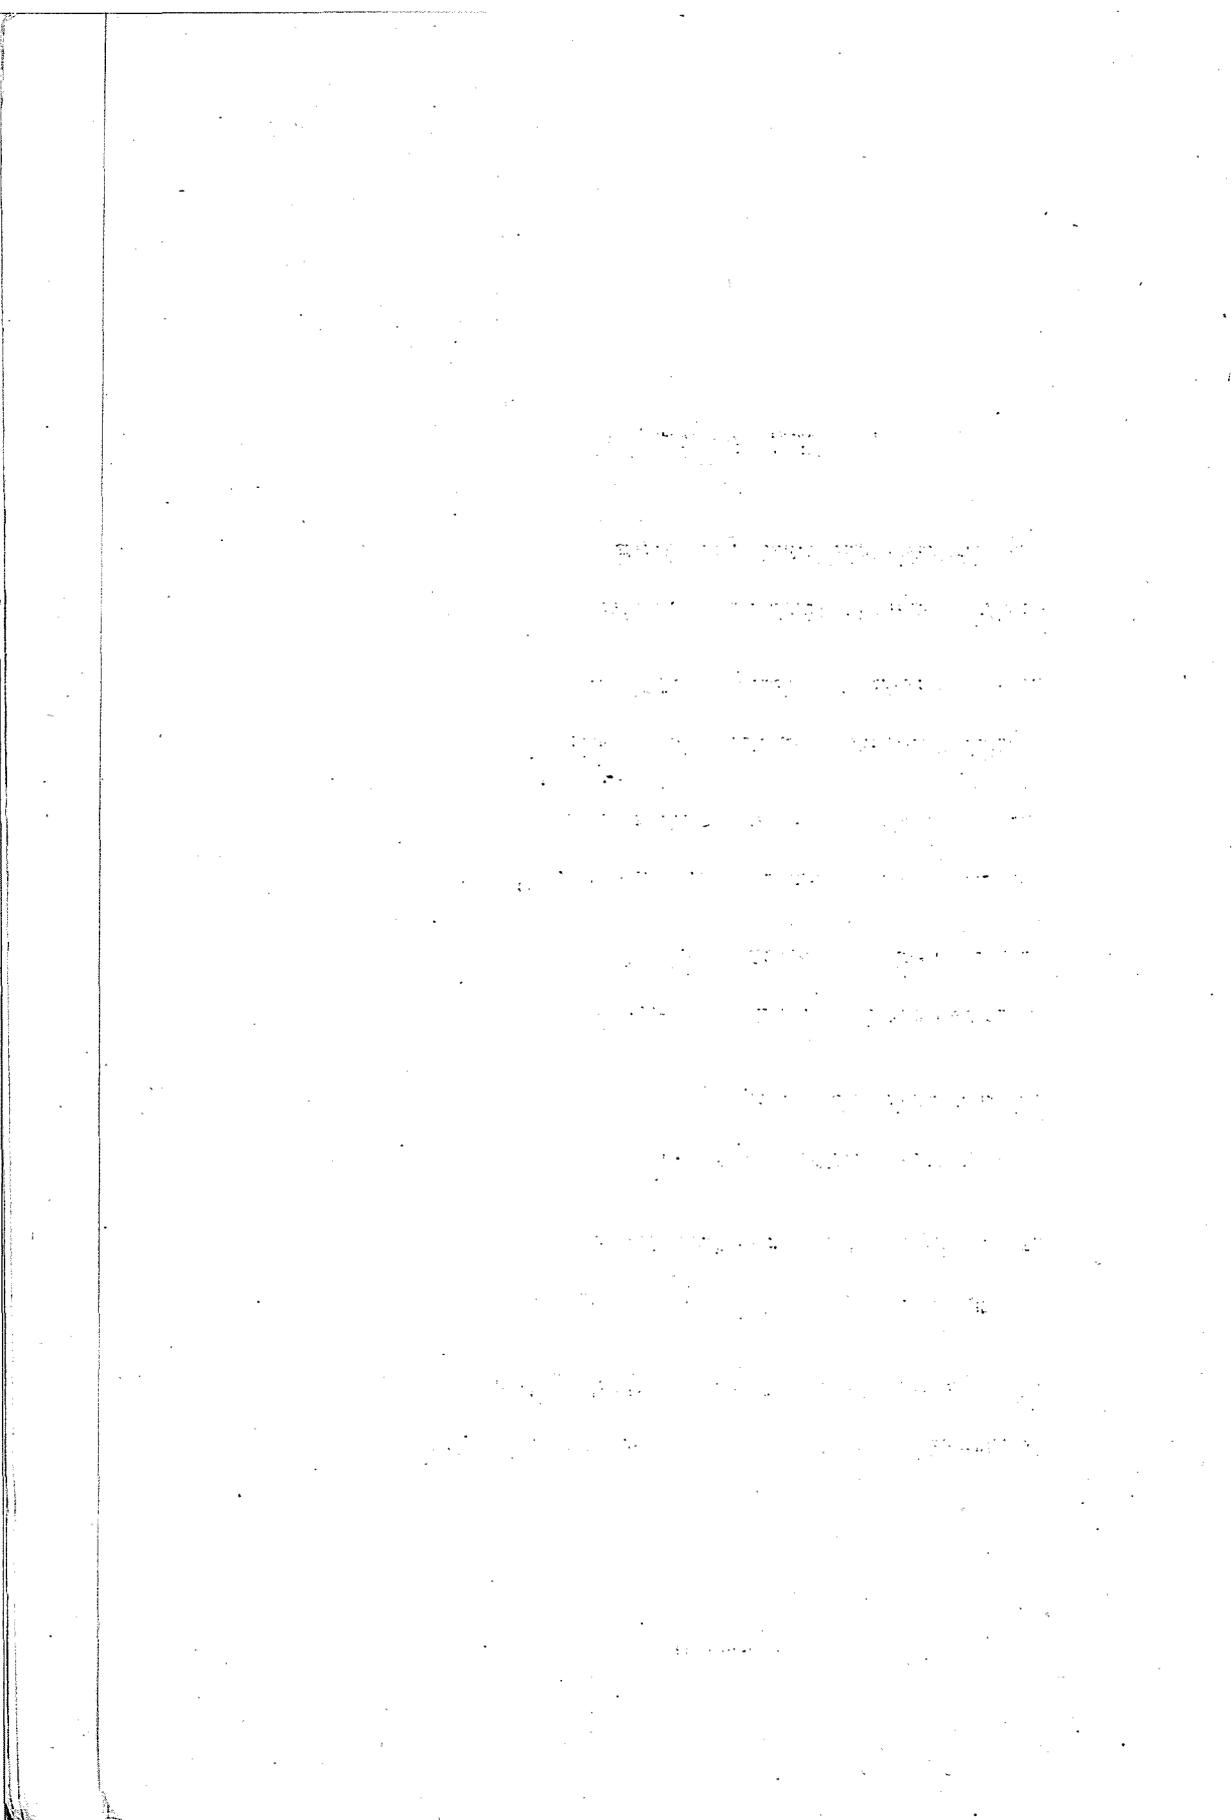

I express my deep and sincere sense of gratitude to Dr. A. N. Jani, the present Director, Oriental Institute, Baroda, for planning the completion of printing of this book in a record time of about ten months. But for his zest and vigour the work would not have been completed so soon.

I am particularly thankful to Shri Siddhartha Y. Wakankar, Research Officer of the Oriental Institute, for scrupulously correcting the proofs of this work.

I thank the authorities and workers of the M. S. University Press for expediting the printing of the present work.

INTRODUCTION TO THE FIRST EDITION

Object of this Dictionary

No apology is needed for undertaking the compilation of the present 'Dictionary of Sanskrit Grammar', which, although concise, is expected to meet the needs of Sanskrit scholars and research students of Vyākaraṇa and other Śāstras by serving as a useful reference book in their study of, and research work in, any branch of Sanskrit learning. The many independent treatises in the several Śāstras and the learned commentaries upon them, as also the commentaries on classical poems and dramas, are, in fact, full of grammatical explanations of words and constructions, involving a liberal use of grammatical expressions and technical terms at several places. The elementary knowledge of grammar which a scholar of Sanskrit possesses, is not found sufficient for his understanding fully the grammatical references in these books, especially so at present, when the practice of sending young boys to the Sanskrit Pāṭhaśālās to study the standard classical works with commentaries along with some standard elementary treatises on grammar, has already stopped. The number of Sanskrit Paṇḍitas and Śāstrins, who had to obtain a sound footing in grammar before they undertook the study of the higher texts of the several Śāstras, and who, therefore, could be consulted by young scholars and research workers in the several Śāstras, has also diminished considerably. The usual Sanskrit Dictionaries such as those of Monier Williams, V. S. Apte and others are found of no avail in supplying explanations of the grammatical technique which confronts modern scholars at every step in their critical reading of the several Sanskrit texts. Under these circumstances, it is only the technical dictionaries of the type of the present 'Dictionary of Sanskrit Grammar' that can render a valuable assistance to scholars and research workers in their reading of the higher Sanskrit texts in the Several Śāstras.

Beginnings of Sanskrit Grammar

Every science has necessarily its own terminology and a special vocabulary. The remark is true with respect to Sanskrit Grammar or Vyākaraṇaśāstra which has developed as a science during the last two thousand years and has got several technical terms and numerous words with a special grammatical significance. The origin of grammar can well-nigh be traced to the Period of the Brāhmaṇas i.e. about 1000 B.C., when Vedic scholars began to discuss the meaning of the inspired Vedic hymns by carefully showing disconnected, the words of the Vedic hymns and noting down the differences in accents as also the changes caused by their coalescence in the continuous recital or the Samhitāpāṭha. They also tried to explain the sense of the Vedic words by tracing them back to the roots of suitable senses and laid down rules for their proper and correct pronunciation. These three pursuits viz. (a) the discussion of the features of the Pada text,

(b) the derivation of words, and (c) directions regarding the proper pronunciation of the Vedic words, were carried on with vigour with a view to preserving the Vedic texts intact, and the treatises dealing with these three branches were respectively called by the names Prātisākhya, Nirukta and Śikṣā, all of which could rightly be called Vyākaraṇa or Grammar, as they were devoted to determining the correct words as distinguished from the incorrect ones. Although a number of books were written by Vedic scholars in these three branches, not more than five or six Prātisākhya works, a solitary Nirukta work, and a few Śikṣā works are the only available works at present.

Development of Sanskrit Grammar

In course of time, on the analogy of the derivation of words, an analysis of the word into its constituent elements such as the base, the affix, the augments and the modifications, was undertaken by grammarians. This separation of the different elements of a word constituted Vyākaraṇa or grammar, which was developed as an art by ancient grammarians like Āpiśali, Śākaṭāyana and others before Pāṇini. It was Pāṇini who carried it to perfection, and his work, the Aṣṭādhyāyī, compact yet exhaustive, and laconic yet clear, is simply a marvellous product of art by a man of amazing intelligence. As a result, the works on grammar by all ancient scholars who flourished before Pāṇini disappeared in course of time leaving only a few quotations behind them. Pāṇini was followed by a number of grammarians who wrote popular treatises on grammar, based, no doubt, on Pāṇini's grammar, some of which, in their turn came to have auxiliary works, glosses and explanatory commentaries. These different treatises, written by Śarvavarman, Candragomin, Devanandin, Pālyakīrti Śākaṭāyana, Hemacandra, Kramadīśvara, Jumarānandin, Supadma and others with their auxiliary works and commentaries, came to be looked upon as different systems of grammar. These treatises present two kinds of treatment: some of them are arranged in Sūtras in the same manner as the Aṣṭādhyāyī of Pāṇini which treats one after another the several grammatical elements such as technical terms, padas of roots, case-relations, compound words, kṛt affixes, taddhita affixes, substitutes, accents and euphonic changes; while others give a topic-wise treatment following in that respect the ancient grammarians before Pāṇini such as Indra, Vedic Śākaṭāyana and others who treated one after another the different topics of grammar such as the euphonic changes, declension, conjugation, compound formation, nouns derived from roots, nouns derived from nouns and the like. The special feature of all these grammars was that they entirely omitted the Vedic peculiarities and accents.

Sanskrit Grammar as a Science

The subject of Sanskrit grammar was first treated as a science by the two epoch-making grammarians, first by Kātyāyana, a few centuries after Pāṇini, and then by Patāñjali, the exponent of Kātyāyana, who lived in the second century B.C. It was carried to perfection by the stalwart grammarian Bhartrhari of the fifth century A.D. Later grammarians, prominent among whom were Jayāditya, Vāmana, Kaiyaṣa, Haradatta, Bhaṭṭoji, Koṇḍabhaṭṭa and Nāgeśa, developed by their substantial contributions, the work of Pāṇini as a science to such an extent that the number of smaller and greater works well nigh rose to eight hundred and that of the authors to four hundred. The grammar of Pāṇini, which is looked upon as the standard one at present gives about a hundred technical terms, more than two hundred suffixes, about two thousand primary roots and more than five thousand special words arranged in more than two hundred and fifty classes according to the special grammatical peculiarities shown by each class. The number of independent primary words, besides these five thousand special words, if roughly estimated, may exceed even twenty-five thousand. Besides these primary roots, primary nouns, affixes and technical terms in the different Śāstras, there is a vast number of secondary roots and secondary nouns, which is rather impossible even to be approximately determined.

Nature and Scope of this Dictionary

The preparation of a comprehensive dictionary of Sanskrit Grammar, a subject which has been developed fully by Sanskrit Grammarians for the last two thousand years, is certainly a stupendous work which can only be done by a band of grammarians who have got a sound footing in the subject. In the light of what has been said above, the present dictionary is only an honest and humble attempt in that direction, made by the compiler who was inspired to undertake this rather arduous venture by his close study of the subject for more than sixty years according to the traditional method of the East, combined with the critical and comparative method of the West. As the work was done single-handed, and finished within a limited time with a view to making it available to students and scholars of Sanskrit at as early a date as possible, the number of books consulted was a limited one. The number of entries is more than four thousand out of which the important ones are in the form of short articles supplying very briefly the necessary information from the different sources with quotations from or references to the original works. All the standard works in grammar have been carefully consulted including the available Prātisākhya works, the Mahābhāṣya, the Kāśikā, the Vākyapadīya, the Siddhānta-Kaumudī and others. The Kātantra, the Śākaṭāyana, the Jainendra, the Haima and other grammars, as also the different Paribhāṣā works have been consulted at important places. Minor works and commentaries are not consulted as the important words and topics occurring therein have been mostly included here on account of their occurrence in the major works. Attention is, of course, paid to grammatical importance and significance, and only such words and such senses of them as have a grammatical significance, have been included in the present dictionary along with affixes, augments, substitutes and technical terms mostly given in Pāṇini's grammar. Names of authors and books, printed as well as found in a manuscript form, have been included as far as practicable in the present work. A scrupulous attention has been paid to the Prātisākhya works, the Mahābhāṣya and the Kāśikā which are looked upon as supremely authoritative in the field of Sanskrit grammar. It must be admitted that the scholarly index works of Dr. Böthlingk and Dr. Renou were found very useful in providing references to standard grammar works. The abbreviations for the titles of books consulted and those of grammatical terms are given separately at the beginning of the present 'Dictionary of Sanskrit Grammar'. Names of books and authors have been sometimes given in the Roman script and sometimes in the Devanāgarī script.

Conclusion

Acknowledgements are due to Mr. M. N. Chapekar, Āryasanskriti Mudraṅālaya, Poona, who has given ample co-operation in getting this Dictionary printed in the shortest possible time. For facility of printing, accents of Vedic passages and words are not shown, nor italics have been used for Sanskrit terms written in the Roman script nor the breaking of a word at the end of a line is done scrupulously at the end of a syllable or a constituent part. In spite of all possible care, some slips have crept in for which the indulgence of the reader is craved. It is expected that Sanskrit scholars will make full use of this work and offer their valuable suggestions for future undertakings of this type.

A sincere sense of gratitude must be conveyed to Dr. Bhogilal J. Sandesara, the Director of the Oriental Institute, Baroda, at whose initiative the project of this 'Dictionary of Sanskrit Grammar,' undertaken some years ago, but postponed from time to time, was not only pursued with vigour, but completed and turned into a volume in the Gaekwad Oriental Series.

HINTS FOR THE USE OF THIS DICTIONARY

1. Words in this dictionary are arranged in the serial order of the Sanskrit alphabet which is current everywhere, viz. the fourteen vowels beginning with अ and ending with औ, and then the thirtythree consonants consisting of the five guttural, the five palatal, the five cerebral, the five dental and the five labial consonants and then the four semi-vowels and the four sibilants. झ is taken as a combination of ज्ञ and झ, and ज्ञ as one of ज्ञ and ज्ञ.

2. Words are given in their noun-base (प्रातिपादिक) such as अकर्मक, अकार. अक्षर etc., without the addition of any case affix.

3. At places of option where any one of the anusvāra and the parasavarna could be used, the anusvāra is consistently used, and a place after the vowels and before the consonants is assigned to it in the alphabetical order. For example, the words containing anusvāra such as संकर्ष, संक्रम, संचय, संज्ञा, संतान, संधि, संप्रसारण संयोग, संवरण, संसर्ग, संहिता etc., are all placed after स and before सक् सकर्मक etc.

4. Each word entered, has got only one paragraph assigned to it, although the explanation of the word may cover sometimes a full page or more.

5. The meaning or meanings of a word are given immediately after it, and therefore no capital letter is used at the beginning of the word with which each meaning begins.

6. The various senses of a word are given one after another with serial numbers placed before them. The several senses of a word are arranged as far as possible in their chronological order of origin.

7. The various senses are usually illustrated with quotations from standard authors with full references as far as possible. From among the Prātisākhya works, the Rkprātisākhya is generally quoted, while from among the numerous grammar works, the Mahābhāṣya and the Kāśikā are quoted profusely.

8. The first figure in references, which is generally the Roman one, refers to the main section such as the adhyāya or the Kāṇḍa or the Paṭala, while the next one refers to the subordinate sections, such as the stanza or the Sūtra or the like. When there are three figures they refer to the adhyāya, the pāda and the Sūtra in the case of Pāṇini, and to the Maṇḍala, the Sūkta and the stanza in the case of the Ṛksaṁhitā

9. When a particular form is illustrated, the illustration begins with the abbreviation 'e.g.'; while usually, when the sense given, is illustrated, the explanation or the quotation in Sanskrit begins with the abbreviation 'cf'.

11. As the senses given in such dictionaries are more or less technical or conventional, the literal or the usual sense of the words is given only when it is allied to the conventional sense.

12. Sanskrit words are generally given in the Devanāgarī script; when, however, the Roman script is used, the diacritical marks which are in current use at present, are employed.

10. Each of the different senses of a word or of the uses of a word in different ways, begins with a separate number (1), (2), (3), etc.; when, however, the same sense is given with different shades of it, by words which are practically synonymous, no separate numbers are given, the shades of sense being separated by a colon, or by a comma.

A Dictionary of Sanskrit Grammar

अ (१) the first letter of the alphabet in Sanskrit and its derived languages, representing the sound a (अ); (2) the vowel a (अ) representing in grammatical treatises, except when prescribed as an affix or an augment or a substitute, all its eighteen varieties caused by accentuation or nasalisation or lengthening; (3) personal ending a (अ) of the perf. sec.pl. and first and third pers. sing.; (4) krt affix a (अ) prescribed especially after the denominative and secondary roots in the sense of the verbal activity e.g. बुभुक्ष्, चिन्ता, ईक्षा, चर्चा etc. cf. अ प्रथयात् etc. (P. III. 3.102-106); (5) sign of the aorist mentioned as an (अङ्) or can (चङ्) by Pāṇini in P. III 1.48 to 59 e.g. भगमत्, अचीकरत्; (6) conjugational sign mentioned as śap (शप्) or śa (श) by Pāṇini in P. III.1.68, 77. e.g. भवति, तुदति etc.; (7) augment am (अस्) as prescribed by P. VI. 1.58; e.g. द्रष्टा, द्रक्ष्यति; (8) augment aṭ (अट्) prefixed to a root in the imperf. and aorist tenses and in the conditional mood e.g. अभवत्, अभूत्, अभविष्यत् cf. P. VI.4.71; (8) krt affix a (अ) prescribed as अङ्, अच्, अञ्, अण्, अन्, अप्, क्, ख्, घ्, ज्, ट्, ड्, ण्, etc. in the third Adhyāya of Pāṇini's Aṣṭādhyāyī; (9) tad. affix a (अ) mentioned by Pāṇini as अच्, अञ्, अण्, अ etc. in the fourth and the fifth chapters of the Aṣṭādhyāyī of Pāṇini; (10) the samāsānta affix a (अ), as also stated in the form of the samāsānta affixes (ङच्, अच्, टच्, षच्, ष, अप् and अञ्) by Pāṇini in V. 4. 73 to 121; (11) substitute a (अञ्) accented grave for इदम् before case-affixes beginning with the ins.

case; (12) remnant (अ) of the negative particle नञ् after the elision of the consonant n (न्) by नलोपो नञः P. vi. 3.73 (13) remnant of the Uṇādi affixes अन्, अल्, क्, कन्, ट्, टन्, ड्.

अं (ँ) (१) nasal utterance called अनुस्वार and written as a dot above the vowel preceding it. cf. स्वरमनुसंलीनं शब्धते इति; it is pronounced after a vowel as immersed in it. The anusvāra is considered (१) as only a nasalization of the preceding vowel being in a way completely amalgamated with it. cf. T. Pr. V. 11, 31; XV. 1; XXII. 14; (2) as a nasal addition to the preceding vowel, many times prescribed in grammar as nuṭ (नुट्) or num (नुम्) which is changed into anusvāra in which case it is looked upon as a sort of a vowel, while, it is looked upon as a consonant when it is changed into a cognate of the following consonant (परसवर्णे) or retained as n (न्). cf. P. VIII. 4.58; (3) as a kind of consonant of the type of nasalized half g (ग्) as described in some treatises of the Yajurveda Prātiśākhya; cf. also R. Pr. 1 22 V. Pr. 14.148-9. The vowel element of the anusvāra became more prevalent later on in Pali, Prakrit, Apabhraṃśa and in the spoken modern languages while the consonantal element became more predominant in classical Sanskrit. अनुश्चर्यते पश्चाद्धे स्वरवदुच्चार्यते इति अनुस्वारः। —यानुषभूषणे; एको विन्दुरनुस्वारः तिलवद्वाद्धेचन्द्रवत्। प्रयोगरत्नमाला I. 28.

(2) a term used for nominative in ancient grammar-treatises.

अ × क् (×) जिह्वामूलीय, represented by a sign like the वज्र in writing, as stated by Durgasimha who remarks वज्राकृतिर्वर्णो जिह्वामूलीयसंज्ञो भवति. The Jihvāmūliya is only a voiceless breath following the utterance of a vowel and preceding the utterance of the guttural letter क् or ख्. अकथित not mentioned by any other case-relation such as अपादान, संप्रदान

and अधिकरण; stated with respect to the indirect object, governed by roots possessing two objects such as दुह्, याच् and others, which in the passive voice is put in the nominative case. The indirect object is called akathita because in some cases there exists no other case-relation as, for example, in पौरवं गां याचते or भिक्षते or माणवकं पन्थानं पृच्छति; while, in the other cases, the other case-relations (with the activity expressed by the verb) are wilfully suppressed or ignored although they exist, as for instance in गां दोषि पयः, अन्ववरुणादि गां व्रजम्; see अकथितं च P. I. 4.51 and the Mahābhāṣya thereon. cp. also अपादानादि विशेषकथाभिरकथितः। Hetā. on Vāk. Pad. III. 7.70.

The reasons for suppression are briefly given in the well-known stanza; धातोर्थान्तरे वृत्तेर्धात्वर्थे-नोपसंग्रहात्। प्रसिद्धेरविवक्षातः कर्मणोऽ कर्मिका-क्रिया ॥ Vāk. Pad. III. 7.88. In the case of intransitive roots, the verbal activity and its fruit are centred in one and the same individual viz. the agent or कर्ता cf. फलव्यापारयोरे-कनिष्ठतायामकर्मकः Vāk. Pad. III. 7.67. An ancient verse describing the senses in which a root is intransitive is as follows :

शयनक्रीडारुचिदीप्स्यर्थं धातुगणं तमकर्मकमाहुः ॥

अकर्मकैर्योगे कर्म an object governed by an intransitive root by virtue of the activity of a transitive root which is supposed, as for instance, in मासमास्ते where the word व्याप्य which governs मासं as an object, is suppressed; cp. Vāk. Pad. III. 7.67.

I. 1.73. The letter is generally given as the first letter of the alphabet (वर्णसमाह्वय) in all Prātiśākhya and grammar works except in the alphabet termed Varṇopadeśa, as mentioned in the Rk Tantra cf. ए ओ ऐ औ आ ऋ लृ ई ऊ ऋ ऌ इ उ आः। रयवलाः। ङञणनमाः। अः ऋ ऋ ऋ पाः। हुं कुं खुं गुं घुं अं आं एवमुपदेशे etc. R. अक्षर a letter of the alphabet, such as a (अ) or i (इ) or h (ह) or y (य) or the like. The word was originally applied in the Prātiśākhya works to vowels (long, short as also protracted), to consonants and the ayogavāha letters which were tied down to them as their appendages. Hence अक्षर came later on to mean a syllable i.e. a vowel with a consonant or consonants preceding or following it, or without any consonant at all. cf. ओजा ह्रस्वाः सप्तमान्ताः स्वराणामन्ये दीर्घा उभये अक्षराणि R. Pr. I. 17-19 cf. एकाक्षरा, द्व्यक्षरा etc. The term akṣara was also applied to any letter (वर्ण), be it a vowel or a consonant. cf. the terms एकाक्षर, सन्ध्यक्षर, समानाक्षर used by Patañjali as also by the earlier writers. For the etymology of the term see Mahābhāṣya अक्षरं न क्षरं विद्यात्, अक्षोतेर्वा सरोऽक्षरम् । वर्णं वाहुः पूर्वपत्रे किमर्थमुपदिश्यते । M. Bh. Āhnika 2 end.

अक्षरसमाज्ञाय alphabet; traditional enumeration of phonetically independent letters generally beginning with the vowel a (अ). Although the number of letters and the order in which they are stated differ in different treatises, still, qualitatively they are much the same. The Śivasūtras, on which Pāṇini's grammar is based, enumerate 9 vowels, 4 semi-vowels, twenty-five class-consonants and 4 sibilants. The nine vowels are five simple vowels or monothongs (समानाक्षर) as they are called in ancient treatises, and the four diphthongs, (सन्ध्यक्षर). The four semi-vowels y, v, r, l, (य्वृर्ल्) called antasthāvārṇa, the twenty-five class-consonants or mutes called sparsā, and the four ūṣman letters ś, ṣ, s and h (शृष्श् ह्) are the same in all the Prātiśākhya and grammar works although in the Prātiśākhya works the semi-vowels are mentioned after the class consonants. The difference in numbers, as noticed, for example in the maximum number which reaches 65 in the Vājasaneyi-Prātiśākhya, is due to the separate mention of the long and protracted vowels as also to the inclusion of the Ayogavāha letters, and their number. The Ayogavāha letters are anuvāra, Visarjanīya, jihvāmūliya, upadhāniya, nāsikya, four yamas and svarabhakti. The Ṛk Prātiśākhya does not mention ॐ (ॐ), but adding long ā (आ) ī (ई) ū (ऊ) and ī (ऋ) to the short vowels, mentions 12 vowels, and mentioning 3 Ayogavāhas (ॐ, ॐ and ॐ) lays down 48 letters. The Ṛk Tantra Prātiśākhya adds the vowel ॐ (ॐ) (short as also long) and mentions 14 vowels, 4 semi-vowels, 25 mutes, 4 sibilants, and by adding 10 ayogavāhas viz. 4 yamas, nāsikya, visarjanīya jihvāmūliya, upadhāniya and two kinds of anuvāra, and thus brings the total number to 57. The Ṛk Tantra makes a separate enumeration by putting diphthongs first, long vowels afterwards and short vowels still afterwards, and puts semi-vowels first before mutes, for purposes of framing brief terms or pratyāhāras. This enumeration is called varṇopadeśa in contrast with the other one which is called varṇoddeśa. The Taittirīya Prātiśākhya adds protracted vowels and lays down 60 letters; The Śikṣā of Pāṇini lays down 63 or 64 letters, while the Vājasaneyi-Prātiśākhya gives 65 letters. cf. V. Pr. VIII. 1-25. The alphabet of the modern Indian Languages is based on the Varṇasamāmnāya given in the Vājasaneyi-Prātiśākhya. The Prātiśākhyas call this enumeration by the name Varṇa-samāmnāya. The Ṛk. tantra uses the terms Akṣarasamāmnāya and Brahmarāsi which are picked up later on by Patañjali. cf. सोऽयमक्षरसमाम्नायो वाक्समाम्नायः पुष्पितः फलितश्चन्द्रतारकवत् प्रतिमण्डितो वेदितव्यो ब्रह्मराशिः। सर्ववेदपुण्यफलावसिश्वास्य ज्ञाने भवति। मातापितरौ चास्य स्वर्गे लोके गृहीयेते। M. This statement has been given as a distinct Paribhāṣā by Vyāḍi and Śākaṭāyana. The author of the Mahābhāṣya appears to have quoted it from the writings of Vyāḍi and the earlier grammarians. See also M. Bh. on अल्पात्तरम् P. II. 2.31.

अतसुच् (अतस्) tad. aff. अतस् applied to the words दक्षिण, उत्तर, परं and अवर ; e.g. दक्षिणतो वसति ; उत्तरत आगतः, परतो रमणीयम्, परस्ताद्रमणीयम्, अवरत आगतः अवरस्ताद्रसति cf. P. V. 2.28, 29.

अताम् personal affix of the third pers. pl. Ātm. in the Imperative (लोट्). cf. P. III. 4.90.

अतिक्रम passing over a word in the क्रमपाठ without repeating it ; passing beyond, cf. अतिक्रम्य परिग्रहः R. Pr. X.7, which means catching a word for repetition by coming back after passing over it, e.g. इन्द्राग्नी अपात् । इन्द्राग्नी इति इन्द्राग्नी । or अनु दक्षि । दक्षि दावने । दक्षीति दक्षि ।

अतिदेश extended application ; transfer or conveyance or application of the character or qualities or attributes of one thing to another. Atideśa in Sanskrit grammar is a very common feature prescribed by Pāṇini generally by affixing the tad. affix मत् or वत् to the word whose attributes are conveyed to another, e.g. लोटो लङ्वत् P. III. 4.85. In some cases the atideśa is noticed even without the affix मत् or वत्. e.g. गङ्कुटादिभ्योऽङ्गिण् ङिच् P. I. 2.1. Atideśa is generally seen in all grammatical terms which end with 'vadbhāva' e.g. स्थानिवद्भाव (P. I. 1.56-59), सन्वद्भाव (P. VII. 4.93), अन्तादिवद्भाव (P. VI. 1.85), अमृततद्भाव (P. V. 4.50) and others. Trilocana-dāsa on Durga's commentary on Kāt. Sū. II. 2.60 gives five kinds, cf. स च निमित्तरूपव्यपदेशशास्त्रकार्यमेदात् । Out of these atideśas, the स्थानिवद्भाव is the most important one, by virtue of which sometimes there is a full representation i.e. substitution of the original form called sthānin in the place of the secondary form called ādeśa. This full representation is called रूपातिदेश as different from the usual one which is called कार्यातिदेश, cf. M. Bh. on I. 2.1; VII. 1.96; VIII. 1.90 Vārt. 1 and VIII. 1.95. Vārt. 3. Regarding the use of अतिदेश there is laid down a general dictum सामान्यातिदेशे विशेषानतिदेशः—when an operation depending on the general properties of a thing could be taken by extended application, an operation depending on special properties should not be taken by virtue of the same; e.g. भूतवत् in P. III. 3.132 means as in the case of the general past tense and not in the case of any special past tense like the imperfect (अनद्यतन) or the perfect (परोक्ष). See Par. Śek. Pari. 101; M. Bh. on P. III. 3.132. There is also a general dictum आतिदेशिकमनित्यम्—whatever is transferred by an extended application, need not be necessarily taken. See Par. Śek. 93.6 as also M. Bh. on P. I. 1.123 Vārt. 4; I. 2.1 Vārt. 3; II. 3.69 Vārt. 2 etc., Kaiyaṭa on II. 1.2 and VI. 4.22 and Nyāsa on P. I. 1.56 and P. I. 2.58 Vārt. 3. The dictum आतिदेशिकमनित्यम् is given as a Paribhāṣā by Nāgeśa cf. Par. Śek. 93.6.

अतिप्रसङ्ग over-application of a definition (अनिष्टेऽपि विषये प्रवृत्तिः) which is looked upon as a serious fault; e.g. अतिप्रसङ्गो ब्रह्मादिषु P. VI. 1.66 Vārt. 3.

अतिबहु too much, rather unnecessary; e.g. इदं चाप्यद्यत्वे अतिबहु क्रियते, M. Bh. on I. 1.38, इदमतिबहु क्रियते M. Bh. on I. 4.63; VI. 1.145; नातिबहु प्रयोक्तव्यम् M. Bh. on VIII. 1.4.

Bh. on V. 2.94, where अतिशायन means अतिशय. Patañjali, commenting on P. V. 3.55 clearly remarks that for अतिशय, or for अतिशयन, the old grammarians, out of fancy only, used the term

- अतिज्ञायन, as it was a current term in popular usage; cf. देव्याः सन्ननिबन्धाः क्रियन्ते यावद् ब्रूयात् प्रकर्षे अतिज्ञाय इति तवदतिज्ञायन इति M. Bh. on P. V. 3-55.
- अतिस्पर्श excess of contact, which to a certain extent spoils the pronunciation and leads to a fault. अतिस्पर्श is the same as दुःस्पर्श, the letter ङ being called दुःस्पृष्ट on account of excess of contact. This excess of contact (अतिस्पर्श) in the case of the utterance of the letter र results into a fault as it practically borders on stammering; cf. अतिस्पर्शो बर्बरता च रेफे. R. Pr. XIV. 26.

अदर्शन a term in ancient grammars and Prātiśākhyas meaning non-appearance of a phonetic member वर्णस्यादर्शनं लोपः (V. Pr. १.141), explained as अनुपलब्धि by उन्वट. Later on, the idea of non-appearance came to be associated with the idea of expectation and the definition of लोप given by Pāṇini in the words अदर्शनं लोपः (as based evidently on the Prātiśākhya definition) was explained as non-appearance of a letter or a group of letters where it was expected to have been present. See M. Bh. on I. 1.60 Vārt. 4 and Kaiyaṭa thereon.

अदादि name given to the class of roots belonging to the second conjugation, as the roots therein begin with the root अद्. The word अदिप्रभृति is also used in the same sense; cf. अदिप्रभृतिभ्यः शपः P. which is generally expressed by the aorist (लुङ्) or the simple future (लृट्); the other two corresponding tenses imperfect and first future (viz. लृङ् and लृट्) being used in connection with past and future events respectively, provided the events do not pertain to that day which is in question; cf. Pr. XI. 3.

अथाख्याः समाप्तायाधिकाः प्राग्रिकितात् (V. Pr. I. 33.)

अधिकरण (1) support; a grammatical relation of the nature of a location; place of verbal activity. cf. आधारे-धिकरणम् P. I. 4.45; (2) one of the six or seven Kārikas or functionaries of verbal activity shown by the locative case. cf. सप्तम्यधिकरणे च P. II. 3.35; (3) substance, 'dravya' cf. अनधिकरणवाचि अद्रव्यवाचि इति गम्यते M.Bh. on II. 1.1. (4) विचारस्थान, topic under discussion, cf. Vāk. pad. II. 116 and III. 7. 148, 155.

अधिकार governing rule consisting of a word (e.g. प्रत्ययः, धातोः, समासान्ताः etc.) or words (e.g. ड्याभ्यातिपदिकात्, सर्वस्य द्वे etc.) which follows or is taken as understood in every following rule upto a particular limit. The meaning of the word अधिकार is discussed at length by Patañjali in his Mahābhāṣya on II. 1. 1, where he has given the difference between अधिकार and परिभाषा; cf. अधिकारः प्रतियोगं तस्या-निर्देशार्थं इति योगे योगे उपतिष्ठते । परिभाषा पुनरेकदेशस्था सती सर्वं शास्त्रमभिव्यज्यति प्रदीपवत् । See also Mahābhāṣya on I. 3.11; I. 4.49 and IV. I. 83. The word or wording which is to repeat in the subsequent rules is believed to be shown by Pāṇini by characterizing it with a peculiarity of utterance known as स्वरितोच्चारणम्. The word which is repeated in the following Sūtras is stated to be अधिकृत. The Śabda-Kaustubha defines adhikāra as एकत्रोपात्तस्यान्यत्र व्यापारः अधिकारः Śab. Kaus. on P. 1.2.65. Sometimes the whole rule is repeated e.g. प्रत्ययः P. III. 1.1, अङ्गस्य P. VI. 4.1, समासान्ताः P. V. 4.68, while on some occasions a part only of it is seen repeated. The repetition goes on upto a particular limit which is stated as in असिद्धवदनाभात् P. VI. 4.22, प्राग्भिरान्निपाताः

P. I. 4.56. Many times the limit is not stated by the author of the Sūtras but it is understood by virtue of a counteracting word occurring later on. On still other occasions, the limit is defined by the ancient traditional interpreters by means of a sort of convention which is called स्वरितत्वप्रतिज्ञा. This अधिकार or governance has its influence of three kinds: (1) by being valid or present in all the rules which come under its sphere of influence, e.g. खियाम् or अङ्गस्य (ii) by showing additional properties e.g. the word अपादान being applied to cases where there is no actual separation as in सांकाश्यकेभ्यः पाटलिपुत्रका अभिरूपतराः; (iii) by showing additional force such as setting aside even subsequent rules if opposing. These three types of the influence which a word marked with स्वरित and hence termed अधिकार possesses are called respectively अधिकारगति, अधिक कार्य and अधिक कार. For details see M. Bh. on I.3.11. This अधिकार or governing rule exerts its influence in three ways: (1) generally by proceeding ahead in subsequent rules like the stream of a river, (ii) sometimes by jumps like a frog omitting a rule or more, and (iii) rarely by proceeding backward with a lion's glance; cf. सिंहावलोकितं चैव मण्डुकच्छतमेव च । गङ्गाप्रवाह्वच्चापि अधिकारास्त्रिधा मताः ॥ Jurisdiction, region of application : cf. Vāk. pad. II. 79 and प्रतिपाद्येषु शब्देषु व्याकरणशास्त्रस्याधिकारः । अभिधेयेऽर्थे शब्दस्याधिकारः Pun. on Vāk. pad. II. 79.

अनिट् (१) not admitting the augment इट् to be prefixed to it; the term is strictly to be applied to ārdhadhātuka affixes placed after such roots as have their vowel characterized by a grave accent (अनुदात्तस्वर); the term अनिट् being explained as अनिडादि qualifying the आर्धधातुक affix; (2) in a secondary way, it has become customary to call such roots अनिट् as do not allow the augment इट् to be prefixed to an ārdhadhātuka affix placed after them. Such roots are termed अनुदात्त verily because they are possessed of an anudātta vowel. e.g. क, घृ, जि, गम्, हन् etc. as against भू, धू, तू, धि, वृ, वद्, फल्, चल्, etc. which have their vowel characterized by an acute (उदात्त) accent. For a complete list of such roots see the well-known stanzas given in the Siddhānta-kaumudī incidentally on आत्मनेपदेष्वनतः P. VII. 1.5. ऊदृदन्तैर्यौतिरुक्षुशीड्स्नु-... निहताः स्मृताः ॥ १ ॥ शङ्खचमुचि-रिचवचविच्... धातवो बधिकं शतम् ॥ as also some lists by ancient grammarians given in the Mahābhāṣya on एकाच उपदेशेनुदात्तात्. Kau. on VII. 1.5 as also Kāśikā on VII. 2.10; (2) a short treatise enumerating in 11 verses the roots which do not admit the augment इट् before the ārdhadhātuka affixes. The work is anonymous, and not printed so far, possibly composed by a Jaina writer. The work possibly belongs to the Kātantra system and has got short glosses called व्याख्यान, अवचूरि, विवरण; टीका, टिप्पणी and the like which are all anonymous.

अनित्य (१) not nitya or obligatory; optional; (said of a rule or paribhāṣā whose application is voluntary). Regarding the case and conjugational affixes it can be said that those affixes can, in a way, be looked upon as nitya or obligatory, as they have to be affixed to a crude nominal base or a root, there being a dictum that no crude base without an affix can be used, as also, no affix alone without a base can be used. On the other hand, the taddhita and कृत् affixes as also compounds are voluntary as, instead of them an independent word or a phrase can be used to convey the sense. For a list of such nitya affixes see M. Bh. on V. 4.7; (2) the word अनित्य is also used in the sense of not-nitya, the word नित्य being taken to mean

कृताकृतप्रसङ्गि occurring before as well as after another rule has been applied, the latter being looked upon as अनित्य which does not do so. This 'nityatva' has got a number of exceptions and limitations which are mentioned in Paribhāṣās 43-49 in the Paribhāṣenduśekhara.

अनिदं प्रथम an underived word; an ancient term used by authors of the Prātiśākhya to signify 'original' words which cannot be subjected to निर्वचन.

शिष्यं लोकाश्रयत्वाद्धिङ्गस्य। तत्र नपुंसकत्वमनि-
पात्यम् M.Bh. on VIII. 1.15. See also M. Bh. on VI. 1.207. and VII. 2.27.

अनियत not subject to any limitation; cf. प्रत्यया नियताः, अर्था अनियताः, अर्था नियताः, प्रत्यया अनियताः M.Bh. on II. 3.50. In the case of नियमविधि (a restrictive rule or statement) a limitation is put on one or more of the constituent elements or factors of that rule, the limited element being called नियत, the other one being termed अनियत; also see Kāś. on II. 2.30.

अनियतपुंस्क whose sex—especially whether it is a male or a female—is not definitely known from its mere sight; small insects which are so. The term छुदा in P. IV. 1. 131 is explained in the Mahābhāṣya as छुदा नाम अनियतपुंस्का अङ्गदीना वा M. Bh. on P. IV 1.131.

अनिर्दिष्टार्थ whose sense has not been specifically stated; the word is used with reference to such affixes as are not prescribed in any specific sense or senses and hence as are looked upon as possessing the sense which the base after which they are prescribed has got; cf. अनिर्दिष्टार्थाः प्रत्ययाः स्वार्थे भवन्ति—affixes, to which no meaning has been assigned, convey the meaning of the bases to which they are added; cf. Par. Śek. Pari. 113; cf. also M.Bh. on III. 2.4, III. 2.67, III. 3.19, III. 4.9, VI. 1.162.

अनिष्ट an undesired consequence or result; cf. अनिष्टं च प्राप्नोति इष्टं च न सिध्यति M.Bh. on I. 3.1; also cf. नानिष्टार्था शास्त्रप्रवृत्तिः M.Bh. on VI. 1.2.

अनिष्टिज्ञो वाडवः पठति। इष्यत एव चतुर्मात्रः
प्लुतः M. Bh. on VIII. 2.106.

अनीयर् kṛt affix, termed कृत्य also forming the pot. pass. part. of a root; cf. तन्व्यत्तन्व्यानीयर्ः P. III. 1.96. e.g. see the forms करणीयं, हरणीयं, the mute र showing the acute accent on the penultimate vowel.

अनुतन्त्र lit. that which follows Tantra i.e. Śāstra which means the original rules of a Śāstra; technical term for Vārtika used by Bhartṛhari; cf. सूत्राणां

सानुतन्त्राणां भाष्याणां च प्रणेतृभिः Vāk. pad. I.23, where the word अनुतन्त्र is explained as Vārtika by the commentator.

अनुत्पत्ति non-production of an element of a word such as an affix or an augment or the like; cf. वावचने चानुत्पत्त्यर्थम् P. III. 1.2, Vārt. 7, तत्रोत्पत्तिर्वा प्रसङ्गो यथा तद्धिते P. III. 1.94 Vārt. 2, also कृष्यादिषु चानुत्पत्तिः (णिचः) P. III. 1.26 Vārt. 3.

अनुदात्त non-udātta, absence of the acute accent; one of the Bāhyaprayatnas or external efforts to produce sound. This sense possibly refers to a stage or a time when only one accent, the acute or उदात्त was recognized just as in English and other languages at present. This udātta was given to only one vowel in a single word (simple or compound) and all the other vowels were uttered accentless i.e. अनुदात्त. Possibly with this idea in view, the standard rule 'अनुदात्तं पदमेकवर्जम्' was laid down by Pāṇini cf. VI. 1.158. As, however, the syllable, just preceding the accented (उदात्त) syllable, was uttered with a very low tone, it was called अनुदात्तर, while if the syllables succeeding the accented syllable showed a gradual fall in case they happened to be consecutive and more than two, the syllable succeeding the उदात्त was given a mid-way tone, called स्वरित; cf. उदात्तादनुदात्तस्य स्वरितः. Thus, in the utterance of Vedic hymns the practice of three tones उदात्त, अनुदात्त and स्वरित came in vogue and accordingly they are found defined in all the Prāṭisākhya and grammar works; cf. उच्चैरुदात्तः ; नीचैरनुदात्तः, समाहारः स्वरितः P. I. 2. 29-31, T. Pr. I. 38-40, V. Pr. I. 108-110. Anudātta is defined by the author of the Kāśikāvṛtti as यस्मिन्नुच्चार्यमाणे गात्राणामन्ववसर्गो नाम शिथिलीभवनं भवति, स्वरस्य मृदुता, कण्ठविवरस्य उरता च सः अनुदात्तः cf. अन्ववसर्गो मार्दवमुस्ता स्वरस्येति नीचैःकराणि शब्दस्य M.Bh. on I. 2. 29.30. Cf. also उदात्तश्चानुदात्तश्च स्वरितश्च त्रयः स्वराः । आयाम-विभ्रम्भाक्षेपेस्त उच्यन्तेऽक्षराश्रयाः ॥ R. Pr. III. 1. The term anudātta is translated by the word 'grave' as apposed to 'acute' (udātta,) and 'circumflex' (svarita); The term is used in the sense of अन् + उदात्तः i.e. 'अविद्यमानोदात्तः । cf. P. VI. 1. 161, 190. (2) a term applied to such roots as have the vowel अनुदात्त or grave, the chief characteristic of such roots being the non-admission of the augment इ before an ārdhadhātuka affix placed after them. (See अनिट्).

अनुदात्तर quite a low tone, completely grave; generally applied to the tone of that grave or anudātta vowel which is immediately followed by an acute (उदात्त) vowel. When the three Vedic accents were subdivided into seven tones viz. उदात्त, उदात्तर, अनुदात्त, अनुदात्तर, स्वरित, स्वरित-स्थोदात्त and एकश्रुति corresponding to the seven musical notes, the अनुदात्तर was the name given to the lowest of them all. अनुदात्तर was termed सन्नतर also; cf. उदात्तस्वरितपरस्य सन्नतरः P. I. 2.40; cf. also M.Bh. on I. 2.33.

chief feature of such a root being that it takes only the Ātmanepada affixes; e.g. आस्ते, वस्ते, etc.; cf. अनुदात्तङित आत्मनेपदम् P. I. 3.12; such a root, in forming a derivative word in the sense of habit, takes the affix युच् e.g. वर्त्तनः, वर्धनः, etc. provided the root begins with a consonant; cf. अनुदात्तेत्तश्च ह्लादेः P. III. 2.149.

(2) declaration; prescription; the same as अतिदेश. cf. स्थान्यादेशपृथक्त्वादादेशे स्थानिवद् अनुदेशो गुरुवद् गुरुपुत्र इति यथा P. I. 1.56 Vārt. 1; (3) a grammatical operation cf. यथासंख्यमनुदेशः समानाम् । समसंबन्धी विधिव्यथासंख्यं स्यात् Sid. Kau. on P. I. 3.10. (e.g. अँ, आँ, etc. or अँ, आँ, etc. in सयँन्ता, सयँत्सरः, सँहीनः etc.) The अनुनासिक or nasalized vowels are named रङ्गवर्ण and they are said to be consisting of three mātrās. cf. अष्टौ आद्यान-वसानेऽप्रगृह्यान् आचार्या आहुरनुनासिकान् स्वरान् । तन्निमात्रे शाकला दर्शयन्ति R. I. 1. 13. Vowels which are uttered nasalized by Pāṇini in his works viz. स्रजपाठ, धातुपाठ, गणपाठ etc. are silent ones i. e. they are not actually found in use. They are put by him only for the sake of a complete utterance, their nasalized nature being made out only by means of traditional convention. e.g. एध, स्पर्ध etc. cf. उपदेशेऽजनुनासिक इत् P. I. 3.2; cf. also प्रतिज्ञानुनासिक्याः पाणिनीयाः Kās on I. 3.2.

अनुप्रदान an effort outside the mouth in the production of sound at the different vocal organs such as कण्ठ, तालु etc. which is looked upon as an external effort or bāhyaprayatna. अनुप्रदान is one of the three main factors in the production of sound which are (1) स्थान, (2) करण or आभ्यन्तरप्रयत्न and (3) अनुप्रदान or बाह्य-प्रयत्न; cf. स्थानकरणप्रयत्नेभ्यो वर्णा जायन्ते Cān. The commentator on T. Pr. describes अनुप्रदान as the मूलकारण or उपादानकारण, the main cause in the production of articulate sound; cf. अनुप्रदीयते अनेन वर्णः इति अनुप्रदानम्; cf. also अनुप्रदीयते इत्यनुप्रदानं प्रयत्न इत्यर्थः; Uvvaṭa on R. Pr. XIII. 1. Generally two main varieties of बाह्यप्रयत्न are termed अनु-प्रदान which are mentioned as (i) श्वासानुप्रदान (emission of breath) and नादानुप्रदान (resonance), the other varieties of it such as विदार, संवार, घोष, अघोष, अल्पप्राण, महाप्राण, उदात्त, अनुदात्त and स्वरित being called merely as बाह्यप्रयत्न.

अनुबन्ध a letter or letters added to a word before or after it, only to signify some specific purpose such as (a) the addition of an affix (e. g. क्तिन्, अथुच्, अङ् etc.) or (b) the substitution of गुण, वृद्धि or संप्रसारण vowel or (c) sometimes their prevention. These anubandha letters are termed इत् (lit. going or disappearing) by Pāṇini (cf. उपेदेशोऽजनुनासिक इत् etc. I.3.2 to 9), and they do not form an essential part of the word to which they are attached, the word in usage being always found without the इत् letter. For technical purposes in grammar, however, such as आदित्त्व or अन्तस्त्व of affixes which are characterized by इत् letters, they are looked upon as essential factors, cf. अनेकान्ता अनुबन्धाः, एकान्ताः, etc. Par. Śek. Pari. 4 to 8. Although Pāṇini has invariably used the term इत् for अनुबन्ध letters in his Sūtras, Patañjali and other reputed writers on Pāṇini's grammar right on upto Nāgeśa of the 18th century have used the term अनुबन्ध of ancient grammarians in their writings in the place of इत्. The term अनुबन्ध was chosen for mute signficatory letters by ancient grammarians probably on account of the analogy of the अनुबन्ध पशु, tied down at sacrifices to the post and subsequently slaughtered.

अन्तरङ्ग a highly technical term in Pāṇini's grammar applied in a variety of ways to rules which thereby can supersede other rules. The term is not used by Pāṇini himself. The Vārtikakāra has used the term thrice (See I. 4.2 Vārt. 8, VI. 1. 106 Vart. 10 and VIII. 2.6 Vārt. 1) evidently in the sense of 'immediate', 'urgent', of earlier occurrence' or the like. The word is usually explained as a Bahuvrihi compound meaning 'अन्तः अङ्गानि निमित्तानि यस्य' (a rule or operation which has got the causes of its application within those of another rule or operation which consequently is termed बहिरङ्ग). अन्तरङ्ग, in short, is a rule whose causes of operation occur earlier in the wording of the form, or in the process of formation. As an अन्तरङ्ग rule occurs to the mind earlier, as seen above, it is looked upon as stronger than any other rule, barring of course अपवाद rules or exceptions, if the other rule presents itself simultaneously. The Vārtikakāra, hence, in giving preference to अन्तरङ्ग rules, uses generally the wording अन्तरङ्गबलीयस्त्वात् which is paraphrased by अन्तरङ्ग बहिरङ्गात् बलीयः which is looked upon as a paribhāṣā. Grammarians, succeeding the Vārtikakāra, not only looked upon the बहिरङ्ग operation as weaker than अन्तरङ्ग, but they looked upon it as invalid or invisible before the अन्तरङ्ग operation had taken place. They laid down the Paribhāṣā असिद्धे बहिरङ्गमन्तरङ्गे which has been thoroughly discussed by Nāgeśa in his Paribhāṣenduśekhara. The अन्तरङ्गत्व is taken in a variety of ways by Grammarians: (1) having causes of application within or before those of another e.g. स्योनः from the root सिव् (सि + उ + न) where the यण् substitute for इ is अन्तरङ्ग being caused by उ as compared to गुण for उ which is caused by न, (2) having causes of application occurring before those of another in the wording of the form, (3) having a smaller number of causes, (4) occurring earlier in the order of several operations which take place in arriving at the complete form of a word, (5) not having संज्ञा (technical term) as a cause of its application, (6) not depending upon two words or padas, (7) depending upon a cause or causes of a general nature (सामान्यापेक्ष) as opposed to one which depends on causes of a specific nature (विशेषापेक्ष).

अन्तरङ्गपरिभाषा the phrase is used generally for the परिभाषा 'असिद्धे बहिरङ्गमन्तरङ्गे' described above. See the word अन्तरङ्ग. The परिभाषा has got a very wide field of application and is used several times in setting aside difficulties which present themselves in the formation of a word. Like many other paribhāṣās this paribhāṣā is not a paribhāṣā of universal application.

अन्तरङ्गबलीयस्त्व the strength which an antarāṅga rule or operation possesses by virtue of which it supersedes all other rules or operations, excepting an apavāda rule, when or if they occur simultaneously in the formation of a word.

cf. on Manu Smr. II. 140 तथा चाभिधान-
कोशेऽभिहितम् ।

अभिधानक्रिया function of denotation which is effected in language by the use of words related to each other.
cf. Vāk. pad. II. 106. *

अभिधान designation, denotation, expression of sense by a word which is looked upon as the very nature of a word. The expression अभिधानं पुनः स्वाभाविकम् (denotation of sense is only a natural characteristic of a word) frequently occurs in the Mahābhāṣya; cf. M.Bh. on I. 2.64
Vārt. 93, II. 1.1, cf. नपुंसकं यदूष्मान्तं तस्य बहुभिधानजः (R. Pr. XIII.7) where the word बहुभिधान means बहुवचन.

Although अभिधान means activity of denotation and अभिधेय means denoted object, both are found used synonymously. Patañjali on I. 2.51. Vārt. I. understands अभिधेय as principal sense and अभिधान as original sense.

अभिधेय object or thing denoted by a word; sense of a word; cf. अभि- धेयवह्निङ्गवचनानि भवन्ति M.Bh. on II.
2.29.

अभिनिधान lit. that which is placed near or before; the first of the doubled class consonants; a mute or sparsa consonant arising from doubling and inserted before a mute; cf. अघोषादूष्मणः परः प्रथमः अभिनिधानः स्पर्शपरात्तस्य सस्थानः (T. Pr. XIV. 9.)
explained by त्रिभाष्यरत्न as स्पर्शपरादघोषा- दूष्मणः परः प्रथम आगमस्तस्य स्पर्शस्य समानस्थानः.

अभिनिधानो भवति । अभिनिधीयते इत्यभिनिधानः
आरोपणीयः इत्यर्थः । यथा यः क्त्वाभयेत
अश्मन्नुर्जम् । यः प्पत्नता । The Rk.
Prātiśākhya explains the term अभिनिधान somewhat differently; cf.
अभिनिधानं कृतसंहितानां स्पर्शान्तःस्थानामपवाच्य
रेफम् । संधारणं संवरणं श्रुतेश्च स्पर्शोदयानामपि चावसाने R. Pr. VI. 17, 18. explained by उव्वट as स्पर्शपराणां स्पर्शानां रेफं वर्जयित्वा अन्तःस्थानां च वर्णानां कृतसंहितानां च सतां
संधारणं वर्णश्रुतेश्च संवरणं भवति । तदेतद् अभि- निधानं नाम । यथा उप मा षड् द्वा द्वा । ऋ.
सं ८/६८/१४ इह षड् इत्यत्र अभिनिधानम् ॥ अभिनिधान possibly according to उव्वट here means the first of the doubled letter which, although the second letter is attached to it, is separately uttered with a slight pause after it. अभिनिधान means, in short, something like 'suppression.'
The Rk. Tantra takes a still wider view and explains अभिनिधान as the first of a doubled consonant, cf.
अभिनिधानः । क्रमजं च पूर्वान्तसस्वरं भवति ।
R. T. 21.

entered on functioning or begun to function; cf. स्वभावत एतेषां शब्दानां
एतेष्वर्थेषु अभिनिविष्टानां निमित्तत्वेन अन्वाख्यानं
क्रियते । M.Bh. on II. 1.1. cf. पूर्वमपवादा

3.46; Pari. Śek. Pari. 62.

अभिनिष्टान is an ancient name of visarga.
cf. Kāśikā on P. VIII. 3.86 which derives the word. Among the Prātiśākhya it occurs only in Atharvaveda Prātiśākhya 1.42.
Abhiniṣṭhāna seems to be the true form.

सन्धि or euphonic combination in which the vowel अ, as a first or a second member, is absorbed into the other member, e.g. रथेभ्यः+अग्ने=रथेभ्योऽग्ने, also दाशुषेऽग्ने, where अ of अग्ने is absorbed or merged in ओ of रथेभ्यो or ए of दाशुषे; cf. अथाभिनिहितः संधिरेतैः प्राकृतवैकृतैः। एकीभवति पादादिरकारस्तेऽत्र संधिजाः; R. This view propounded by the Bhāṭṭa school of Mīmāṃsakas is opposed to the other view viz. अन्विताभिधानपक्ष propounded by the Prābhākara school. cf. Vāk. pad. II. 1; II. 41, 42.

अर्थे (1) lit. signification, conveyed sense or object. The sense is sometimes looked upon as a determinant of the foot of a verse; cf. प्रायोर्थो वृत्तमित्येते पादज्ञानस्य हेतवः R. Pr. XVII 16. It is generally looked upon as the determinant of a word (पद). A unit or element of a word which is possessed of an independent sense is looked upon as a Pada in the old Grammar treatises; cf. अर्थः पदमिति ऐन्द्र; cf. also अर्थः पदम् V. Pr. III. 2, explained by उक्त्वट् as अर्थोभिधायि षदम्। पद्यते गम्यते ज्ञायतेऽर्थेनेनेति पदम्। There is no difference of opinion regarding the fact that, out of the four standard kinds of words नाम, आख्यात, उपसर्ग and निपात, the first two kinds नाम and आख्यात do possess an independent sense of their own. Regarding possession of sense and the manner in which the sense is conveyed, by the other two viz. the Upasargas (prepositions) and Nipātas (particles) there is a striking difference of opinion among scholars of grammar. Although Pāṇini has given the actual designation पद to words ending with either the case or the conjugational affixes, he has looked upon the different units or elements of a Pada such as the base, the affix, the augment and the like as possessed of individually separate senses. There is practically nothing in Pāṇini's sūtras to prove that Nipātas and Upasargas do not possess an independent sense. Re: Nipātas, the rule चादयोऽसत्त्वे, which means that च and other indeclinables are called Nipātas when they do not mean सत्त्वं, presents a riddle as to the meaning which च and the like should convey if they do not mean सत्त्वं or द्रव्य i.e. a substance. The Nipātas cannot mean भाव or verbal activity and if they do not mean सत्त्वं or द्रव्य, too, they will have to be called अनर्थक (absolutely meaningless) and in that case they would not be termed Prātipadika, and no case-affix would be applied to them. To avoid this difficulty, the Vārttikakāra had to make an effort and he wrote a Vārttika निपातस्य अनर्थकस्य प्रातिपदिकत्वम् । P. I. 2.45 Vār. 12. As a matter of fact the Nipātas च, वा and others do possess a sense as shown by their presence and absence (अन्वय and व्यतिरेक). The sense, however, is conveyed rather in a different manner as the word समूह, or समुदाय, which is the meaning conveyed by च in रामः कृष्णश्च, cannot be substituted for च as its synonym in the sentence रामः कृष्णश्च. Looking to the different ways in which their sense is conveyed by nouns and verbs on the one hand, and by affixes, prepositions and indeclinables on the other hand, Bhartṛhari, possibly following Yaska and Vyādi, has developed the theory of चोत्कृत्व as contrasted with वाचकत्व and laid down the dictum that indeclinables, affixes and prepositions (उपसर्गः) do not directly convey any specific sense as their own, but they are mere signs to show some specific property or excellence of the sense conveyed by the word to which they are attached; cf. also the statement 'न निर्वेदा उपसर्गा अर्थान्निराहुरिति शाकटायनः नामाख्यातयोस्तु कर्मोपसंयोगचोत्तका भवन्ति । Nir I. 3. The Grammarians, just like the rhetoricians have stated that the connection between words and their senses is a permanent one (नित्य), the only difference in their views being that the rhetoricians state that words are related, no doubt permanently, to their sense by means of संकेत or convention which solely depends on the will of God, while the Grammarians say that the expression of sense is only a natural function of words;

cf. 'अभिधानं पुनः स्वाभाविकम्' Vārttika No. 33 on P. I. 2.64. For चोत्कृत्व see Vākyapadīya of Bhartṛhari II. 165-206.

अर्थक्रिया purpose of existence as noticed in every object in nature cf. Vāk. pad. III. 11.14 which says "Just as purposeful activity of the elements of the three guṇas which are always found mixed up, is quite distinct in each case, so it is cognised in the case of all objects.

अर्थप्रवृत्तितत्त्व underlying principle in the use of a word in language; the desire on the part of a speaker to communicate his thought. cf. Vāk. pad. 1.13. अर्थप्रवृत्तितत्त्वं विवक्षा । न तु वस्तुतः स्वरूपेण सत्त्वमसत्त्वं वा । विवक्षैव हि शब्दप्रयोग निबन्धनम् । (हेला)

अर्थवद्ग्रहणपरिभाषा a well known maxim or Paribhāṣā of grammarians fully stated as अर्थवद्ग्रहणे नानर्थकस्य ग्रहणम्, deduced from the phrase अर्थवद्ग्रहणात् frequently used by the Vārttikakāra. The Paribhāṣā lays down that 'when a combination of letters employed in Grammar, is possessed of a sense, it has to be taken as possessed of sense and not such a one as is devoid of sense.'

In the Pada-pāṭha, individual words are shown separately if they are combined by Saṁdhi rules or by the formation of a compound in the Saṁhitā-pāṭha; e.g. पुरोहितम् in the Saṁhitā-pāṭha is read as पुरःऽहितम्. अवगृह्यते विच्छिद्य पठ्यते इति अवग्रहः । In writing, there is observed the practice of placing the sign (s) between the two parts, about which nothing can be said as to when and how it originated. The Atharva-Prātisākhya defines अवग्रह as the separation of two padas joined in Saṁhitā. (A. Pr. II. 3.25, II. 4.5). In the recital of the pada-pāṭha, when the word-elements are uttered separately, there is a momentary pause measuring one mātrā or the time required for the utterance of a short vowel. (See for details Vāj. Prāt. Adhāya 5). (2) The word अवग्रह is also used in the sense of the first out of the two words or members that are compounded together See Kāśikā on P. VIII. 4.26; cf. also तस्य (इङ्गयस्य) पूर्वपदमवग्रहः यथा देवायत इति देव-यते. Tai. Pr. I. 49. Bh. on III. 1.109) where the Bhāṣyakāra has definitely stated that the authors of the Pada-pāṭha have to split up a word according to the rules of Grammar. (3) In recent times, however, the word अवग्रह is used in the sense of the sign (s) showing the coalescence of अ (short or long) with the preceding अ (short or long) or with the preceding ए or ओ e.g. शिनोऽर्च्यः, अत्राऽऽगच्छ. (4) The word is also used in the sense of a pause, or an interval of time when the constituent elements of a compound word are shown separately; cf. समासेवग्रहो ह्रस्वसमकालः (V. Pr. V. 1). (5) The word is also used in the sense of the absence of Sandhi when the Sandhi is admissible.

Originally there were a very few differences of readings also, as observed by Patañjali (see Mbh on I. 4.1); but the text was fixed by Patañjali which, with a few additions made by the authors of the Kāśikā, as observed above, has traditionally come down to the present day. The Aṣṭādhyāyī is believed to be one of the six Vedāṅga works which are committed to memory by the reciters of Ṛgveda. The text of the Aṣṭādhyāyī is recited without accents. असिद्ध invalid; of suspended validity for the time being; not functioning for the time being. The term is frequently used in Pāṇini's system of grammar in connection with rules or operations which are prevented, or held in suspense, in connection with their application in the process of the formation of a word. The term (असिद्ध) is also used in connection with rules that have applied or operations that have taken place, which are, in certain cases, made invalid or invisible as far as their effect is concerned and other rules are applied or other operations are allowed to take place, which ordinarily have been prevented by those rules which are made invalid had they not been invalidated. Pāṇini has laid down this invalidity on three different occasions (1) invalidity by the rule पूर्वत्रासिद्धम् VIII.2.1. which makes a rule or operation in the second, third and fourth quarters of the eighth chapter of the Aṣṭādhyāyī invalid when any preceding rule is to be applied, (2) invalidity by the rule असिद्धवदनाभात् which enjoins mutual invalidity in the case of operations prescribed in the Ābhiya section beginning with the rule असिद्धवदनाभात् (VI. 4.22). and going on upto the end of the Pāda (VI 4.175), (3) invalidity of the single substitute for two letters, that has already taken place, when र् is to be substituted for स, or the letter त् is to be prefixed, cf. षत्वतुकोरसिद्धः (VI. 1.86). Although Pāṇini laid down the general rule that a subsequent rule or operation, in case of conflict, supersedes the preceding rule, in many cases it became necessary for him to set that rule aside, which he did by means of the stratagem of invalidity given above. Subsequent grammarians found out a number of additional cases where it became necessary to supersede the subsequent rule which they did by laying down a dictum of invalidity similar to that of Pāṇini. The author of the Vārttikas, hence, laid down the doctrine that rules which are nitya or antaraṅga or apavāda, are stronger than, and hence supersede, the anitya, bahiraṅga and utsarga rules respectively. Later grammarians have laid down in general, the invalidity of the bahiraṅga rule when the antaraṅga rule occurs along with it or subsequent to it. For details see Vol. 7 of Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya (D. E. Society's edition) pages 217-220. See also Pari. Śek. Pari. 50.

असिद्धत्व invalidity of a rule or operation on account of the various considerations sketched above. See असिद्ध.

असिद्धपरिभाषा the same as Antaraṅga Paribhāṣā or the doctrine of the invalidity of the bahiraṅga operation. See the word असिद्ध above.

For details see the Paribhāṣā "asiddham bahiraṅgam antaraṅge" Par. Śek. Pari. 50 and the discussion thereon. Some grammarians have given the name असिद्धपरिभाषा to the Paribhāṣā असिद्धं बहिरङ्गमन्तरङ्गे as contrasted with अन्तरङ्गं बहिरङ्गाद् बलीयः which they have named as बहिरङ्ग-परिभाषा.

असिद्धस्वरित the circumflex accent prescribed by Pāṇini in the three Pādas 2, 3, 4 of adhyāya VIII called Tripadī or Asiddhakāṇḍa. This Svarita is not the original Svarita but enclitic or secondary. See also P. VIII. 4.66, 67.

I. 2.37 Vārt. 2, आख्यातमाख्यातेन क्रिया-सातत्ये Sid. Kau. on II. 1. 72, क्रिया-वाचकमाख्यातं V. Pr. V. 1; cf. भारद्वाजक-माख्यातं भार्गवं नाम भाष्यते । भारद्वाजेन दृष्टवा-दाख्यातं भारद्वाजगोत्रम् V. Prāt. VIII. 52; cf. also Athar. Prāt. I. 1. 12, 18; I. 3. 3. 6; II. 2. 5 where ākhyāta means verbal form. The word also meant in ancient days the root also, as differentiated from a verb or a verbal form as is shown by the lines तन्नाम येनाभिदधाति सत्त्वं, तदाख्यातं येन आवं स धातुः R. Pr. XII. 5 where 'आख्यात' and 'धातु' are used as synonyms. As the root form such as कृ, सृ etc. as distinct from the verbal form, is never found in actual use, it is immaterial whether the word means root or verb. In the passages quoted above from the Nirukta and the Mahābhāṣya referring to the four kinds of words, the word ākhyāta could be taken to mean root (धातु) or verb (क्रियापद). The ākhyāta or verb is chiefly concerned with the process of being and becoming while nouns (नामानि) have sãttva or essence, or static element as their meaning. Verbs and nouns are concerned not merely with the activities and things in this world but with every process and entity ; cf. पूर्वापरीभूतं भावमाख्यातेना- चष्टे Nir. I. ; अस्तिभवतिविद्यतीनामर्थः सत्ता ।

अनेककालस्थायिनीति कालगतपौर्वापर्येण क्रमवतीति तस्याः क्रियात्वम् । Laghumañjũsã. When a kṛt. affix is added to a root, the static element predominates and hence a word ending with a kṛt.
affix in the sense of bhãva or verbal activity is treated as a noun and regularly declined ; cf. कृदभिहितो भावो द्रव्यवद् भवति M. Bh. on II. 2. 19 and
III. 1.67, where the words गति, ब्रज्या, पाक and others are given as instances.
Regarding indeclinable words ending with kṛt. affixes such as कर्तुं, कृत्वा, and others, the modern grammarians hold that in their case the verbal activity is not shadowed by the static element and hence they can be, in a way, looked upon as ãkhyãtas ; cf. अव्ययकृतो भावे Vãiyãkar-ãabhũsãna.

आख्यातप्रक्रिया a work dealing with verbs written by Anubhũtisvarũpãcãrya on the Sãrasvata Vyãkarãna.

cussing verbal forms by Vaṅgasena.

आगन्तुक lit. adventitious, an additional wording generally at the end of roots to show distinctly their form e. g. वदि, एधि, सति etc. ; cf.
इन्धिभवतिभ्यां च P. I. 2. 6 ; cf. also भावरुक्षणे स्वेणकृञ्चदिचरिहुतमिजनिभ्यस्तोसुच्

17 and a number of other sũtras where इ or ति is added to the root ;

cf. इक्षितपौ धातुनिर्देशे, वर्णकारः, रादिकः P.
III. 3.108 Vãrt. 2.3. 4. where such appendages to be added to the roots or letters are given. The word आगन्तु is an old word used in the Nirukta, but the term आगन्तुक appears to be used for the first time for such forms by Haradatta ; cf. हुरेरिति ह कौटिल्ये, आगन्तुकेकारे गुणेन निदेशः Padamãñjarĩ on VII. 2. 31. In the traditional oral explanations the second part of a reduplicated word is termed आगन्तुक which is placed second i.e. after the original by virtue of the convention आगन्तूनामस्ते निदेशः, although, in fact, it is said to possess the sense of the root in contrast with the first which is called abhyãsa. A nice distinction can, however, be drawn between the four kinds of adventitious wordings found in grammar viz. आगन्तु, इत्, अभ्यास and आमम which can be briefly stated as follows : The former two do not form a regular part of the word and are not found in the actual use of the word ; besides, they do not possess any sense, while the latter two are found in actual use and they are possessed of sense.
Again the ãgantũ word is simply used for facility of understanding exactly and correctly the previous word which is really wanted ; the इत् wording, besides serving this purpose, is of use in causing some grammatical operations. अभ्यास is the first part of the wording which is wholly repeated and it possesses no sense by itself, while, ãgama which is added to the word either at the beginning or at the end or inserted in the middle, forms a part of the word and possesses the sense of the word.

आगम augment, accrement, a word element which is added to the primitive or basic word during the process of the formation of a complete word or pada. The āgama is an adventitious word element and hence differs from ādeśa, the substitute which wholly takes the place of the original (or आदेशिन्). Out of the several āgamas mentioned by Pāṇini, those that are marked with mute द् are prefixed, those, marked with क्, are affixed, while those, marked with क्, are placed immediately after the last vowel of the word. The augments become a part and parcel of the word to which they are added, and the characteristics of which they possess; cf. यदागमास्तद्गुणीभूतास्तद्ग्रहणेन गृह्यन्ते, also आगमानां आगमिन्मिर्वैशिष्ट्यम् Par. Śek. Pari. 11. Those grammarians, who hold the view that words are unproduced and eternal, explain the addition of an augment as only the substitution of a word with an augment in the place of a word without an augment; cf. आदेशास्तर्हिमे भविष्यन्ति अनागमकानां सागमकाः M. Bh. on I. 1.20; I. 1.46. The term āgama is defined as अन्यत्र विद्यमानस्तु यो वर्णः श्रूयतेधिकः । आगम्यमानतुल्यत्वास्त आगम इति स्मृतः Com. on Tait. Prāt. I. 23. cf. तथा आपिश्लीयश्लोकः । आगमोनुपधातेन विकारश्चोपमर्दनात् । आदेशस्तु प्रसङ्गेन लोपः सर्वापकर्षणात् । Durga on Kāt. I. 2.1; also Kās. on P. VI. 3.109 which cites a similar verse; cf. also Durga on Kāt. II. 3.1 and Hela. on Vā-Pa. III. 14.564.

आत्मनेपद a technical term for the affixes called तच् (त, आताम् etc.) and the affix आन (शानच्, चानश्, कानच्), called so possibly because, the fruit of the activity is such as generally goes to the agent (आत्मने) when these affixes are used. Contrast this term (Ātmanepada) with the term Parasmaipada when the fruit is meant for another. For an explanation of the terms see P. VI. 3.7 and 8.

आत्मनेभाष a technical term used for such roots as speak for the agent himself; the term आत्मनेभाष means the same as the term आत्मनेपदिन्. The term आत्मनेभाष is not mentioned by Pāṇini; but the writer of the Vārtikas explains it, cf. आत्मनेभाष-परस्मैभाषयोरुपसंख्यानम् P. VI. 3.7 and 8 Vārt. 1; cf. also आत्मनेपदिन्श्च धातवो वैयाकर्णैरात्मनेभाषशब्देन व्यवहियन्ते, Kaiyaṭa on VI. 3.7. The term is found in the Atharva-Prātiśākhya. III. 4.7. It cannot be said whether the term came in use after Pāṇini or, although earlier, it belonged to some school other than that of Pāṇini or, Pāṇini put into use the terms Ātmanepada and Parasmaipada for the affixes as the ancient terms Ātmanebhāṣa and Parasmaibhāṣa were in use for the roots.

आदेश substitute as opposed to sthānin, the original. In Pāṇini's grammar there is a very general maxim, possessed of a number of exceptions, no doubt, that "the substitute

behaves like the original" (स्थानिवदादेशः अनखिवधौ P.I.1.56); the application of this maxim is called स्थानिवद्भावः; for purposes of this स्थानिवद्भावः the elision (लोप) of a phonetic element is looked upon as a sort of substitute; cf. उपधालोपस्थ स्थानिवद्भावात् Kāś. on P.I. 1.58. Grammarians many times look upon a complete word or a word-base as a substitute for another one, although only a letter or a syllable in the word is changed into another, as also when a letter or syllable is added to or dropped in a word; cf. पचतु, पचन्तु... इमेप्यादेशाः । कथम् । आदिश्यते यः स आदेशः । इमे चाप्यादिश्यन्ते । M.Bh. on I. 1.56; cf. also सर्वे सर्वपदादेशा दाक्षीपुत्रस्य पाणिनेः M.Bh. on P. आद्यन्तवच्च आद्यन्तवद्भावः, consideration of a single or solitary letter as the initial or the final one according to requirements for operations prescribed for the initial or for the final. Both these notions—the initial and the final—are relative notions, and because they require the presence of an additional letter or letters for the sake of being called initial or final it becomes necessary to prescribe आद्यन्तवच्च in the case of a single letter; cf. आद्यन्तवदेकस्मिन् । आदौ इव अन्त इव एकस्मिन्नपि कार्यं भवति । यथा कर्तव्यमित्यत्र प्रत्ययाद्युदात्तत्वं भवति एवमौपगवमित्यत्रापि यथा स्यात् । Kāś. on P. I. 1.21; cf. also आद्यन्तवच्च । अपृक्तस्य आदिवदन्तवच्च कार्यं भवति । T. Pr. 1.55. This आद्यन्तवद्भावः of Pāṇini is, in fact, a specific application of the general maxim known as vyapadesivadbhāva by virtue of which "an operation which affects something on account of some special designation, which for certain reasons attaches to the letter, affects likewise that which stands alone." cf. Pari. Śek. Pari. 30.

आद्यपद् the initial word of a sentence which according to some constitutes sentence (वाक्य); cp. सकलविशेषणखण्डितश्च प्रथमतरमेवोपक्रान्तः संसृष्ट एवार्थो वाक्यार्थः । (पुण्य. on Vāk. pad II. 17)

आन्ङ् substitute आन् in the place of the last letter (ऋ) of the first member of dvandva compounds of words meaning deities or of words showing blood-relationship which end with the vowel ऋ; e.g. होतापोतारौ, मातापितरौ cf. P. VI. 3.25, 26.

Pari. 51. This close proximity of one letter or syllable or so, with another, is actually i.e. phonetically required and generally so found out also, but sometimes such proximity is theoretically not existing as the letter required for proximity is technically not present there by the rule पूर्वत्रासिद्धम्. In such cases, a technical absence is not looked upon as a fault. cf. क्वचिच्च संनिपातकृतमानन्तर्यं शास्त्रकृतमनानन्तर्यं यथा घटुत्वे, क्वचिच्च नैव संनिपातकृतं नापि शास्त्रकृतं यथा जश्त्वे । यत्र कुतश्चिदेवानन्तर्यं तदाश्रयिष्यामः M. Bh. on VIII. 3.13. cp. also यस्य येनार्थसंबन्धो दूरस्थस्यापि तस्य तत् । अर्थतोह्यसमर्थानामानन्तर्यमकारणम् । Uvaṭa on Vāj. Prā. VI. 14. Generally the word is applied to the first part of a compound word when it is split up in the recital of the padapāṭha. The 'iṅgya' word is shown by a pause or avagraha after it, which is shown in writing by the sign (s): cf. इङ्गयते विभागेन चात्यते इति इङ्गयम् । इङ्गयमिति विभागपदस्य संज्ञा com, on Tait. Prāt. 1. 48. सावग्रहं पदमिङ्गयम् Com. on T. Pr. I. 48.

इञ् (1) kṛt. affix (इ), in the sense of verbal activity applied to any root, the word so formed being used in the fem. gender and in connection with narration or in interrogation; e. g. कां स्वं कारिमकार्षीः । सर्वां कारिमकार्षीम् । cf. Pāṇini III. 3. 110; (2) kṛt. affix in the sense of verbal activity applied to the roots व् and others e. g. वापिः, वासिः etc. cf. P. III. 3. 108 Vārt. 7; (3) tad-affix इ in the sense of offspring applied to a noun ending in अ; e. g. दाक्षिः cf. P. IV. 1. 95-7, 153.

VII. 2.35 to 78 and its exceptions P. VII. 2.8 to 34; (2) personal ending of the third person sing. Ātm.

इत् (1) a letter or a group of letters attached to a word which is not seen in actual use in the spoken language; cf. अपयोगी इत्, Śāk. I. 1.5, Hem. 1. 1.37. The इत् letters are applied to a word before it, or after it, and they have got each of them a purpose in grammar viz. causing or preventing certain grammatical operations in the formation of the complete word. Pāṇini has not given any definition of the word इत्, but he has mentioned when and where the vowels and consonants attached to words are to be understood as इत्; (cf. उपदेशेननुनासिक इत्, हलन्त्यम् । etc. P. I. 3.2 to 8) and stated that these letters are to be dropped in actual use; cf. P. I. 3.9. It appears that grammarians before Pāṇini had also employed such इत् letters, as is clear from some passages in the Mahābhāṣya as also from their use in other systems of grammar as also in the Uṇādi list of affixes, for purposes similar to those found served in Pāṇini's grammar. Almost all vowels and consonants are used as

इत् for different purposes and the इत् letters are applied to roots in the Dhātupāṭha, nouns in the Gaṇapāṭha, as also to affixes, augments and substitutes prescribed in grammar. Only at a few places they are attached to give facility of pronunciation. Sometimes the इत् letters, especially vowels, which are said to be इत्, when uttered as nasalized by Pāṇini, are recognised only by convention; cf. प्रतिज्ञानुनासिक्याः पाणिनीयाः (S. K. on P. I. 3.2). The word इत्, which literally means going away or disappearing, can be explained as a mute indicatory letter. अनञ्-चिह्नमित् । अनवयवभूतं यत् चिह्नं तदस्तेदितव्यम् । एति. इति इत् गच्छति न तिष्ठति लुप्यते इत्यर्थः । In Pāṇini's grammar, the mute vowel अ applied to roots indicates the placing of the Ātmanepada affixes after them, if it be uttered as anudāta and of affixes of both the padas if uttered svarita; cf. P. I. 3. 12, 72. The mute vowel आ signifies the prevention of इडागम before the past part. affixes; cf. P. VII. 2. 16. Similarly, the mute vowel इ signifies the augment न् after the last vowel of the root; cf. P. VII. 1.58; ई signifies the prevention of the augment इ before the past part. affixes cf. P. VII. 2.14; उ signifies the inclusion of cognate letters; cf. P. I. 1.69, and the optional addition of the augment इ before त्वा; cf. P. VII. 2. 56; ऊ signifies the optional application of the augment इद्; cf. P. VII. 2.44; ऋ signifies the prevention of ह्रस्व to the vowel of a root before the causal affix, cf. VII. 4.2; ऌ signifies the Vikaraṇa अङ् in the Aorist cf. P. III. 1.55; ए signifies the prevention of Vṛddhi in the Aorist, cf. P. VII. 2.55; ओ signifies the substitution of न् for त् of the past part. cf. P. VIII. 2.45; इ signifies the prevention of गुण and वृद्धि, cf. P. I.

1.5 ; ख् signifies the addition of the augment मुम् (म्) and the shortening of the preceding vowel ; cf. P. VI. 3. 65-66 ; ग् signifies the prevention of गुण and वृद्धि, cf. P. I. 1.5 ; ष् signifies कुस्व, cf. P. VII. 3.62 ; झ्, applied to affixes, signifies the prevention of गुण and वृद्धि ; cf. P. I. 1.5 ; it causes संप्रसारणादेश in the case of certain roots, cf. P. VI. 1.16 and signifies आत्मनेपद if applied to roots ; cf. P. I. 3.12, and their substitution for the last letter if applied to substitutes, cf. P. I. 1.53. च् signifies the actual accent of the last vowel ; cf. P. VI. 1. 159 ; ञ् signifies उभयपद i. e. the placing of the affixes of both the padas after the root to which it has been affixed ; cf. P. I. 3.72 ; द् in the case of an augment signifies its application to the word at the beginning ; cf. P. I. 1.64, while applied to a nominal base or an affix shows the addition of the fem. affix ई (डीप्), cf. P. IV. 1. 15 ; इ signifies the elision of the last syllable ; cf. P. VI. 4.142 ; ण् signifies वृद्धि, cf. P. VII. 2. 115 ; त् signifies स्वरित accent, cf. VI. 1. 181, as also that variety of the vowel (ह्रस्व, दीर्घ or षुत) to which it has been applied cf. P. I. 1.70 ; न् signifies आद्युदात्त, cf. P. VI. 1. 193 ; प् signifies अनुदात्त accent cf. अनुदात्तो सुप्पितो P. III. 1.4. as also उदात्त for the vowel before the affix marked with प् cf. P. VI. 1.192 ; म् signifies in the case of an augment its addition after the final vowel. cf. P. I. 1.47, while in the case of a root, the shortening of its vowel before the causal affix णि, cf. P. VI. 4.92 ; र् signifies the acute accent for the penultimate vowel cf. P. VI. 1.217 ; ल् signifies the acute accent for the vowel preceding the affix marked with ल् ; cf. P. VI. 1.193 ; श् implies in the case of an affix its सार्वधातुकत्व ; cf. P. III. 4. 113, while in the case of substitutes, their substitution for the whole स्थानिन् cf. P. I. 1.55 ; ष् signifies the addition of the fem. affix ई (डीप्) cf. P. IV. 1.41 ; स् in the case of affixes signifies पदसंज्ञा to the base before them, cf. P. I. 4.16. Sometimes even without the actual addition of the mute letter, affixes are directed to be looked upon as possessed of that mute letter for the sake of a grammatical operation e. g. सार्वधातुकमपित् P. I. 2.4 ; असंयोगाह्लित् कित् P. I. 2.5 ; गोतो णित् P. VII. 1.90 etc. (2) the short vowel इ as a substitute ; cf. शास इदङ्हलोः P. VI. 4. 34.

Out of the four senses of the indeclinable च viz. समुच्चय, अन्वाचय, इतरेतरयोग and समाहार, the Dvandva compound is formed of words connected in the last two ways and not in the first two ways. The instances of इन्द्र in the sense of इतरेतरयोग are धवखदिरपलाशाः, प्लक्ष्म्योर्धौ etc. ; cf. Kās. on P. II. 2.29 ; cf. also प्लक्ष्म न्यग्रोधश्चेत्युक्ते गम्यत एतत्प्लक्षोपि न्यग्रोधसहायो न्यग्रोधोपि प्लक्षसहाय इति M. Bh. on II. 2.29 ; cf. also इतरेतरयोगः स यदा उद्विक्तावयवमेदो भवति Śiradeva Pari. 16.

No work of Indra is available at present. He is nowhere quoted by Pāṇini. Many quotations believed to have been taken from his work are found scattered in grammar works, from which it appears that there was an ancient system prevalent in the eastern part of India at the time of Pāṇini which could be named ऐन्द्रव्याकरणपद्धति, to which Pāṇini possibly refers by the word प्राच्यम्. From references, it appears that the grammar was of the type of प्रक्रिया, discussing various topics of grammar such as alphabet, coalescence, declension, context, compounds, derivatives from nouns and roots, conjugation, and changes in the base. The treatment was later on followed by Śākaṭāyana and writers of the Kātantra school. For details see Mahābhāṣya ed. by D. E. Society, Poona, Vol. VII pages 124-127.

Sometimes this expression in the Mahābhāṣya, referring to something which is not already expressed, but which could be found subsequently expressed, leads to the conclusion that the Mahābhāṣyakāra had something like a 'Laghubhāṣya' before him at the time of teaching the Mahābhāṣya. See Kielhorn's Kātyāyana and Patañjali, also Mahābhāṣya D. E. S. Ed. Vol. VII, pages 71, 72.

उच्चरित pronounced or uttered; the phrase उच्चरितप्रध्वंसिनः is used in connection with the mute indicatory letters termed इत् in Pāṇini's grammar, as these letters are not actually found in use in the language and are therefore supposed to vanish immediately after their purpose has been served. The phrase 'उच्चरितप्रध्वंसिनोऽनुवधाः' has been given as a Paribhāṣā by Vyāḍi (Pari. 11), in the Cāndra Vyākaraṇa (Par. 14), in the Kātantra Vyākaraṇa (Pari. 54) and also in the Kālāpa Vyākaraṇa (Par. 71). Bh. on III. 4.89 V. 2; cf. also M. Bh. on IV 4.59; VI. 4. 163, VII. 1.12, 50, VII. 2.84. In a few cases, a letter is found used by Pāṇini which cannot be assigned any purpose but which has been put there for facility of the use of other letters. Such letters are said to be उच्चारणार्थः; cf. जग्धिः । इकार उच्चारणार्थः । नातु-बन्धः । Kāś. on II 4.36. च्लि लुडि. । इकार उच्चारणार्थः; चकारः स्वार्थः । Kāś. on III. 1. 43. The expressions मुखसुखायः and श्रवणार्थः in the Mahābhāṣya mean the same as उच्चारणार्थः.

उणादिसूत्र, उणादिसूत्रपाठ a collection of Sūtras which begins with the Sūtra prescribing the affix उण, after the roots कृ, वा, पा, जि स्वद्, साध् and अश्; cp. उणादि सूत्र I. i. For the different versions of the text see उणादि. Similar sūtras in Kātantra, Āpiśali, Cāndra, Śākaṭāyana, Haima, Goyicandra, and Padmanābha systems of grammar are also called Uṇādisūtras. Some scholars ascribe the authorship of Uṇādisūtras to Pāṇini. The technical terms ह्रस्व, दीर्घ, प्लुत, उदात्त, उपधा, लोप, संप्रसारण, and अभ्यास are used in the same sense as in Pāṇini. The anubandhas are similar. Kātyāyana shows that particular rules of Pāṇini viz VIII. 3.50; VII. 4.15; VII. 2.78; VIII. 3.59, do not apply to Uṇādi. Uṇādi IV. 226 goes against Pāṇini. Vimalasarasvatī (14th. century) and Durga ascribe Uṇādisūtras to Vararuci Kātyāyana, Māgha ascribes Uṇādi to Pāṇini cp. Siś. XIX.

75. Modern scholars ascribe it to Śākaṭāyana. Uṇādi sūtras are found in the works of Bhaṭṭoji (Siddhānta Kaumudī), Śvetavanavāsīn (Com. on Uṇādisūtras), Nārāyaṇabhaṭṭa (Uṇādi khaṇḍa in Prakriyāsarvasva), Perusūri (Auṇādikapadārṇava), Viṭṭhala (Prasāda) and soon.

उणादिसूत्रदशपादी the text of the Uṇādi Sūtras divided into ten chapters believed to have been written by शाकटायन. It is printed at the end of the Prakriyā Kaumudī and separately also, and is also available in manuscripts with a few differences. Patañjali in his Bhāṣya on P. III. 3.1, seems to have mentioned Śākaṭāyana as the author of the Uṇādi Sūtras although it cannot be stated definitely whether there was at that time, a version of the sūtras in five chapters or in ten chapters or one, completely different from these, as scholars believe that there are many interpolations and changes in the versions of Uṇādi sūtras available at present.

उणादिसूत्रपञ्चपादी the text of the Uṇādi Sūtras divided into five chapters which is possessed of a scholarly commentary written by Ujjvaladatta. There is a commentary on it by Bhaṭṭoji Dīkṣita also.

Out of the several glosses on the Uṇādi Sūtras, the important ones are those written by Ujjvaladatta, Govārdhana, Puruṣottamadeva, Rāmacandra Dīkṣita and Haridatta. There is also a gloss called Uṇādisūtrodghāṭana by Miśra. There is a gloss by Durgasiṃha on the Kātantra version of the Uṇādi Sūtras.

उदात्त the acute accent defined by Pāṇini in the words उच्चैरुदात्तः P. I. 2. 29. The word उच्चैः is explained by Patañjali in the words 'आयामो दारुण्यं अणुता रवस्य इति उच्चैःकराणि शब्दस्य' where आयाम (मात्रनिग्रह restriction of the organs), दारुण्य (रुश्रुता rudeness) and रवस्य अणुता (कण्ठस्य संवृतता closure of the glottis) are given as specific characteristics of the acute accent. The acute is the prominent accent in a word—a simple word as also a compound word—and when a vowel in a word is possessed of the acute accent, the remaining vowels have the अनुदात्त or the grave accent. Accent is a property of vowels and consonants do not possess any independent accent. They possess the accent of the adjoining vowel connected with it. The acute accent corresponds to what is termed 'accent' in English and other languages.

Pr. I. 150.

Bh. on I. I. 1.

उद्देश्यविधेयभाव relationship between the subject and the predicate where generally the subject is placed first in a sentence; cf. उद्देश्यवचनं पूर्वं विधेयत्वं ततः परम् । cf. also तादात्म्यसंसर्गकस्थले विशेष्यत्वमेव उद्देश्यं विशेषणत्वमेव विधेयम् Padavākyaratnākara.

उद्द्योत the word always refers in grammar to the famous commentary by Nāgeśabhaṭṭa written in the first decade of the 18th century A. D. on the Mahābhāṣyapradīpa of Kaiyaṭa. The Uddyota appears to be one of the earlier works of Nāgeśa. It is also called Vivaraṇa. The commentary is a scholarly one and is looked upon as a final word re: the exposition of the Mahābhāṣya. It is believed that Nāgeśa wrote 12 Uddyotas and 12 Śekharas which form some authoritative commentaries on prominent works in the different Śāstras.

उद्द्योतनप्रभा name of a commentary on the 'Tantrapradīpa' of Maitreya Rakṣita, which latter is a commentary on Jinendrabuddhi's Nyāsa which itself is a commentary on Jayāditya's Kāśikā.

उद्भूतिलन appearance of an object; coming into existence. According to

Vāk. pad. III. 9-56. Time has two powers by which it brings about the emergence or disappearance of objects. The power that makes objects visible is called permission (अभ्यनुज्ञा).

उप् a technical term in the Jainendra Grammar for the terms लुप् and लुक; cf. अन्तरज्ञानपि विधीन् बहिरङ्क उप् बाधते. Jambh. Pari. 85, प्रकृतिग्रहणे बहुबन्तस्यापि ग्रहणम् Jain. Pari. 20.

उपकादि a class of words headed by the word उपक after which the taddhita affix, added in the sense of गोत्र (grand-children etc.) is optionally elided, provided the word is to be used in the plural number; cf. उपकलमकाः भ्रष्टककषिष्टलाः; also उपकाः, औपकायनाः; लमकाः, लामकायनाः, भ्रष्टकाः भ्राष्टकयः । Kās. on P. II. 4.69.

उपकार help given in respect of sense to a word by another word connected with it. cp. Vāk. pad. III. 7.13, 14, 149. उपकार उपयोगः (हेला.)

उपगीत a fault in the pronunciation of letters, noticed sometimes in the utterance of a letter adjoining such a letter as is coloured with a musical tone on account of the proximity of the adjacent letter which is uttered in a musical note and which therefore is called 'प्रगीत'; cf. प्रगीतः सामबुद्धारितः । उपगीतः समीपवर्णान्तरगीत्यानुरक्तः । Kaiyaṭa's Pradīpa on M. Bh. I Āhnika 1.

उपग्रह a term used by the ancient grammarians in the sense of the Parasmaipada and the Ātmanepada affixes. Helārāja observes "आत्मनेपदपरस्मैपदब्यङ्गयः कर्त्रभिप्रायतदितरादिरूपो विशेषो यः क्रियायाः साधनस्य स उपग्रह इति पूर्वाचार्यैरुपगतः । on Vāk. Pad. III. 12.1. The word is not found in Pāṇini's Aṣṭādhyāyī. The Vārttikakāra has used the word in his Vārttika उपग्रहप्रतिषेधश्च on

P. III. 2.127 evidently in the sense of Pada affixes referring to the Ātmanepada as explained by Kaiyaṭa in the words उपग्रहस्य आत्मनेपदसंज्ञाया इत्यर्थः । The word occurs in the Śloka-vārttika सुसिद्धुपग्रहलिङ्गनराणां quoted by Patañjali in his Mahābhāṣya on व्यत्ययो बहुलम् P. III. 1.85, where Nāgeśa writes लादेशव्यङ्गवं स्थाई-त्वादि । इह तत्प्रतीतिनिमित्ते परस्मैपदात्मनेपदे उपग्रहशब्देन लक्षणयोच्येते । The word is found in the sense of Pada in the Mahābhāṣya on P. III. 1.40. The commentator on Puṣpāsūtra explains the word as उपगृह्यते समीपे पठ्यते इति उपग्रहः. The author of the Kāśikā on P. VI. 2.134 has cited the reading चूर्णादीन्वप्राण्युपग्रहात् instead of चूर्णादीन्वप्राणिषष्ठ्याः and made the remark तत्रोपग्रह इति षष्ठ्यन्तमेव पूर्वाचार्योपचारेण गृह्यते. This remark shows that in ancient times उपग्रह meant षष्ठ्यन्त i.e. a word in the genitive case. This sense gave rise to, or was based upon, an allied sense, viz the meaning of 'षष्ठी' i.e. possession. Possibly the sense 'possession' further developed into the further sense 'possession of the fruit or result for self or others' referring to the लिङ् affixes which possessed that sense. The old sense 'षष्ठ्यन्त' of the word 'उपग्रह' having gone out of use, and the sense 'पद' having come in vogue; the word 'षष्ठी' must have been substituted for the word 'उपग्रह' by some grammarians before the time of the Kāśikākāras. As Patañjali has dropped the Sūtra (VI. 2.134), it cannot be said definitely whether the change of reading took place before Patañjali or after him.

उपग्रहसमुदेश name of section twelve of the third kāṇḍa of Vākyapadīya of Bhartr̥hari.

उपग्राहिन cause of acceptance; inducing acceptance. cp. Vāk. pad. III. 14. 114.

उपघात lit. an injury; destruction, error. The word is used as उपघातपरवाच्य, उपघातजं ज्ञानम्. The former means an instructing sentence e.g. when a boy is asked to protect curds from crows, he certainly protects it also from dogs and the like. cp. Vāk. pad. II. 312.

उपजन lit. origin; one that originates, augment, उपजायते असौ उपजनः । The word is used in the sense of 'additional phonetic element'; cf. उपजन आगमः M. Bh. on Śivasūtra 5; cf. also वर्णव्यत्ययापायोपजनविकारेष्वधेदृशनात् । Śiva Sūtra 5 Vārt. 15. The Rk Prātiśākhya gives स in पुरुश्चन्द्र as an instance of उपजन. cf. R. Pr. IV. 37. In the Nirukta उपजन is given as the sense of the prefix 'उप'; cf. उपेत्युपजनम्. The com. on the Nirukta explains the word उपजन as आधिचय.

उपजीव्य a term used by later grammarians in connection with such a rule on which another rule depends

cf. उपजीव्यादन्तरङ्गाच्च प्रधानं प्रबलम् Pari. Śekh. on Pari. 97, as also M. Bh. on हेतुमति च P. III. 1.26. The relationship known as उपजीव्योपजीवकभाव occurs several times in grammar which states the inferiority of the dependent as noticed in the world.

उपदेश instruction; original enunciation; first or original precepts or teaching; cf. उपदेश आद्योच्चारणम् S. K. on the rule उपदेशेऽनुनासिक इत् P. I. 3.2. cf. वर्णानामुपदेशः कर्तव्यः; M. Bh. on Āhn. 1. Vārt. 15. For difference between उपदेश and उद्देश see उद्देश; cf. also उपदिश्यतेनेनेत्युपदेशः। शास्त्रवाचमानि, सूत्रपाठः खिलपाठश्च Kāśikā on P. I. 3.2; cf. also Vyādi. Pari. 5; (2) employment (of a word) for others cf. उपदेशः परार्थः प्रयोगः। स्वयमेव तु बुद्ध्या यदा परामृशति तदा नास्त्युपदेशः Kāś. on अदोनुपदेशे P. I. 4.70.

उपदेशिवद्बचन statement to the effect that a word should be looked upon as occurring in the original instruction although it is not there. See उपदेश. cf. नुम्बिधावुपदेशिवद्बचनं प्रत्ययविध्यर्थम् P. VII. 1.58. Vārt. 1.

उपद्रुत name of a sandhi which is described as उद्ग्राहवत् in R. Pr.; e.g. न ऋते See उद्ग्राह.

उपधा Penultimate letter, as defined in the rule अलन्त्यादपूर्वं उपधा P. I. 1.65, e.g. see ह्रस्वोपध, दीर्घोपध, लघूपध, अकारोपध etc.; lit. उपधीयते निधीयते सा that which is placed near the last letter.

उपधालोपिन् a word or a noun which has got the penultimate letter omitted cf. अन उपधालोपिनोन्त्यतरस्याम् P. IV. 1.28.

उपध्मानीय a letter or a phonetic element substituted for a visarga followed by the first or the second letter of the labial class. Visarga is simply letting the breath out of the mouth. Where the visarga is followed by the first or the second letter of the labial class, its pronunciation is coloured by labial utterance. This coloured utterance cannot be made independently; hence this utterance called 'उपध्मानीय' (similar to a sound blown from the mouth) is not put in, as an independent letter, in the वर्णसमाह्वय attributed to महेश्वर. Patañjali, however, has referred to such dependent utterances by the term अयोगवाहवर्ण. See अयोगवाह; cf. ऋक इति जिह्वामूलीयः। जिह्वामूलेन जन्यत्वात्। ऋ इत्युपध्मानीयः। उपध्मानेन जन्यत्वात्. अयोगवाह is also called अर्धविसर्ग. See अर्धविसर्ग.

उपन्यास proposition, statement. The remark 'विषम उपन्यासः' is of frequent occurrence in the Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya in connection with statements that are defective and have to be refuted or corrected; cf. M. Bh. on P. I. 1.21, 46, 50; I. 2.5 etc.

उपपद lit. a word placed near; an adjoining word. In Pāṇini's grammar, the term उपपद is applied to such words as are put in the locative case by Pāṇini in his rules prescribing kṛt affixes in rules from III. 1.90 to III. 4 end; cf. तत्रोपपदं सप्तमीस्थम् P. III. 1.92; e.g. कर्मणि in कर्मण्यण् P. III. 2.1. The word is also used in the sense of an adjoining word connected in sense. e.g. युष्मदुपपदे as also प्रहासे च मन्व्योपपदे P. I. 4.105, 106; cf. also क्रियार्थायां क्रियायामुपपदे धातोर्भविष्यति काले तुमुन्ण्वलौ भवतः Kāś. on P. III. 3.10; cf. also इतरतरान्योन्योपपदाच्च P. I. 3.10, मिथ्योपपदात् कुञ्जोभ्यासे P. I. 3.71, as also उपपदमतिह् P. II. 2.19; and गतिकारकोपपदात्ह्रस्व P. VI. 2.139. Kaiyaṭa on P.

III. 1.92 Vārt. 2 explains the word उपपद as उपोच्चारि or उपोच्चारितं पदं उपपदम्. The word उपपद is found used in the Prātiśākhya literature where it means a word standing near and effecting some change; cf. च वा ह अह एव एतानि चप्रभृतीनि नान्युपपदानि उक्तानि आख्यातस्य विकारीणि० Uvāṭa on V. Pr. VI. 23.

उपपदविधि a grammatical operation caused by a word which is near; cf. उपपदविधौ भयाद्व्यादिग्रहणं P. I. 1.72 Vārt 9, also अतिप्रसङ्ग उपपदविधौ P. IV. 1.1. Vārt. 8 where rules such as 'कर्मण्यण्' and the following are referred to as उपपदविधि, the words कर्मणि, स्तान्, कर्णे, etc. being called उपपद by the rule तत्रोपपदं सप्तमीस्थम्; P. III. 1.92.

उपपदसमास the compound of a word, technically termed as उपपद by Pāṇini according to his definition of the word in III. 1.92, with another word which is a verbal derivative; cf. कुम्भकारः, नगरकारः. Here technically the compound of the words कुम्भ, नगर etc. which are upapadas is formed with कार, before a case-termination is added to the nominal base कार; cf. गतिकारकोपपदानां कृद्भिः सह समासवचनं प्राक् सुबुत्तेः Par. Śek. Pari. 75.

उपप्लव misconception, erroneous knowledge. cp. Vāk. pad III. 3.57 उपप्लवः अपगमनादिभ्रान्तिरूपः। also cp. उपप्लवः बाह्यविषयप्रावण्यमुदकस्येव सरजस्कत्वम्। (हेल्ग.)

उपबन्ध a technical term used in the Prātiśākhya works in the sense of words which proceed from a rule to the following rules upto a particular stated limit; cf. उपबन्धस्तु देशाय निलम् T. Pr. I. 59 explained by the commentator as उपबन्धते इति उपबन्धः। एतस्मिन्नित्यधिकरणरूपः संख्यानविषयः प्रदेशश्च उपबन्ध उच्यते। उपबन्धे यदुक्तं तदन्यत्र न भवतीति तुशब्दार्थः।

उपबिदित् the fourth out of the seven stages or places in the production of articulate speech, upāṁśu being the first stage; cf. सशब्दमुपबिदित् Tait. Pr. 23.9 explained by the commentator as: सशब्दं परश्राव्यशब्दसहितम्। यत्र प्रयुज्यमानः शब्दः परैरक्षरव्यञ्जनविवेकवर्जं श्रूयते तदुपबिदित्संज्ञं भवति।

उपलेखसूत्रम् a short work in sūtra style ascribed to Bhāradvāja Bṛhaspati, one of the three ancient teachers of Vedic recital. Vyādi in his Vikṛtivalli refers to him as his teacher. He may be taken to be a contemporary of Pāṇini. The work discusses क्रम, one of the eight varieties of the Vedic recital. The work लेखा or लेख may be understood as क्रम. The work, along with वेदपदपाठत्रर्चा is edited and translated by Prof. K. V. Abhyankar, Poona 1974.

उपमन्यु (1) the famous commentator on the grammatical verses attributed to Nandikeśvara which are known by the name नन्दिकेश्वरकारिका and which form a kind of a commentary on the sūtras of Maheśvara; (2) a comparatively modern grammarian possibly belonging to the nineteenth century who is also named Upamanyu and who has written a commentary named Tattvavimarsinī on the famous Kāśikāvṛtti by Jayāditya and Vāmana. Some believe that Upa-manyu was an ancient sage who wrote a nirukta or etymological work and whose pupil came to be known as औपमन्यव्.

उपमा a well-known term in Rhetorics meaning the figure of speech 'simile' or 'comparison'. The word is often found in the Nirukta in the same sense; cf. अथात् उपमाः । 'यत् जतत् नत्सदृशम्' इति गार्ग्यः । Nir III. 13. Generally an inferior thing is compared to another that is superior in quality.

उपमान standard of comparison. The word is found in the Pāṇinisūtra उपमानानि सामान्यवचनैः P. II, 1.55 where the Kāśikāvṛtti explains it as उप-भीयतेऽनेनेत्युपमानम् ।

उपमित an object which is compared. The word is found in Pāṇinisūtra उपमितं व्याघ्रादिभिः P. II. 1.56, where the Kāśikā paraphrases it by the word उपमेय and illustrates it by the word पुरुष in पुरुषव्याघ्र.

उपमेय an object which is to be compared. See उपमित.

उपलक्षण implication, indication; a thing indicatory of another thing. It is defined as स्वप्रतिपादकत्वे सति स्वैतर-प्रतिपादकत्वम् । The term is very frequently found in commentary works in connection with a word which signifies something beyond it which is similar to it; the indication is generally inclusive; cf. Kāśikā on भीस्त्वोर्हेतुभये P. I. 3.68 अथग्रहणमुपलक्षणार्थं विस्मयोपि तत् एव । as also मन्त्रग्रहणं तु च्छन्दस उपलक्षणार्थम् Kāś. on II. 4.80. The verbal forms of लक्ष् and उपलक्ष् as also the words लक्षयितुम्, लक्षणीय, लक्षित etc. possess the sense of 'expressing the meaning not primarily, but secondarily by indication or implication'.

करणः अन्तस्थान्तरोपलिङ्गी विभाषितशुणः । शिवम् Nir. X. 17.

उपवर्ष an ancient grammarian and Mīmāṃsaka believed to have been the brother of Varṣa and the preceptor of Pāṇini. He is referred to, many times as an ancient writer of some Vṛttigranths.

उपव्यञ्जन implication of something by means of a mark or sign; significant object or mark. cp. Vāk. Pad. II.18; III. 14, 85. उपव्यञ्जनमभिव्यञ्जन्म् । Helāraja.

उपश्लेष immediate contact, as for instance, of one word with another; cf. शब्दस्य च शब्देन कोन्योभिसंबन्धो भवितुमर्हति अन्यदत् उपश्लेषात् । M. Bh. on VI. 1.72. The word उपश्लेष is also found in the Mahābhāṣya in the same context.

उपसंख्यान mention, generally of the type of the annexation of some words to words already given, or of some limiting conditions or additions to what has been already stated. The word is often found at the end of the statements made by the Vārttikakāra on the sūtras of Pāṇini.; cf. P. I. 1.29 Vārt. 1; I. 1.36 Vārt. 3 etc. The words वाच्य and वक्तव्य are also similarly used. The word is found similarly used in the Mahābhāṣya also very frequently.

उपसंग्रह inclusion of something, which is not directly mentioned; cf. प्रसिद्धमुप-संग्रहार्थमेतत् Kāś. on P. I. 3.48, also इतिकरणं एवंविधानामप्यन्येषामुपसंग्रहार्थम् Kāś. on P. VII. 4.65.

उपसंयोग (I) union; cf. नामाख्यातयोस्तु कर्मोपसंयोगद्योतका भवन्ति prepositions are signs to show that such a union with another sense has occurred in the case of the noun or verb to which they are prefixed; Nir. I. 3;

(2) addition; cf. अक्रियमाणे हि संज्ञाग्रहणे गरीयानुपसंयोगः कर्तव्यः स्यात् M. Bh. on P. IV. 2.21. Vārt. 2.

उपसंहृत drawn close; cf. ओष्ठौ तूपसंहृततरौ T. Pr. II. 14. The root उपसंहृ is used in the sense of finishing in the Mahābhāṣya; cf. येनैव यत्नेनैको वर्ण उच्चार्यते विच्छिन्ने वर्ण उपसंहृत्य तमन्यमुपादाय द्वितीयः प्रयुज्यते तथा तृतीयस्तथा चतुर्थः। M. Bh. on P. I. 4. 109 Vārt. 6.

उपसमस्त compounded together, joined together by special grammatical connection called समास; cf. न केवलः पथिशब्दः स्त्रियां वर्तते। उपसमस्तस्तर्हि वर्तते। M. Bh. on VII. 1.1. Vārt. 18.

उपसर्ग preposition, prefix. The word उपसर्ग originally meant only 'a prefixed word'; cf. सोपसर्गेषु नामसु R. Pr. XVI. 38. The word became technically applied by ancient Sanskrit Grammarians to the words प्र, परा, अप, सम् etc. which are always used along with a verb or a verbal derivative or a noun showing a verbal activity; cf. उपसर्गः क्रियायोगे P. I. 4.59. These prefixes are necessarily-compounded with the following word unless the latter is a verbal form; cf. कुगतिप्रादयः P. II. 2.18. Although they are not compounded with a verbal form, these prepositions are used in juxtaposition with it; sometimes they are found detached from the verbal form even with the intervention of one word or more. The prefixes are instrumental in changing the meaning of the root. cp. उपसर्गेण धात्वर्थो बलादन्यत्र नीयते (अन्यः प्रतीयते। V.L.)। गङ्गासलिल-माधुर्यं सागरेण यथात्मसा ॥ Some scholars like Śākaṭāyana hold the view that separated from the roots, prefixes do not express any specific sense as ordinary words express, while scholars like Gārgya hold the view that prefixes do express a sense e.g.

प्र means beginning or प्रारम्भ; cf. न निर्वद्धा उपसर्गा अर्थान्निराहुरिति शाकटायनः। नामाख्यातयोस्तु कर्मोपसंयोगद्योतका भवन्ति। उच्चावचाः पदार्था भवन्तीति गार्ग्यः। तद्य एषु पदार्थैः प्राहुरिमं तं नामाख्यातयोरर्थविकरणम् Nir. I.8. It is doubtful, however, which view Pāṇini himself held. In his Ātmanepada topic, he has mentioned some specific roots as possessing some specific senses when preceded by some specific prefixes, (see P. I. 3.20, 24, 2540, 41, 46, 52, 56, etc.), which implies possibly that roots themselves possess various senses, while prefixes are simply instrumental in indicating or showing them. On the other hand, in the topic of the Karmapravacanīyas, the same words प्र, परा etc. which, however, are not termed Upasargas for the time being, although they are called Nipātas, are actually assigned some specific senses by Pāṇini. The Vārttikakāra has defined उपसर्ग as क्रियाविशेषक उपसर्गः P. I. 3.1. Vārt. 7, leaving it doubtful whether the उपसर्ग or prefix possesses an independent sense which modifies the sense of the root, or without possessing any independent sense, it shows only the modified sense of the root which also is possessed by the root. Bhartṅhari, Kaiyaṭa and their followers including Nāgeśa have emphatically given the view that not only prefixes but Nipātas, which include प्र, परा and others as Upasargas as well as Karmapravacanīyas, do not denote any sense, but they indicate it; they are in fact द्योतक and not वाचक. For details see Nir. I. 3, Vākyapadīya II. 190, Mahābhāṣya on I. 3.1. Vārt. 7 and Pradīpa and Uddyota thereon. The Ṛk Prātiśākhya has discussed the question in XII. 6-9 where, as explained by the commentator, it is stated that prefixes express a sense along with roots or nouns to which they are attached. It is not clear whether they convey the sense by denotation or indication, the words वाचक in stanza 6 and विशेषकृत् in stanza 8 being in favour of the former and the latter views respectively; cf. उपसर्गं विशतिरर्थवाचकाः सहेतराभ्यामितरे निपाताः; क्रियावाचकमाख्यातमुपसर्गो विशेषकृत्, सस्वाभिधायकं नाम निपातः पादपूरणः R. Pr. XII, st. 6 and 8. For the list of upasargas see R. Pr. XII, 6, T. Pr. I, 15, V. Pr. VI, 24, and S. K. on P. I. 4.60.

उपसर्गघोष्यता the view or doctrine that prefixes, by themselves, do not possess any sense, but they indicate the sense of the verb or noun with which they are connected. For details see Vākyapadiya II. 165-206; also vol. VII. pages 370-372 of Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya ed. by the D. E. Society, Poona.

उपसर्गयोग connection with a prefix; joining of the prefix. Some scholars of grammar hold the view that the Upasarga is prefixed to the root and then the verbal form is arrived at by placing the desired terminations after the root, while others hold the opposite view; cf. पूर्व धातुः साधनेनोपयुज्यते पश्चादुपसर्गेण । अन्ये तु पूर्व धातुरुपसर्गेण युज्यते पश्चात्साधनेनेत्याहुः Śīradeva's Paribhāṣāvṛtti Pari. 131, 132; cf. also vol. VII. Mahābhāṣya, edited by the D.E. Society, Poona, pages 371-372.

उपसर्गविचार a treatise on upasargas by Gadādhara Cakravartin.

उपसर्गविवरण a short anonymous work on the nature of upasargas or prepositions explaining their meanings with illustrations.

उपसर्गवृत्ति a treatise on upasargas by Bharatamalla in the Sixteenth Century A. D.

उपसर्जन (1) adjective, subordinate member which does not get the treatment of the principal member, e.g. गोखिरोरुपसर्जनस्य P. I. 2.48, अनुपसर्जनात् P. IV. 1.14 संज्ञोपसर्जनीभूतास्तु न सर्वादयः S. K. on P. I. 1.29, also P. I. 1.27 Vārt. 2; (2) a word referred to by the word which is put in the nominative case in rules of Pāṇini prescribing compounds, e.g. ऋष्ट (in the compound ऋष्टश्रितः) which is referred to by the word द्वितीया in the rule द्वितीया श्रितातीत० P. II. 1.24 which prescribes the Acc. Tatpuruṣa compound. These words are given the first place in a compound; cf. प्रथमानिदिष्टं समास उपसर्जनम् P. I. 2.43, उपसर्जनं पूर्वम् P. II. 2.30; (3) a word which has one and the same case when a compound in the different cases is shown as dissolved, e.g. the word कौशाब्दी in the compound निष्कौशाब्दिः which keeps its ablative case when the compounds निष्कौशाब्दिम्, निष्कौशाब्दिना, निष्कौशाब्दये etc. are dissolved; cf. एकविभक्ति चापूर्वनिपाते P. I. 2.44.

उपसृष्ट attended with a prefix, generally used in connection with roots; e.g. कुषद्बुहोरुपसृष्टयोः कर्म P. I. 4.38 where the Kāśikā has explained the word as उपसर्गसंबद्ध.

उपस्कार introduction of the necessary changes in the wording of the base, such as elision, or addition or substitution of a letter or letters as caused by the addition of suffixes. cp. यद्यपि सोपस्कारेषु युज्येव वृत्तिकारा भिन्नान् क्रियाशब्दानुच्चारयन्ति। Svo. on Vāk. pad. II. 349.

उपस्थान occurrence; presence by virtue of anuvṛtti i.e. recurrence or continuation of a word in the rules that follow; cf. शब्देन चाप्यधिकृतेन कोन्यो व्यापारः शक्योवगन्तुमन्यदतो योगे योग उपस्थानात् M. Bh. on I. 3.11. Vārt. 1.

उपस्थित a word used rather technically in the sense of the word इति which is used in the Krama and other recitals when Vedic reciters show separately the two words compounded together by uttering the compound word first, then the word इति and then the two compound words, e. g. सुश्लोक इति सु-श्लोक । विभावसो इति विभा-वसो. The Kāśikā defines the word उपस्थित as समुदायादवच्छिद्य पदं येन स्वरूपे अवस्थाप्यते तद् उपस्थितम् । इतिशब्दः Kāś. on VI. 1.129. The Rk-Prāṭisākhya explains the word rather differently, but in the same context. The word after which इति is placed is called upasthita e.g. the word बाहू in बाहू इति or विभावसो in विभावसो इति as contrasted with स्थित i. e. the word without इति e. g. बाहू or विभावसो, as also contrasted with स्थितोपस्थित i. e. the whole word विभावसो इति विभाऽवसो which is also called संहित or मिलित ; (2) occurring, present; cf. कार्यकालं संज्ञापरिभाषम् । यत्र कार्यं तत्रोपस्थितं द्रष्टव्यम् । Pār. Śek. Pari. 3.

ऋक्प्रातिशाख्य one of the Prātiśākhyā works belonging to the Āśvalāyana Śākhā of the Ṛg Veda. The work available at present, appears to be not a very old one, possibly written a century or so after Pāṇini's time. It is possible that the work, which is available, is based upon a few ancient Prātiśākhyā works which are lost. Its authorship is attributed to Śaunaka. The work is a metrical one and consists of three books or Adhyāyas, each Adhyāya being made up of six Paṭalas or chapters. It is written, just as the other Prātiśākhyā works, with a view to give directions for the proper recitation of the Veda. एकवाक्य an expression giving one idea, either a single or a composite one. I. 2.64. There is a dictum of grammarians that every individual object requires a separate expression to convey its presence. Hence, when there is a dual sense, the word has to be repeated, as also the word has to be multiplied when there is a plural sense. In current spoken language, however, in such cases the word is used only once. To justify this single utterance for conveying the sense of plurality, Pāṇini has laid down a general rule सरूपाणामेकशेष एकविभक्तौ and many other similar rules to cover cases of plurality not of one and the same object, but plurality caused by many objects, such as plurality caused by ideas going in pairs or relations such as parents, brothers and sisters, grand-father and grand-son, male and female. For example, see the words वृक्षश्च, वृक्षश्च वृक्षौ; similarly वृक्षाः for many trees, पितरौ for माता च पिता च; देवौ for देवी च देवश्च; cf. also the words भ्रातुरौ, भ्रातरौ, गार्थौ (for गार्थं and गार्थावण), आवाञ्

(for स्वं च अहं च), यौ (for स च यश्च) and गावः fem. अजा fem. अश्वः masc. irrespective of the individuals being some males and some females. Pāṇini has devoted 10 Sūtras to this topic of Ekaśeṣa. The Daiva grammar has completely ignored this topic. Patañjali has very critically and exhaustively discussed this topic. Some critics hold that the topic of एकशेष did not exist in the original Aṣṭādhyāyī of Pāṇini but it was interpolated later on, and adduce the long discussion in the Mahābhāṣya especially the Pūrvapakṣa therein, in support of their argument. Whatever the case be, the Vārttikakāra has commented upon it at length; hence, the addition must have been made immediately after Pāṇini, if at all there was any. For details see Mahābhāṣya on I. 1.64 to 73 as also, Introduction p. 166-167, Vol. 7 of the Mahābhāṣya published by the D. E. Society, Poona.

एकशेषनिर्देश statement by subsistence of one word out of many. The phrase is very often used in the Mahābhāṣya where the omission of an individual thing is explained by saying that the expression used is a composite one including the omitted thing along with the thing already expressed; cf. एकशेषनिर्देशोयम् । सर्वादीनि च सर्वादीनि च सर्वादीनि । M. Bh. on I. 1.27, on I. 1.59, I. 2.39, as also on I. 3.1 Vārt. 5, I. 4.101. Vārt. 3, II. 1.1. Vārt. 19 etc.

एकश्रुति that which has got the same accent or tone; utterance in the same tone; monotone. The word is applied to the utterance of the vocative noun or phrase calling a man from a distance, as also to that of the vowels or syllables following a Svarita vowel in the Samhitā i.e.

the continuous utterance of Vedic sentences; cf. एकश्रुति दूरात्संबुद्धौ and the foll. P. I. 2.33-40 and the Mahābhāṣya thereon. In his discussion on I. 2.33 Patañjali has given three alternative views about the accent of Ekaśruti syllables: (a) they possess an accent between the उदात्त (acute) and अनुदात्त (grave), (b) they are in the same accent as is possessed by the preceding vowel, (c) Ekaśruti is looked upon as the seventh of the seven accents; cf. सैषा ज्ञापकाभ्यामुदात्तानुदात्तयोर्मध्यमेकश्रुतिरन्तराले हियते ।...सप्त स्वरा भवन्ति । उदात्तः, उदात्तरः, अनुदात्तः, अनुदात्तरः, स्वरितः स्वरिते य उदात्तः सोन्येन विशिष्टः, एकश्रुतिः सप्तमः । M. The ādeśas or substitutes named पूर्वरूप and पररूप are looked upon as ekādeśas in Pāṇini's grammar although instead of them, the omission of the latter and former vowels respectively, is prescribed in some Prātiśākhya works. गुण and वृद्धि are sometimes single substitutes for single originals, while they are sometimes ekādeśas for two original vowels e.g. तनेदम्, ब्रह्मोदनः, उपति, प्राच्छति, गाम्, सीमन्तः etc.; see P. VI. 1.87 to III, cf. also A. Pr. II. 3.6.

ऐन्द्र name of an ancient school of grammar and of the treatise also, belonging to that school, believed to have been written under instructions of Indra. The work is not available. Patañjali mentions that Bṛhaspati instructed Indra for one thousand celestial years and still did not finish his 'instructions in words'; (M. Bh. I. 1. 1). The Taittirīya Saṁhitā mentions the same. Pāṇini has referred to some ancient grammarians of the East by the word प्राचास्, without mentioning their names, and scholars like Burnell think that the grammar assigned to Indra is to be referred to by the word प्राचास्. The Bṛhatkathāmañjarī remarks that Pāṇini's grammar threw into the background the Aindra Grammar. Some scholars believe that Kālāpa grammar which is available today is based upon Aindra, just as Cāndra is based upon Pāṇini's grammar. References to Aindra Grammar are found in the commentary on the Sārasvatapraṅkriyā in the Kavikalpadruma of Bopadeva as also in the commentary upon the Mahābhārata by Devabodha. Quotations, although very few, are given by some writers from the work. Akalaṅka in his Tattvārtharājavārtika I 5 quotes an Aindra sūtra. All these facts prove that there was an ancient pre-Pāṇinian treatise on Grammar assigned to इन्द्र which was called Aindra-Vyākaraṇa. For details see Dr. Burnell's 'Aindra School of Sanskrit Grammarians' as also Vol. VII pages 124-126 of Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya, edited by the D. E. Society, Poona.

vowel. The Prātiśākhya works prohibit the coalescence of ओ in many cases with the succeeding vowel; cf. R. Pr. I. 70; V. Pr. I. 94.

letter ओ; roots marked with the mute letter ओ have the Niṣṭhā affix

◌ अनुस्वार or nasal (r) looked upon as a phonetic element, independent, no doubt, but incapable of being pronounced without a vowel preceding it. Hence, it is shown in writing with अ although its form in writing is only a dot above the line; cf. अं इत्यनुस्वारः । अकार इह उच्चारणार्थे इति बिन्दुमात्रो वर्णानुस्वारसंज्ञो भवति Kāt. Vyāk. I. 1.19; (2) anusvāra, showing or signifying Vikāra i. e. आगम and used as a technical term for the second विभक्ति or the accusative case. See the word अं above on page 1.

: विसर्जनीय or विसर्ग; lit. letting out breath from the mouth; sound or utterance caused by breath escaping from the mouth; breathing. The Visarjanīya, just like the anusvāra, is incapable of being independently uttered. Hence, it is written for convenience as अः although its form for writing purposes is only two dots after the vowel preceding it; cf. अः इति विसर्जनीयः । अकार इह उच्चारणार्थः इति कुमारिस्तनयुगाकृतिर्वर्णो विसर्जनीयसंज्ञो भवति । Kāt. Vyāk. I. 1.16. See अः above on page 2.

ॐ उपध्मानीय lit. blowing; a term applied to the visarga when followed by the consonant प् or फ्. The upadhmanīya is looked upon as a letter or phonetic element, which is always connected with the preceding vowel. As the upadhmanīya is an optional substitute for the visarga before the letter प् or फ्, when, in writing, it is to be shown instead of the visarga, it is shown as ॐ, or as ω, or even as × just as the Jihvāmūliya; cf. उपध्मायते शब्दायते इति, उप समीपे ध्मायते शब्दते इति वा com. on Kāt. I.; cf. also कपाभ्यां प्रागर्धविसर्गसदृशौ जिह्वामूलीयोपध्मानीयौ S. K. on P. VIII. 2.1.

◌ नासिक्य, a nasal letter or utterance

included among the अयोगवाह letters analogous to anusvāra and yama letters. It is mentioned in the Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya as ङु इति नासिक्यः on which Uvvaṭa makes the remark अयमृक्शाखायां प्रसिद्धः. The Rk-Prātiśākhya mentions नासिक्य, यम and अनुस्वार as नासिक्य or nasal letters, while Uvvaṭa defines नासिक्य as a letter produced only by the nose; cf. केवलनासिक्या उच्चार्यमाणो वर्णो नासिक्यः Uvvaṭa on R. Pr. I. 20. The Taittirīya Prātiśākhya calls the letter ङ as nāsikya when it is followed by the consonant न् or ण् or म् and gives अङ्गम्, अपरङ्गे and ब्रह्म as instances. The Pāṇiniya Śikṣā does not mention नासिक्य as a letter. The Mahābhāṣya mentions नासिक्य as one of the six ayogavāha letters; cf. के पुनरयोगवाहाः । विसर्जनीयजिह्वामूलीयोपध्मानीयानुस्वारानुनासिक्ययमाः M. Bh. on Śivasūtra 5 Vārt. 5, where some manuscripts read नासिक्य for अनुनासिक्य while in some other manuscripts there is neither the word अनुनासिक्य nor नासिक्य. It is likely that the anunāsika-colouring given to the vowel preceding the consonant स substituted for the consonants म, न् and others by P. VIII. 3.2. to 12, was looked upon as a separate phonetic unit and called नासिक्य as for instance in सैवकर्ता, मा हि सीः, सैशिशिषिषि etc.

५ यम, a letter called यम which is uttered partly through the nose. A class consonant excepting the fifth viz. ह्, ज्ञ्, ण्, न् or म्, gets doubled in the Vedic recital, when the second of the doubled consonant which is coloured by the following nasal consonant is called यम. This यम letter is not independent. It necessarily depends upon the following nasal consonant and hence it is called अयोगवाह. The nasalization is shown in script as ङ followed by the consonant; e. g. पलिङ्गन्ती, अण्ङ्, etc. The pronunciation of this yama or twin letter is seen in the Vedic recital only; cf. पलिङ्गन्ती...कखगघेभ्यः परे तत्सदृशा एव यमाः S. K. on P. VIII. 2. I. cf. ङुं ङुं ङुं ङुं इति यमाः विशतिसंख्यायां भवन्ति V. Pr. VIII. 24.

कर्तृ agent of an action, subject; name of a kāraka or instrument in general, of an action, which produces the fruit or result of an action without depending on any other instrument;

cf. स्वतन्त्रः कर्ता P. I. 4.54, explained as अगुणीभूतो यः क्रियाप्रसिद्धौ स्वातन्त्र्येण विवक्ष्यते तत्कारकं कर्तृसंज्ञं भवति in the Kāśikā on P. I. 4. 54. This agent, or rather, the word standing for the agent, is put in the nominative case in the active voice (cf. P. I. 4.54), in the instrumental case in the passive voice (cf. P. II. 3. 18), and in the genitive case when it is connected with a noun of action or verbal derivative noun, (cf. P. II. 3.65).

कर्तृयक् the affix य् of the passive voice where the object functions as the subject; e. g. यक् in ल्यते केदारः स्वयमेव;
cf. अवः कर्तृयक्ति P. VI. 1.95 and the Kāśikā thereon.

sense of the agent of an activity;

on P. I. 3.1. Vārt. 7.

कर्तृस्थक्रिय (a root) whose activity is found functioning in the subject;
cf. यत्र क्रियाकृतविशेषदर्शनं कर्तरि Kaiyaṭa on P. III. 1. 87 Vārt. 3. Such roots, although transitive, do not have any Karmakartari construction by the rule कर्मवत्कर्मणा तुल्यक्रियः P. III.
1.87 as e. g. ग्रामं गच्छति देवदत्तः has no कर्मकर्तरि construction; cf. कर्मस्थभावकानां
कर्मस्थक्रियाणां वा कर्ता कर्मवद् भवतीति वक्तव्यम् ।
कर्तृस्थभावकानां कर्तृस्थक्रियाणां वा कर्ता कर्मवन्मा
भूदिति M. Bh. on III. 1.87. Vārt. 3.

कर्तृस्थभावक (a root) whose action or happening is noticed functioning in the subject; e. g. the root सृ. cf.
कर्तृस्थभावकश्चायं (सरतिः) M. Bh. on I.
3.67, कर्तृस्थभावकश्च वेतिः (शीघातुः) M. Bh.
on V. 3.55; Vāk. pad. III. 14.168.

कर्मकर्तृ object of the transitive verb which functions as the subject when there is a marked facility of action; e. g. ओदन is karmakartari-object, functioning as subject, in पच्यते ओदनः स्वयमेव. The word कर्मकर्तृ is used also for the कर्मकर्तृरि प्रयोग where the object, on which the verb-activity is found, is turned into a subject and the verb which is transitive is turned into intransitive as a result.

कर्मधारय name technically given to a compound-formation of two words in apposition i. e. used in the same case, technically called समानाधिकरण showing the same substratum; cf. तत्पुरुषः समानाधिकरणः कर्मधारयः I. 2.42. The karmadhāraya compound is looked upon as a variety of the tatpuruṣa compound. There is no satisfactory explanation of the reason why such a compound is termed कर्मधारय. Śākaṭāyāna defines Karmadhāraya as विशेषणं व्यभिचारि एकार्थं कर्मधारयश्च where the word विशेषण is explained as व्यावर्तक or भेदक (distinguishing attribute) showing that the word कर्म may mean भेदकक्रिया. The word कर्मधारय in that case could mean 'कर्म भेदकक्रिया, तां धारयति असौ कर्मधारयः' a compound which gives a specification of the thing in hand.

कर्मन् (1) object of a transitive verb, defined as 'something which the agent or the doer of an action wants primarily to achieve. The main feature of कर्मन् is that it is put in the accusative case; cf. कर्तुरीप्सिततमं कर्म, कर्मणि द्वितीया; P. I. 4.49; II. 3.2. Pāṇini has made कर्म a technical term and called all such words 'karman' as are connected with a verbal activity and used in the accusative case; cf. कर्तुरीप्सिततमं कर्म; तथायुक्तं चानीप्सितम्; अकथितं च and गतिबुद्धि-प्रत्यवसानार्थं शब्दकर्मकामाणामणि कर्ता स गौ P. I. 4.49-52; cf. also यत् क्रियते तत् कर्म Kāt. II. 4 13, कर्त्राप्यम् Jain I. 2. 120 and कर्तुर्व्याप्यं कर्म Hem. II. 2. 3. Sometimes a kāraṅka, related to the activity (क्रिया) as sampradāna, apādāna or adhikaraṅga is also treated as karma, if it is not meant or desired as apādāna, sampradāna etc. It is termed अकथितकर्म in such cases; cf. अपादानादिविशेषकणाभिरविवक्षितमकथितम् Kāś. on I. 4.51. See the word अकथित above. Karman or object is to be achieved by an activity or क्रिया; it is always syntactically connected with a verb or a verbal derivative. When connected with verbs or verbal derivatives, indeclinables or words ending with the affixes उक्, क्त, क्तवद्, क्तृन्, etc., it is put in the accusative case. It is put in the genitive case when it is connected with affixes other than those mentioned above; cf. P. II. 3.65, 69. When, however, the karman is expressed (अभिहित) by a verbal termination (तिङ्), or a verbal noun termination (कृत्), or a noun-affix (तद्धित), or a compound, it is put in the nominative case. e.g. कटः क्रियते, कटः कृतः, शल्यः, प्राप्तेदकः ग्रामः etc. It is called अभिहित in such cases; cf. P. II. 3.1. See the word अनभिहित above. The object or Karman which is ईप्सिततम is described to be of three kinds with reference to the way in which it is obtained from the activity. It is called विकार्य when a transformation or a change is noticed in the object as a result of the verbal activity, e.g. काष्ठानि सस्मीकरोति, घटं भिनत्ति etc. It is called प्राप्य when no change is seen to result from the action, the object only coming into contact with the subject, e.g. ग्रामं गच्छति, आदित्यं पश्यति etc. It is called निर्वर्त्य when the object is brought into being under a specific name; e.g. घटं करोति, ओदनं पचति, cf. निर्वर्त्यं च विकार्यं च प्राप्यं चेति त्रिधा मतम् । तद्वेदिततमम् Padamañjari on I. 4.49; cf. also Vākypadiya III. 7.45 as also Nyāsa on I. 4.49. The object which is not ईप्सिततम is also subdivided into four kinds e.g. (a) अनीप्सित (ग्रामं गच्छन्) व्याघ्रं पश्यति, (b) औदासीन्येन प्राप्य or इतरत् or अनुभय e.g. (ग्रामं गच्छन्) वृक्षमूलानि उपसर्पति, (c) अनाख्यात or अकथित e.g. बलिं in बलिं याचते वसुधाम्. (d) अन्यपूर्वक e.g. अक्षान् दीव्यति, ग्राममभिविदिशते; cf. Padamañjari on I. 4.49. The commentator Abhayanandin on Jainendra Vyākaraṇa mentions seven kinds प्राप्य, विषयभूत, निर्वर्त्य, विक्रियात्मक, ईप्सित, अनीप्सित and इतरत्, defining कर्म as कर्त्रा क्रियया यद् आप्यं तत् कारकं कर्म; cf. कर्त्राप्यम् Jain. Vy. I. 2.120 and com. thereon. जैनेन्द्रमधीते is given therein as an instance of विषयभूत. (2) The word कर्मन् is also used in the sense of क्रिया or verbal activity; cf. उदोन्ध्वकर्मणि P. I. 3.24; आदिकर्मणि वतः कर्त्तरि च P. III. 4.71, कर्त्तरि कर्मव्यतिहारे P. I. 3.14. (3) It is also used in the sense of activity in general, as for instance, the sense of a word; e.g. नामाख्यातयोस्तु कर्मोपसंयोग-द्योतका भवन्ति Nir. I. 3.4; where Durgācārya explains karman as 'sense' (अर्थ).

कर्मनामन् lit. noun showing action,
participle.

कर्मप्रवचनीय a technical term used in connection with a preposition which showed a verbal activity formerly, although for the present time it does not show it; the word is used as a technical term in grammar in connection with prefixes or उपसर्ग which are not used along with a root, but without it; cf. कर्म प्रोक्तवन्तः कर्मप्रवचनीयाः इति M. Bh. on P. I. 4.83;
e.g. शाकल्यस्य संहितामनु प्रावर्षत्, अन्वर्जुनं

tion, for the sake of grammatical operations; e.g. भिद्यते काष्ठं स्वयमेवः करिष्यते कटः स्वयमेव. To show facility of a verbal activity on the object, when the agent or kartā is dispensed with, and the object is looked upon as the agent, and used also as an agent, the verbal terminations ति, तः etc. are not applied in the sense of an agent, but they are applied in the sense of an object;
consequently the sign of the voice is not अ (श्प्), but य (यक्) and the verbal terminations are त, आताम् etc.
(तद्) instead of ति, तस etc. In popular language the use of an expression of this type is called Karmakartari-Prayoga. For details see M. Bh. on कर्मवत्कर्मणा तुल्यक्रियः P.
III. 1.87. Only such roots as are कर्मस्यक्रियक or कर्मस्थमावक i.e. roots whose verbal activity is noticed in the object and not in the subject can have this Karmakartari-Prayoga.

कर्मव्यतिहार exchange of verbal activity; reciprocity of action; कर्मव्यतिहार means क्रियाव्यतिहार or क्रियाविनिमय; cf. कर्तरि कर्मव्यतिहारे P. I. 3.14; also कर्मव्यतिहारे णच् द्वियाम् । व्यावक्रोशी, व्याख्युक्षी Kās. on P. III. 3.43. The roots having their agents characterized by a reciprocity of action take the Ātmanepada terminations; cf. P. I. 3.14.

कर्मसाधन prescribed in the sense of an object; a term used in the Mahābhāṣya in the sense of affixes used in the sense of 'object' as contrasted with कर्तृसाधन or भावसाधन; e.g. the affix कि in the word विधि, explained as विधीयते इति विधिः or in the word भाव explained as भाव्यते यः स भावः; cf. क्रिया चैव हि भाव्यते, स्वभावसिद्धं तु द्रव्यम् M. Bh. on P. I. 3.1. See similarly the words समाहार M. Bh. on II. 1.51 and उपधि M. Bh. on V. 1.13.

कर्मस्थभावक (roots) having their verbal action or happening noticed in the object; e.g. the root आस and शी in बालमासयति शाययति where the function of the root bears effect in the object boy and not in the movements of the object as in the sentence बालमवरुणद्धि. See कर्मस्थक्रिय above as also M. Bh. on III. 1.87 and Kaiyaṭa on the same.

कर्मादि lit. karman and others; a term often used in the Mahābhāṣya for kārakas or words connected with a verbal activity which have the object or karmakāraka mentioned first; सुपां कर्मादयोऽप्यर्थाः संख्यां चैव तथा लिङ्गम् M. Bh. on I. 4.21.

Bh. on I. 1.44.

कल a fault of pronunciation consequent upon directing the tongue to a place in the mouth which is not the proper one, for the utterance of a vowel; a vowel so pronounced; cf. संवृतः कलो ध्मातः...रोमश इति । cf. also निवृत्तकलादिकामवर्णस्य प्रत्यापत्तिं वक्ष्यामि M. Bh. Āhnika 1.

कलाप (कलापव्याकरण) alternative name given to the treatise on grammar written by Śarvavarman who is believed to have lived in the days of the Sātavāhana kings. The treatise is popularly known by the name Kātantra Vyākaraṇa. The available treatise, viz. Kalāpasūtras, is much similar to the Kātantra Sūtras having a few changes and additions only here and there. It is rather risky to say that Kalāpa was an ancient system of grammar which is referred to in the Pāṇini Sūtra कलापिनोऽण P. IV. 3.108. For details see कातम्त्र.

P. VIII. 3.48. As this कस्कादिगण is said to be आकृतिगण, similar words can be said to be in the कस्कादिगण although they are not actually mentioned in the गणपाठ.

कातन्त्र name of an important small treatise on grammar which appears like a systematic abridgment of the Aṣṭādhyāyī of Pāṇini. It ignores many unimportant rules of Pāṇini, adjusts many, and altogether omits the Vedic portion and the accent chapter of Pāṇini. It probably belonged to Aindra system as opposed to Mahēśvara system. It is also explained as Kāśakṛtsnatātra. It lays down the Sūtras in an order different from that of Pāṇini dividing the work into four adhyāyas dealing with technical terms, saṁdhi rules, declension, syntax, compounds noun-affixes (taddhita affixes) conjugation, voice, and verbal derivatives in an order. The total number of rules is 1412 supplemented by many subordinate rules or Vārttikas. The treatise is believed to have been written by Śarvavarman, called Sarvavarman or Śarva or Sarva, who is said to have lived in the reign of the Sātavāhana kings. The belief that Pāṇini refers to a work of Kalāpin in his rules IV. 3.108 and IV. 3.48 and that Patañjali's words कालापम् and साहायतिकम् support it, has not much strength. The work was very popular especially among those who wanted to study spoken Sanskrit with ease and attained for several years a very prominent place among text-books on grammar especially in Behar, Bengal and Gujarat. It has got a large number of glosses and commentary works, many of which are in a manuscript form at present. Its last chapter (Caturtha-Adhyāya) is ascribed to Vararuci. As the arrangement of topics is entirely different from Pāṇini's order, inspite of considerable resemblance of Sūtras and their wording, it is probable that the work was based on Pāṇini but composed on the models of ancient grammarians viz. Indra, Śākaṭāyana and others whose works, although not available now, were available to the author. The grammar Kātantra is also called Kālāpa. A comparison of the Kātantra Sūtras and the Kālāpa Sūtras shows that the one is a different version of the other. The Kātantra Grammar is also called Kaumāra as it is said that the original instructions for the grammar were received by the author from Kumāra or Kārttikeya. For detail see Vol VII Pātañjala Mahābhāṣya published by the D.E. Society, Poona, page 375.

कात्यायन the well-known author of the Vārttikas on the sūtras of Pāṇini. He is also believed to be the author of the Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya and many sūtra works named after him. He is believed to be a resident of South India on the strength of the remark प्रियतद्धिता दाक्षिणात्याः made by Patañjali in connection with the statement ' यथा लौकिकवैदिकेषु ' which is looked upon as Kātyāyana's Vārttika. Kātyā refers to Śākaṣāyana and Śākalya (see Vaj. Prā. III. 9) and mentions Vajapyāyana (I. 2.64. Vā. 35). Vyāḍi (on P. I. 2.64 Vā. 45) and Pauṣkarasādi (on P. 8.4.48). The authorship of Pratiñāsūtra and Bhāṣikasūtra is attributed to him. He is called Vākyakāra and Madhyamamuni. Some scholars say that Vararuci was also another name given to him, in which case the Vārttikakāra Vararuci Kātyāyana has to be looked upon as different from the subsequent writer named Vararuci to whom some works on Prākṛit and Kātantra grammar are ascribed. For details see Mahābhāṣya Vol. VII. pages 193-223 published by the D. E. Society, Poona. See also वार्तिकपाठ below.

Prā. I. 16; XXII. 4; cf. also V. Pr. 1.37. It is also applied to syllables or words in a similar way to indicate the phonetic element of the word as apart from the sense of the word; e. g. यत् एवकारस्ततोन्वयव्यवधारणम् Vyāk. Paribhāṣā; cf. also the words चकारः, हिंकारः; (2) additional purpose served by a word such as an adhikāra word; cf. अधिकः कारः । पूर्वविप्रतिषेधा न पठितव्या भवन्ति M. Bh. on P. I. 3.11.

Śek. Pari. 94. The topic explaining Kāravibhaktis is looked upon as a very important and difficult chapter in treatises of grammar and there are several small compendiums written by scholars dealing with kārakas only. For the topic of Kārakas see P. I. 4.23 to 55, Kāt. II. 4.8-42, Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya Vol. VII. pp.262-264 published by the D. E. Society, Poona.

कारकविभक्तिबलीयस्त्व the dictum that a Kārika case is stronger than an Upapada case, e.g. the accusative case as required by the word नमस्कृत्य, which is stronger than the dative case as required by the word नमः. Hence the word मुनित्रयं has to be used in the sentence मुनित्रयं नमस्कृत्य and not the word मुनित्रयाय cf. उपपदविभक्तेः कारकविभक्तिबलीयसी Pari. Śek. Pari. 94.

काशकृत्स्न an ancient grammarian referred to in earlier grammatical works like Mahābhāṣya आपिशालम् । काशकृत्स्नम् । (Paspasālinika). Bopadeva refers to him, in the beginning of Kavikalpadruma, as one of the eight grammarians. Kāśikā suggests, by the words त्रिककाशकृत्स्नम् । (P. V. 1.58) that the work of Kāśakṛtsna had three adhyāyas. In the अरीहणादि and उपकादि Gaṇas we get the name Kāśakṛtsna. According to Helārāja on Vāk. pad. III. 14.564 Kāśakṛtsna did not accept the sūtra इहेम् । P. V. I. 117.

काशकृत्स्न धातुपाठ a list of roots written by Kāśakṛtsna, a pre-Pāṇinian grammarian whose four sūtras of a Sūtra pāṭha work are available. The Dhātupāṭha is available with a commentary by Cannavīra kavi in Kannada language. The work which has another name Śabdakalāpa, has 130 sūtras. It has nine gaṇas, the जुहोत्यादि having been included under अदादि class. There are about 2500 roots in the work, 500 more than those in Pāṇiniya Dhātupāṭha.

ditya and Vāmana in the 7th century A.D. Nothing definitely can be said as to which portion was written by Jayāditya and which by Vāmana, or the whole work was jointly written. Some scholars believe that the work was called Kāśikā as it was written in the city of Kāśī and that the gloss on the first five Adhyāyas was written by Jayāditya and that on the last three by Vāmana. Although it is written in a scholarly way, the work forms an excellent help to beginners to understand the sense of the pithy Sūtras of Pāṇini. The work has not only deserved but obtained and maintained a very prominent position among students and scholars of Pāṇini's grammar in spite of other works like the Bhāṣāvṛtti, the Prakriyā Kaumudī, the Siddhānta Kaumudī and others written by equally learned scholars. Its wording is based almost on the Mahābhāṣya, which it has followed, avoiding, of course, the scholarly disquisitions occurring here and there in the Mahābhāṣya. Traditionally it is called एकवृत्ति because it is a common treatise on Vedic and classical grammar. It has derived great help from Cāndravṛtti. It appears that many commentary works were written on it, the well-known among them being the Kāśikāvivarāṇapañjikā or Nyāsa written by Jinendrabuddhi and the Padamañjarī by Haradatta. For details see Vyākaraṇamahābhāṣya Vol. VII pp 286-87 published by the D.E. Society, Poona. (2) The name Kāśikā is sometimes found given to their commentaries on standard works of Sanskrit Grammar by scholars, as possibly they were written at Kāśī; as for instance,

(a) Kāśikā on Vaiyākaraṇabhūṣana-sāra by Hari Dīkṣita, and (b) Kāśikā on Paribhāṣenduśekhara by Vaidyānātha Pāyagunḍe.

VI. 4.24), elision of the penultimate vowel (P. VI. 4.98,100), lengthening of the vowel (VI. 4.15), substitution of ऊ (VI. 4.19,21), elision of the final nasal (VI. 4.37), substitution of आ (VI. 4.42). The taddhita affixes which are marked with mute क् cause the Vṛddhi substitute for the first vowel in the word to which they are added.

किञ्करण marking with the mute letter क्, or looking upon as marked with mute क् for purposes mentioned above; (see किञ् above). The word is often used in the Māhābhāṣya; see M.Bh. on I. 1. 3, 5, 46; I. 2. 5. etc.

Pāṇini has not defined the term कृत्य, but he has introduced a topic (अधिकार) by the name कृत्य (P. III. 1.95), and mentioned kṛt affixes therein which are to be called कृत्य right on upto the mention of the affix ष्वल्. in P. III. 1.133; cf. कृत्याः प्राक् ष्वलः P. III. 1.95. The Vedic Saṁhitā or Saṁhitāpāṭha is supposed to be the original one and the Padapāṭha prepared later on, with a view to preserving the Vedic text without any change or modification of a letter, or accent; cf. न लक्षणेन पदकारा अनुवर्त्याः । पदकारैर्नाम लक्षणमनुवर्त्यम् M. In the Mahābhāṣya a learned discussion is held regarding whether जाति is the denotation or व्यक्ति is the denotation. The word जाति is defined in the Mahābhāṣya as follows :—आकृतिग्रहणा जातिलिङ्गानां च न सर्वभाङ् । सङ्कशाख्यातनि-द्राक्षा गोत्रं च चरणैः सह ॥ अपर आह । प्रादुर्भावविनाशाभ्यां सत्त्वस्य युगपदगुणैः । असर्व-लिङ्गां बह्वर्था तुं जातिं कवयो विदुः M.Bh. on IV. 1.63. Some scholars identify him with पूज्यपाददेवनन्दिन् the writer of the जैनेन्द्र-व्याकरण, but this is not possible as पूज्यपाददेवनन्दिन् was a Jain Grammarian who flourished much earlier.

जिह्विदेश mention as जित्; cf. जिह्विदेशः कर्तव्यः M. Bh. on I. 1.68 Vārt. 7. See जित्.

जैनेन्द्रव्याकरण name of a grammar work written by Pūjyapāda Devanandin, also called Siddhanandin, in the fifth century A.D. The grammar is based on the Aṣṭādhyāyī of Pāṇini, the section of Vedic accent and the rules of Pāṇini explaining Vedic forms being, of course, neglected. The grammar is called Jainendra Vyākaraṇa or Jainendra Śabdānuśāsana. The work is available in two versions, one consisting of 3000 sūtras and the other of 3700 sūtras. It has got many commentaries, of which the Mahāvṛtti written by Abhayanandin is the principal one. For details see Jainendra Vyākaraṇa, introduction published by the Bhāratīya Jñānapīṭh, Vārāṇasī.

ज्ञापक lit. indirect or implicit revealer; a word very commonly used in the sense of an indicatory statement. The Sūtras, especially those of Pāṇini, are very laconic and it is believed that not a single word in the Sūtras is devoid of purpose. If it is claimed that a particular word is without any purpose, the object of it being achieved in some other way, the commentators always try to assign some purpose or the other for the use of the word in the Sūtra. Such a word or words or sometimes even the whole Sūtra is called ज्ञापक or indicator of a particular thing. The Paribhāṣās or rules of interpretation are mostly derived by indication (ज्ञापकसिद्ध) from a word or words in a Sūtra which apparently appear to be व्यर्थ or without purpose, and which are shown as सार्थक after the particular indication (ज्ञापन) is drawn from them. The ज्ञापक is shown to be constituted of four parts, वैयर्थ्य, ज्ञापन, स्वस्मिन्धारितार्थ and अन्यत्रफल. For the instances of Jñāpakas, see Paribhāṣenduśekhara. Puruṣottamadeva in his Jñāpakasamuccaya has drawn numerous conclusions of the type of ज्ञापन from the wording of Pāṇini Sūtras. The word ज्ञापक and ज्ञापन are used many times as synonyms although ज्ञापन sometimes refers to the conclusions drawn from a wording which is ज्ञापक or indicator. For instances of ज्ञापक, cf. M. Bh. on Māheśvara Sūtras 1, 3, 5, P. I. 1.3, 11, 18, 23, 51 etc. The word ऊद् in the rule वाह ऊद् is a well-known ज्ञापक of the अन्तरङ्गपरिभाषा. The earliest use of the word ज्ञापक in the sense given above, is found in the Paribhāṣāsūcana of Vyāḍi. The Paribhāṣā works on other systems of grammar such as the Kātantra, the Jainendra and others have drawn similar Jñāpakas from the wording of the Sūtras in their systems. Sometimes a Jñāpaka is not regularly constituted of the four parts given above; it is a mere indicator and is called बोधक instead of ज्ञापक.

ज्ञापकसमुच्चय a work giving a collection of about 400 Jñāpakas or indicatory wordings found in the Sūtras of Pāṇini and the conclusions drawn from them. It was written by Puruṣottamadeva, a Buddhist scholar of Pāṇini's grammar in the twelfth century A.D., who was probably the same as the famous great Vaiyākaraṇa patronized by Lakṣmaṇasena. See पुरुषोत्तमदेव.

ज्ञापकसिद्धं realized from the ज्ञापक wording; the conclusion drawn from an indicative word in the form of Paribhāṣās and the like. Such conclusions are not said to be universally valid; cf. ज्ञापकसिद्धं न सर्वत्र Par. Śek. Pari. 110.7.

ज्ञापनं a conclusion or inference, drawn from a word or words in a Sūtra, with a view to assigning a purpose to that or to those words which otherwise would have been without a purpose. The word is sometimes used in the sense of ज्ञापक, and refers to the word or words supposed to be without any purpose and therefore looked upon as a reason or हेतु for the desired conclusion to be drawn. The words किमेतस्य ज्ञापने प्रयोजनम् occur very frequently in the Mahābhāṣya; cf. M. Bh. on P. I. 1. 11, 14, 19, 55, 68, I. 2.41 etc. etc.

ज्ञापितं concluded or proved by means of a ज्ञापक word or wording; cf. हन्तेः पूर्वविप्रतिषेधो वार्तिकेनैव ज्ञापितः M. Bh. on III. 4.37 Vārt. 3.

ज्ञाप्यमानं indicated or suggested; cf. उत्पातेन ज्ञाप्यमाने (चतुर्थी वाच्या)। वाताय

The affix णल् on account of being marked by the mute letter ण causes वृद्धि to the preceding vowel; the वृद्धि is, however, optional in the case of the 1st pers. (मिप्;) cf. P. VII. 1.91.

औ is substituted for णल् after roots ending in आ; cf. P. VII. 1.34.

णस् tad. affix अस् applied to the word पशू in the sense of collection. The original Vārttika is पशूः सण P. IV. 2.43 Vārt. 3. Some scholars read णस् in the place of सण in the Vārttika which is read as पशूः णस् वक्तव्यः by them.

Kāś. on P. III. 1.26. Roots ending in णिच् (णिजन्त) take the conjugal endings of both the Parasmaipada and the Ātmanepada; cf. णिचश्च P. I. 3.74. They have perfect forms by the addition of आम् with a suitable form of the perfect tense of the root कृ, भू or अस् placed after आम्, the word ending with आम् and the verbal form after it being looked upon as separate words e.g. कारयां चकार कारयां चक्रे etc.; cf. P. III. 1.35, 40. They have the aorist form, with the substitution of the Vikarāṇa च्छ (अ) for च्लि before which the root is reduplicated; e.g. अचीकरत्, अनीभवत् etc.; cf. P. When applied to a vowel at its end, त् signifies only the vowel of that grade only, possessed by such of its varieties which require the same time for their utterance as the vowel marked with त्, e.g. आत् stands for आ with any of the three accents as also pure or nasalised; आत् does not include अ or अ 3 cf. तपरस्तात्कालस्य P. I. 1.70. The use of the indicative mute त् for the above purpose is seen also in the Prātiśākhya works; cf. V. Pr. I. 114 R. T. 234.

Out of the several commentaries on the Siddhāntakaumudī, the Tattvabodhini is looked upon as the most authoritative and at the same time very scholarly. It is supplemented by Jayakṛṣṇamauni on the topic of accents. Nilakaṇṭha Vājapeyi has written Guḍhārthaprakāśikā on it.

सत्त्वदर्श name of a commentary on the Paribhāṣenduśekhara written by M. M. Vasudev Shastri Abhyankar in 1889 A. D. The commentary is more critical than explanatory, wherein the author has given the purpose and the gist of the important Paribhāṣās and has brought out clearly the differences between the school of Bhaṭṭoji and the school of Nāgeśa in several important matters.

सत्पुरुष name of an important kind of compound words similar to the compound word तत्पुरुष i. e. (तस्य पुरुषः), and hence chosen as the name of such compounds by ancient grammarians before Pāṇini. Pāṇini has not defined the term with a view to including such compounds as would be covered by the definition. He has mentioned the term तत्पुरुष in II. 1.22 as Adhikāra and on its strength directed that all compounds mentioned or prescribed thereafter upto Sūtra II. 2.22 be called तत्पुरुष. No definite number of the sub-divisions of तत्पुरुष is given ; but from the nature of compounds included in the तत्पुरुष-अधिकार, the sub-divisions विभक्तितत्पुरुष cf. P. II. 1.24 to 48, समानाधिकरणतत्पुरुष cf. P. II. 1.49 to 72 (called by the name कर्मधारय ; acc to P. I. 2.42), संख्या-तत्पुरुष (called द्विगु by P. II. 1.52), अवयवतत्पुरुष or एकदेशिततत्पुरुष cf. P. II. 2.1-3, व्यधिकरणतत्पुरुष cf. P. II. 2.5, नञ्प्रत्ययतत्पुरुष cf. P. II. 2.6, उपपदतत्पुरुष cf. P. II. 2.19, प्रादितत्पुरुष cf. P. II. 2.18 and ण्युत्तरतत्पुरुष cf. P. II. 2.20 are found mentioned in the commentary literature on standard classical works. Besides these, a peculiar tatpuruṣa compound mentioned by Pāṇini in II. 1.72, is popularly called मयूरन्यसक्तादिसमास. Pāṇini has defined only two out of these varieties viz. द्विगु as संख्यापूर्वो द्विगुः P. II. 1.23, and कर्मधारय as तत्पुरुषः समानाधिकरणः कर्मधारयः P. I. 2.42. The Mahābhāṣyakāra has described तत्पुरुष as उत्तरपदार्थप्रधानस्तत्पुरुषः ; cf. M. Bh. on II. 1.6, II. 1.20, II. 1.49, etc., and as a consequence it follows that the gender of the tatpuruṣa compound word is that of the last member of the compound ; cf. परवह्निं द्रव्यतत्पुरुषयोः P. II. 4.26 ; cf. also तत्पुरुषश्चापि कः परवह्निं प्रयोजयति । यः पूर्वपदार्थप्रधानः एकदेशि-समासः अर्थविपलीति । यो ह्युत्तरपदार्थप्रधानो दैवकृतं तस्य परवह्निम्, M. Bh. on II. 4.26. Sometimes, the compound gets a gender different from that of the last word ; cf. P. II. 4.19-37. The tatpuruṣa compound is optional as generally all compounds are, depending as they do upon the desire of the speaker. Some tatpuruṣa compounds such as the प्रादितत्पुरुष or उपपदतत्पुरुष are called लिङ्ग and hence their constituent words, with the case affixes applied to them, are not noticed separately ; cf. P. II. 2.18, 19. In some cases स् as a compound-ending (समासान्त) is added ; e. g. राजधुरा, नान्दीपुरस् ; cf. P. V. 4.74 ; in some cases अच् (अ) is added ; cf. P. V. 4.75 to 87 ; while in some other cases टच् (अ) is added, the mute letter द् signifying the addition of डीप् (ई) in the feminine gender ; cf. P. V. 4.91-112. For details see p.p. 270-273 Mahābhāṣya Vol. VII. published by the D. E. Society, Poona.

तदन्तविधि a peculiar feature in the interpretation of the rules of Pāṇini, laid down by the author of the Sūtras himself by virtue of which an adjectival word, qualifying its principal word, does not denote itself, but something ending with it also ; cf. येन विधिस्तदन्तस्य P. I. 1.72. This feature is principally noticed in the case of general words or adhikāras which are put in a particular rule, but which occur in a large number of subsequent rules ; for instance, the word प्रातिपदिकात्, put in P. IV. 1.1, is valid in every rule upto the end of chapter V and the words अतः, उतः, यञः etc. mean अदन्तात्, उदन्तात्, यञन्तात् etc. Similarly the words धातोः (P. III. 1.91) and अङ्गस्य (P. VI. 4.1) occurring in a number of subsequent rules have the adjectival words to them, which are mentioned in subsequent rules, denoting not only those words, but words ending with them. In a large number of cases this feature of तदन्तविधि is not desirable, as it goes against arriving at the desired forms, and exceptions deduced from Pāṇini's rules are laid down by the Vārttikakāra and later grammarians; cf. Par. Śek. Pari. 16, 23, 31; also Mahābhāṣya on P. I. 1.72.

तदादिविधि a convention similar to the तदन्तविधि of Pāṇini, laid down by the Vārttikakāra laying down that in case an operation is prescribed for something followed by a single letter, that single letter should be taken to mean a word beginning with that single letter; cf. यस्मिन्विधिस्तदादावल्ग्रहणे P. I. 1.72 Vārt. 29; Par. Śek. Pari. 33.

तद्गुणसंज्ञिज्ञान lit. connection with what is denoted by the constituent members; the word refers to a kind of Bahuvrīhi compound where the object denoted by the compound includes also what is denoted by the constituent members of the compound; e. g. the compound word सर्वादि in the rule सर्वादीनि सर्वनामानि includes the word सर्व among the words विश्व, उभय and others, which alone form the अन्यपदार्थ or the external thing and not merely the external object as mentioned in Pāṇini's rule अनेकमन्यपदार्थे (P. II. 2. 24); cf. भवति बहुव्रीहौ तद्गुणसंज्ञिज्ञानमपि । तद्यथा । चित्रवाससमानय । लोहितोष्णीषा ऋत्विजः प्रचरन्ति । तद्गुण आनीयते तद्गुणाश्च प्रचरन्ति M. Bh. on I. 1.27. For details cf. Mahābhāṣya on P. I. 1.27 as also Par. Śek. Pari. 77.

तद्धित a term of the ancient pre-Pāṇinian grammarians used by Pāṇini just like सर्वनामन् or अव्यय without giving any specific definition of it. The term occurs in the Nirukta of Yāska and the Vājasaneyi-Prātisākhya; cf. अथ तद्धितसमासेषु एकपर्वसु चानेकपर्वसु पूर्वं पूर्वमपरमपरं प्रविभज्य निश्चयात् । दण्ड्यः पुरुषः । दण्डमर्हतीति वा, दण्डेन संपद्यते इति वा Nir. II. 2; also cf. तिङ्कृततद्धितचतुष्टयसमाप्ताः शब्दमयम् Vāj. Prāti. I. 27. It is to be noted that the word तद्धित is used by the ancient grammarians in the sense of a word derived from a substantive (प्रातिपदिक) by the application of suffixes like अ, यत् etc., and not in the sense of words derived from roots by affixes like अन्, ति etc. which were termed नामकरण, as possibly contrasted with the word तद्धित used by Yāska in II. 5. Pāṇini has used the word तद्धित not for words, but for the suffixes which are added to form such words at all places (e. g. in I. 1.38, IV. 1.17, 76, VI. 1.61 etc.) In fact, he has begun the enumeration of taddhita affixes with the rule तद्धिताः (P. IV. 1. 76) by putting the term तद्धित for affixes such as ति, ध्यङ्, अण् etc. which are mentioned thereafter. In his rule कृतद्धितसमासाश्च and in the Vārttika समासकृतद्धिताव्ययम् (I. 4.1 Vārt. 41) which are similar to V. Pr. I. 27 quoted above, the word तद्धित appears to be actually used for words derived from nouns by secondary affixes, along with the word कृत् which also means words derived from roots, although commentators have explained there the terms कृत् and तद्धित for कृदन्त and तद्धितान्त. The term तद्धित is evidently echoed in the Sūtra तस्मै हितम् which, although it is not the first Sūtra of the taddhita section, may imply that there were possibly long lists of secondary nouns with the senses of secondary suffixes, and तद्धित was perhaps, the first sense given there. The number of taddhita suffixes mentioned by Pāṇini is quite a large one ; there are in fact 1110 rules given in the taddhita section covering almost two Adhyāyas viz. from P. IV. 1.76 to the end of the fifth Adhyāya. द्रव्यसमुद्देश name given to the second section of the third Kāṇḍa of Vākyapadiya which deals with substance (द्रव्य). The substance in its essential nature which is permanent, is discussed in this section. The fourth section which is named श्रूयोद्रव्यसमुद्देश, containing only four verses, deals also with 'द्रव्य' but with reference to its individual nature as one thing differing from another. cp. द्रव्यं च द्विविधं । पारमार्थिकं सांख्यवहारिकं च । तत्र द्वितीयं भेषभेदकमस्तानेन गुणसमुद्देशे वक्ष्यते-वस्तूपलक्षणे तत्र (Vāk. pad. III. 5.5) इत्यादिना । इह तु पारमार्थिकं द्रव्यं निरूप्यते। (हेला. on Vāk. pad. III. 2.1). The word गुणसमुद्देशे is significant; it suggests that the fourth section which is named भूयोद्रव्यसमुद्देश formed only a part of the गुणसमुद्देश (Vāk. pad. III. 5. 1-9), and along with the missing Lakṣaṇasamuddeśa, the number of samuddeśas or sections of the third Kāṇḍa was fourteen. cp. आगम-अंशाखिलकप्रमादादिना वा लक्षणसमुद्देशश्च पदकाण्ड-मध्ये न प्रसिद्धः । (cp. Puṅyarāja on Vāk. pad. II. 77-83.

Bh. Āhnika 1 Vārt. 18.

द्रुता one of the three Vṛttis or styles of utterance mentioned in the Prātiśākhya works and quoted in the Mahābhāṣya; cf. तिष्ठो वृत्तीरुपदिशन्ति वाचो विलम्बितां मध्यमां च द्रुतां च । अभ्यासार्थे द्रुतां वृत्तिं प्रयोगार्थे तु मध्यमाम् । शिष्याणामुपदेशार्थं कुर्याद् वृत्तिं विलम्बिताम् । R. Pr. XIII. 18, 19; cf. ये हि द्रुतायां वृत्तौ वर्णाखिभागाधिकास्ते मध्यमायां, ये मध्यमायां वर्णाखिभागाधिकास्ते विलम्बितायाम् । M. Bh. on P. I. 1.70 Vārt. 4. The utterance of a letter takes $\frac{1}{3}$ rd time more in the मध्यमवृत्ति than in the द्रुतवृत्ति, while in the विलम्बितवृत्ति it takes $\frac{1}{3}$ rd more than in the मध्यमवृत्ति. In short, the utterance of the same letter takes in the three vṛttis, Druta, Madhyama and Vilambita the quantity of time in proportion of 9:12:16 respectively.

For details see Mahābhāṣya on II. 2.29. The dvandva compound takes place only when the speaker intends mentioning the several objects together i.e. when there is, in short, सहविवक्षा or युगपदधिकरणवचनता; cf. अनुस्यूतेव मेदाभ्यां एकौ प्रयुषोपजायते । यस्यां सहविवक्षां तामाहुर्द्वन्द्वै-कशेषयोः ॥ Śr. Bh. on P. I. 1.3 Vārt. 6; I. 1.12; etc. The term विप्रतिषेध occurring in the rule विप्रतिषेधे परं कार्यम् P. I. 4.2 is evidently defined in this way by the word द्विकार्ययोग in the Mahābhāṣya.

Pāṇini has not defined the term as such, but he has given a long list of roots under ten groups, named daśagaṇī, which includes about 2200 roots which can be called primary roots as contrasted with secondary roots. The secondary roots can be divided into two main groups (1) roots derived from roots (धातुजधातवः) and (2) roots derived from nouns (नामधातवः). The roots derived from roots can further be classified into three main subdivisions: (a) causative roots or गिजन्त, (b) desiderative roots or सन्नन्त, (c) intensive roots or यङन्त and यङ्लुगन्त; while roots derived from nouns or denominative roots can further be divided into क्यजन्त, काम्यजन्त, क्यङन्त, क्यषन्त, गिङन्त, विव्वन्त, and the miscellaneous ones (प्रकीर्ण) as derived from nouns like कण्डू (कण्डूनादि)

by the application of the affix यद् or from nouns like सत्य, वेद, पाश, मुण्ड, मिश्र, etc. by the application of the affix णिच्. Besides these, there are a few roots formed by the application of the affix आय and ईय (ईयद्). All these roots can further be classified into Parasmaipadin or Parasmaibhāṣā, Ātmanepadin or Ātmanebhāṣā and Ubhayapadin. Roots possessed of a mute grave (अनुदात्त) vowel or of the mute consonant ह् added to the root in the Dhātupāṭha or ending in the affixes यद्, क्यद् etc. as also roots in the passive voice are termed Ātmanepadin; while roots ending with the affix णिच् as also roots possessed of a mute circumflex vowel or a mute consonant ञ् applied to them are termed Ubhayapadin. All the rest are termed Parasmaipadin. There are some other mute letters or syllables applied by Pāṇini to the roots in his Dhātupāṭha for specific purposes; e.g. ए at the end to signify prohibition of वृद्धि to the penultimate अ in the aorist, e.g. अकसीत् cf. P. VII. 2.5; इर् to signify the optional substitution of अ or अह् for the affix च्लि of the aorist, e.g. अभिदत्, अभिस्तीत्; cf. P. VII. 2.16; इ to signify the addition of a nasal after the last vowel e.g. निन्दति from निदि, cf. P. VII. 1.58; ऋ to signify the prohibition of ह्रस्व to the penultimate long vowel before णिच्, e.g. अज्ञासत्, cf. P. VII. 4.2; ल् to signify the substitution of अह् for च्लि in the aorist, e.g. अगमत्, cf. P. III. 1.55; ओ to signify the substitution of न् for त् of the past pass. part. e.g. लग्नः, आपीनः, सूनः, दूनः etc.; cf. P. VIII. 2.45. Besides these, the mute syllables लि, टु and डु are prefixed for specific purposes; cf. P. III. 2.187, III. 3.89 and III. 3.88. The term धातु is a sufficiently old one which is taken by Pāṇini from ancient grammarians and which is found used in the Nirukta and the Prātiśākhya works, signifying the 'elemental (radical) base' for nouns which are all derivable from roots according to the writers of the Nirukta works and the grammarian Śākaṭyana; cf. नाम च धातुजमाह निरुक्ते व्याकरणे शकटस्य च लोकम् M. Bh. on P. III. 3.1. धात्वर्थ lit. meaning of a root, the verbal activity, named क्रिया or भाव; cf. धात्वर्थः क्रिया; M. Bh. on III. 2.84, III. 2.115. When the process of the verbal activity is complete, the completed activity is looked upon as a substantive or dravya and a word denoting it, such as पाक, or याग does not get conjugational affixes, but it is regularly declined like a noun. Just as स्वार्थ, द्रव्य, लिङ्ग, संख्या, and कारक are given as प्रातिपदिकार्थ, in the same manner क्रिया, काल, पुरुष, वचन or संख्या, and कारक are given as धात्वर्थ, as they are shown by a verbal form, although strictly speaking verbal activity (क्रिया or भाव) alone is the sense of a root, as stated in the Mahābhāṣya. For details see Vaiyāk. Bh. Sāra, where it is said that fruit (फल) and effort (व्यापार) are expressed by a root, cf. फलन्यापारस्योर्धातुः. The word is defined as सत्त्वप्रधानानि नामानि by standard grammarians; cf. Nir. I. 1.; cf. also सत्त्वाभिधायकं नाम, R. Pr. XIII. 8; V. Pr. VIII. 49 and com. thereon. Pāṇini divides words into two categories only, viz. सुबन्त and लिङन्त and includes नामन्, उपसर्ग and निपात under सुबन्त. The Śrīngāra-prakāśa defines नामन् as follows— अनपेक्षितशब्दव्युत्पत्तीनि सत्त्वभूतार्थाभिधायीनि नामानि । तानि द्विविधानि । आविष्टलिङ्गानि अनाविष्टलिङ्गानि च । The word नामन् at the end of a ṣaṣṭhī-tatpuruṣa compound signifies a name or Saṃjñā e.g. सर्वनामन्, दिङ्नामन्, छन्दोनामन्; cf. also Bhāṣā-vṛtti on संज्ञायां कन्थोशीनरेषु P. II. 4.20 and संज्ञायां श्रुतौ P. III. 2.46 where the author of the work explains the word संज्ञायां as नाम्नि. It was first used by Vārtikakāra when the musical accents came in vogue. cf. also the words शेषनिघात, सर्वनिघात, etc.; cf. समानवाक्ये निघातयुष्मदस्मदादेशाः P. VIII. 1.18 Vārt. 5.

I. 1 ; (2) constant ; not liable to be set aside by another ; cf. उपबन्धस्तु देशाय नित्यम्, न रुन्धे नित्यम् । नित्यशब्दः प्राप्यन्तरनिषेधार्थः T. Pr. Pari. 42.

नित्यबलीयस्त्व possession of greater force ; the word is used in connection with rules that are called नित्य. See नित्य (7).

नित्यसमास an invariably effective compound ; the term is explained as अस्वपदविग्रहो नित्यसमासः, i.e. a compound whose dissolution cannot be shown by its component words as such ; e.g. the dissolution of कुम्भकारः cannot be shown as कुम्भं कारः, but it must be shown as कुम्भं करोति सः । The upapadasamāsa, the gatisamāsa and the dative tatpuruṣa with the word अर्थ are examples of नित्यसमास.

नित्यानन्दपर्वतीय a scholar of Sanskrit Grammar who wrote glosses on the Mahābhāṣyapradīpa, on the Laghu-śabdenduśekhara, and on the Paribhāṣenduśekhara. He was a resident of Benares where he coached many pupils in Sanskrit Grammar. He lived in the first half of the nineteenth century.

निदर्शन illustration ; cf. पर्याप्तो हेकः पुलकः स्यात्वा निदर्शनाय M. Bh. on I. 4.23 Vārt. 15 ; cf. also इला साह्या चात्र निदर्शनानि R. Pr. I. 22.

निपात a particle which possesses no gender and number, and the case termination after which is dropped or elided. Nipāta is given as one of the four categories of words viz. नामन्, आख्यात, उपसर्ग and निपात by all the ancient writers of Prātiśākhya, Vyākaraṇa and Nirukta works ; cf. Nir. I. 4, M. Bh. on I. 1. Āhnika 1, R. Pr. XII. 8 etc. The word is derived from the root पत् with नि by Yāska who has mentioned three subdivisions of Nipātas उमार्थे, कर्मोपसंग्रहार्थे and पदपूरणे ; cf. अथ निपाताः । उच्चावचेष्वर्थेषु निपतन्ति । अप्युपमार्थे । अपि कर्मोपसंग्रहार्थे । अपि पदपूरणाः । Nir. I. 4. The Nipātās are looked upon as possessed of no sense ; cf. निपातः पादपूरणः R. Pr. XII. 8, V. Pr. VIII. 50, (com. by Uvvaṭa). Pāṇini has not given any definition of the word निपात, but he has enumerated them as forming a class with च at their head in the rule चादयोऽसत्त्वे where the word असत्त्वे conveys an impression that they possess no sense, the sense being of two kinds सत्त्वं and सव, and the Nipātās not possessing any one of the two. The impression is made rather firm by the statement of the Vārttikakāra- “ निपातस्यानर्थकस्य प्रातिपदिकत्वम् ” P. I. 2. 45 Vārt. 12. Thus, the question whether the Nipātas possess any sense by themselves or not, becomes a difficult one to be answered. Although the Rkprātiśākhya in XII. 8 lays down that the Nipātas are expletive, still in the next verse it says that some of them do possess sense ; cf. निपातानामर्थवशान्निपातनादनर्थकानामितरे च सार्थकाः on which Uvvaṭa remarks केचन निपाताः सार्थकाः केचन निरर्थकाः । The remark of Uvvaṭa appears to be a sound one as based on actual observation, and the conflicting views have to be reconciled. This is done by Bhartṛhari who lays down that Nipātas never directly convey the sense but they indicate the sense. Regarding the sense indicated by the Nipātas, it is said that the sense is never Sattva or Dravya or substance as remarked by Pāṇini ; it is a certain kind of relation and that too, is not directly expressed by them but it is indicated. Bhoja in his Śṛṅgāraprakāśa gives a very comprehensive definition of Nipāta as :-जात्यादिप्रवृत्तिनिमित्तानुपप्राहित्वेनासत्त्वभूतार्थभिधायिनः अलिङ्गसंख्याशक्त्य उच्चावचेष्वर्थेषु निपतन्तीत्यव्ययविशेषा एव चादयो निपाताः । He gives six varieties of them, viz. विध्यर्थे, अर्थवादाय, अनुवादाय, निषेधार्थे, विधिनिषेधार्थे and अविधिनिषेधार्थे, and mentions more than a thousand of them. For details see Bhartṛhari's Vākyapadīya II. 189-206.

निपातद्योतकत्वं the view that the nipātas and the upasargas too, as contrasted with nouns, pronouns and other indeclinables, only indicate the sense and do not denote it ; this view, as grammarians say, was implied in the Mahābhāṣya and was prominently given in the Vāk-yapadīya by Bhartṛhari which was followed by almost all later grammarians. See निपात.

निपातन a word given, as it appears, without trying for its derivation, in authoritative works of ancient grammarians especially Pāṇini; cf. दाण्डिनायनहास्तिनायन० P. VI. 4.174, as also अचतुरविचतुर० V. 4.77 etc. etc. The phrase निपातनास्तिदम् is very frequently used by Patañjali to show that some technical difficulties in the formation of a word are not sometimes to be taken into consideration, the word given by Pāṇini being the correct one; cf. M. Bh. on I. 1.4, III. 1.22 etc. etc.; cf. also the usual expression वाचकान्येव निपातनानि. The derivation of the word from पत् with नि causal, is suggested in the Ṛk Prātiśākhya where it is stated that Nipātas are laid down or presented as such in manifold senses; cf. R. Pr. XII. 9; cf. also धातुसाधनकालानां प्राप्स्यर्थं नियमस्य च । अनुबन्धविकाराणां रूढ्यर्थं च निपातनम् ॥ M. Bh. Pradipa on P. V. 1.114; cf. also M. Bh. on II. 1.27.

निपातनस्वर the accent, with which the Nipātana word is expressed in the Sūtra, which is said to prevail over the accent which ordinarily should be possessed by the word; cf. स निपातनस्वरः प्रकृतिस्वरस्य वाचको भविष्यति M. Bh. on P. I. 1.56 Vārt. 23; cf. also M. Bh. on I. 3.3, VI. 1.123 etc.

निपातानर्थकत्व the view prominently expressed by the Vārttikakāra that nipātas do not possess any sense, which was modified by Bhartṛhari who stated that they do possess sense which, of course, is indicated and not expressed. See निपात.

निपातान्ययोपसर्गवृत्ति a short treatise explaining and illustrating the use of indeclinables, written by a grammarian named Tilāk who probably lived in Kāśmīra.

निवन्धन the word is used in the sense of root-cause or support, by Bhartṛhari in Vākyapadīya, cp. I. 13; II. 127, 132, 297, 434; III. 12.5 etc.

II. 3.36 Vārt. 6 and illustrated by the usually quoted verse चर्मणि द्वीपिने हन्ति दन्तयोर्हन्ति कुञ्जरम् । केशेषु चमरीं हन्ति सीम्नि पुष्कलको हतः ॥ M. Bh. on II. 3.36 Vārt. 6, also cf. Kāś. on P. I. 1.57.

निमित्तानुविधान Action in accordance with the cause as the application of the gender and case affixes to the adjective in accordance with the noun qualified by it. cp. Vāk. pad. III. 14. 310, 311.

निमित्तापायपरिभाषा a popular name given by grammarians to the maxim निमित्तापाये नैमित्तिकस्याप्यपायः, a thing, which is brought into existence by a cause, disappears on the disappearance of the cause. The maxim is not, of course, universally applicable. For details see Par. Śek. Pari. 56, Sira. Pari. 99, निमित्तिन् an affix or an augment or a substitute taking place on account of certain formal causes or nimittas; cf. निर्जातार्थो निमित्तमनिर्जातार्थो निमित्ती, इह च प्रत्ययोऽनिर्जातः प्रकृत्युपपदोपाधयो निर्जातः M. Bh. on III. i. 1 Vārt. 2.

नियत (1) regulated in size or number; definitely fixed; the word नियत is used in grammar in connection with the nimitta or nimittin in a grammatical operation prescribed by a rule, which, or a part of which, is shown to be superfluous unless there is laid down a regulation; cf. शेषग्रहणं कर्तव्यम् । शेषनियमार्थम् । प्रकृत्यर्थो नियतौ प्रत्यया अनियतास्ते शेषेऽपि प्राप्नुवन्ति M. Bh. on I. 3.12 Vārt. 6; (2) The grave accent; cf. उदात्तपूर्वं नियतं...स्वर्गते R. Pr. III. 9.

XI. 25; (3) name of a Saṁdhi when a visarga is changed into रेफ and then omitted and the preceding vowel is lengthened; cf. ह्रस्वस्याकामनियता उभाविभौ R. Pr. IV. 9; cf. also P. VIII. 3.14 and VI. 3.111.

नियम (1) restriction; regulation; binding; the term is very frequently used by grammarians in connection with a restriction laid down with reference to the application of a grammatical rule generally on the strength of that rule, or a part of it, liable to become superfluous if the restriction has not been laid down; cf. M. Bh. on I. 1.3, Kās. on I. 3.63, VI. 4.11; cf. also the frequently quoted dictum अनियमे नियमकारिणी परिभाषा; (2) limitation as contrasted with विकल्प or कामचार; cf. अनेकप्राप्तावेकस्य नियमो भवति शेषेष्वनियमः; पटुशुद्धशुद्धाः पटुशुद्धाश्च इति; M. Bh. on II. 2. 34 Vārt. 2; (3) a regulating rule; a restrictive rule, corresponding to the Parisaṁkhyā statement of the Mīmāṁsakas, e. g. the rule अनुदात्तङित आत्मनेपदम् P. I. 3.12; the grammarians generally take a rule as a positive injunction avoiding a restrictive sense as far as possible; cf. the dictum विधिनियमसंभवे विधिरेव ज्यायान्. Par. Śek. Pari. 100; the commentators have given various kinds of restrictions, such as प्रयोगनियम, अभिधेयनियम, अर्थनियम, प्रत्ययनियम, प्रकृतिनियम, संज्ञानियम etc. etc.; (4) grave accent or anudāta; cf. उदात्तपूर्वं नियतम् R. Pr. III. 9; see नियत (2).

निरवकाश possessed of no scope of, or occasion for, application; the word अनवकाश is also used in this sense. The niravakāśa rules always set aside the general rules which are always present wherever they i.e. the niravakāśa rules are possible to be applied. Niravakāśatva is looked upon as one of the two criteria for वाच or sublation, the other one being सामान्यविशेषभाव as illustrated by the usual maxim, known as तत्क्रौण्डिन्यन्याय. See तत्क्रौण्डिन्यन्याय; cf. also अनवकाशा हि विधयो वाचका भवन्ति Par. Śek. on Pari. 64.

निरुक्त name of a class of works which were composed to explain the collections of Vedic words by means of proposing derivations of those words from roots as would suit the sense. The Nirukta works are looked upon as supplementary to grammar works and there must have been a good many works of this kind in ancient times as shown by references to the writers of these viz. Upamanyu, Śākaṭāyana, Śākapūṇi, Śākapūrti and others, but, out of them only one work composed by Yāska has survived; the word, hence has been applied by scholars to the Nirukta of Yāska which is believed to have been written in the seventh or the eighth century B.C. i.e. a century or two before Pāṇini. The Nirukta works were looked upon as subsidiary to the study of the Vedas along with works on phonetics (शिक्षा), rituals (कल्प), grammar (व्याकरण) prosody (छन्दस) and astronomy (ज्योतिष) and a mention of them is found made in the Chāndogyopaniṣad. As many of the derivations in the Nirukta appear to be forced and fanciful, it is doubtful whether the Nirukta works could be called scientific treatises. The work of Yāska, however, has got its own importance and place among works subsidiary to the Veda, being a very old work of that kind and quoted by later commentators. There were some glosses and commentary works written upon Yāska's Nirukta out of which the one by Durgācārya is a scholarly one. It is doubtful whether Durgācārya is the same as Durgasīmha, who wrote a Ṽṛtti or gloss on the Kātantra Vyākaraṇa. The word निरुक्त is found in the Prātiśākhya works in the sense of 'explained' and not in the sense of derived; cf. R. Pr. XV. 6; V. Pr. IV. 19, 195.

निरुदोपध a word, the penultimate vowel in which is picked up and taken back, as for instance, the penultimate अ of हन् in the word अंहस् cf. अंहतिश्च अंहश्च अंहुश्च हन्तेनिरुदोपधादिपरीतात् Nir. IV. 25.

निरुपाख्या- (रुता) (existence) without any clear attributes; of a vague nature. cp. Vāk. pad. III. 14.263.

निर्दिश्यमानपरिभाषा a short form for the maxim निर्दिश्यमानस्वादेशा भवन्ति which means 'substitutes take the place of that or its part which has been actually stated or enunciated in the rule (of grammar)' Par. Śek. Pari. 12. For details see Par. Śek. Pari 12.

पञ्चम the fifth consonant of the five classes of consonants; the nasal consonant, called also वर्गपञ्चम; cf. यथा तृतीयास्तथा पञ्चमा आनुनासिक्यवर्जम् M. Bh. on P. I. 1.9 Vārt. 2.

पञ्चमी (1) the fifth case; ending of the fifth or ablative case as prescribed by rules of Pāṇini cf. अपादाने पञ्चमी, P. II. 3-7, 10, etc. (2) the imperative mood; cf. Kāt. III. 1.18.

पञ्चमीनिर्देश statement by the ablative case, cf. इः सि धुद् P. VIII. 3.29; cf. उभयनिर्देशे पञ्चमीनिर्देशो; बलीयान् e.g. इमो ह्रस्वादचि इमुग्निन्त्सम् P. VIII. 3.32, Par. Śék. Pari. 70; cf. also उभयनिर्देशे विप्रतिषेधात्पञ्चमीनिर्देशः M. Bh. on P. I. 1.67 Vārt. 3.

पञ्चवस्तु a grammar work based on the shorter version of Jainendra grammar. The author is Śrutakīrti of eleventh century. It is arranged in different topics.

पञ्चाङ्गव्याकरण a grammatical system with Sūtra, Dhātu, Uṇādi, Gaṇa and Līngānuśāsana.

पञ्चालपदवृत्ति the usage or the method of the Pañcālas; the eastern method of euphonic combinations, viz. the retention of the vowel अ after the preceding vowel ओ which is substituted for the Visarga; e. g. यो अस्मै; cf. R. Pr. II. 12; T. Pr. XI. 19. This vowel अ which is retained, is pronounced like a short ओ or अर्ध-ओकार by the followers of the Sātyamugri and Rāṇāyaniya branches of the Sāmavedins; cf. commentary on T. Pr. XI. 19 as also M. Bh. Ahnika 1.

पटञ् tad, affix पट् in the sense of extent (विस्तार) added to the word अवि; e. g. अविपटम् cf. विस्तारे पटञ्जक्तव्यः P. V. 2.29, Vārt. 2.

पठन oral recital, the word is used in connection with the use of words by the author himself in his text which he is supposed to have handed over orally to his disciples, as was the case with the ancient Vedic and Sūtra works; cf. the words पठित, पठिष्यते, पठ्यते and the like, frequently used in the Mahābhāṣya in connection with the mention of words in the Sūtras of Pāṇini.

पण्डित writer of Citprabhā, a commentary on the Paribhāṣenduśekhara. A commentary on the Laghuśabdenduśekhara is also ascribed to him. He was a Gauḍa Brāhmaṇa whose native place was Kurukṣetra. He lived in the beginning of the nineteenth century.

पतञ्जलि the reputed author of the Mahābhāṣya, known as the Pātañjala Mahābhāṣya after him. His date is determined definitely as the second century B.C. on the strength of the internal evidence supplied by the text of the Mahābhāṣya itself. The words Gonardiya and Goṇikāputra which are found in the Mahābhāṣya are believed to be referring to the author himself and, on their strength, he is said to have been the son of Goṇikā and a resident of the country called Gonarda in his days. On the strength of the internal evidence supplied by the Mahābhāṣya, it can be said that Patañjali received his education at Takṣaśilā and that he was, just like Pāṇini, very familiar with villages and towns in and near Vāhika and Gāndhāra countries. Nothing can definitely be said about his birth-place, and although it might be believed that his native place was Gonarda, its exact situation has not been defined so far. About his parentage too, no definite information is available. Tradition says that he was the foster-son of a childless woman named Goṇikā to whom he was handed over by a sage of Gonarda, in whose hands he fell down from the sky in the evening at the time of the offering of water-handfuls to the Sun in the west; cf. पतर + अञ्जलि, the derivation of the word given by the commentators. Apart from anecdotes and legendary information, it can be said with certainty that Patañjali was a thorough scholar of Sanskrit Grammar who had studied the available texts of the Vedic Literature and Grammar and availed himself of information gathered personally by visiting the various schools of Sanskrit Grammar and observing the methods of explanations given by teachers there. His Mahābhāṣya supplies an invaluable fund of information on the ways in which the Grammar rules of Pāṇini were explained in those days in the various grammar schools. This information is supplied by him in the Vārttikas which he has exhaustively given and explained. He had a remarkable mastery over Sanskrit Language which was a spoken one at his time and it can be safely said that in respect of style, the Mahābhāṣya excels all the other Bhāṣyas in the different branches of learning out of which two, those of Śabara-swāmin and Saṅkarācārya, are selected for comparison. It is believed by scholars that he was equally conversant with other śāstras, especially Yoga and Vaidyaka, on which he has written learned treatises. He is said to be the author of the Yoga-sūtras, which, hence, are called Patañjala Yogasūtras, and the redactor of the Carakasamhitā. There are scholars who believe that he wrote the Mahābhāṣya only, and not the other two. They base their argument mainly on the supposition that it is impossible for a scholar to have an equally unmatching mastery over three different śāstras at a time. The argument has no strength, especially in India, where there are many instances of scholars possessing sound scholarship in different branches of learning. Apart from legends and statements of Cakradhara, Nāgeśa and others, about his being the author of three works on three different śāstras, there is a direct reference to Patañjali's proficiency in Grammar, Yoga and Medicine in the work of King Bhoja of the eleventh century and an indirect one in the Vākyapadiya of Bharṛhari of the seventh century A.D. There is a work on the life of Patañjali, written by a scholar of grammar of the South, named Rāmabhadra, which gives many stories and incidents of his life out of which it is difficult to find out the grains of true incidents from the legendary husk with which they are covered. For details, see Patañjala Mahābhāṣya, D. E. Society's edition, Vol. VII pages 349 to 374. See also the word महाभाष्य.

पद a word; a unit forming a part of a sentence; a unit made up of a letter or of letters, possessed of sense; cf. अक्षरसमुदायः पदम् । अक्षरं वा । V. Pr. VIII. 46, 47. The word originally was applied to the individual words which constituted the Vedic Samhitā; cf. पदप्रकृतिः संहिता Nir. I. 17. Accordingly, it is defined in the Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya as 'अर्थः

पदम्' (V. Pr. III. 2) as contrasted with 'वर्णानामेकप्राणयोगः संहिता' (V. Pr. I. 158). The definition 'अर्थः पदम्' is attributed to the ancient grammarian 'Indra', who is believed to have been the first Grammarian of India. Pāṇini has defined the term पद as 'सुसिद्धन्तं पदम्' P. I. 4.14. His definition is applicable to complete noun-forms and verb-forms and also to prefixes and indeclinables where a case-affix is placed and elided according to him; cf. अव्ययादात्तपुः P. II. 4.82. The noun-bases before case affixes and tad. affixes, mentioned in rules upto the end of the fifth adhyāya, which begin with a consonant excepting स् are also termed पद by Pāṇini to include parts of words before the case affixes भ्यास्, भिस्, सु etc. as also before the tad. affixes मत्, वत् etc. which are given as separate padas many times in the pada-pāṭha of the Vedas; cf. स्वादिष्वसर्वनामस्थाने P. I. 4.17. See for details the word पदपाठ. There are given four kinds of padas or words viz. नाम, आख्यात, उपसर्ग and निपात in the Nirukta and Prātiśākhya works; cf. also पदमर्थे प्रयुज्यते, विभक्त्यन्तं च पदम् M. Bh. on P. I. 2.64 Vārt. 19, वर्णसमुदायः पदम् M. Bh. on I. 1.21 Vārt. 5, पूर्वपरचोरथोपलब्धौ पदम् Kāt. I. 1.20, पदशब्देनार्थे उच्यते Kaiyaṭa on P. I. 2.42 Vārt. 2; cf. also पद्यते गम्यते अर्थः अनेनेति पदमित्यन्वर्थसंज्ञा Nyāsa on P. III. 1.92. The verb endings or affixes ति, तस् and others are also called पद. The word पद in this sense is never used alone, but with the word परस्मै or आत्मने preceding it. The term परस्मैपद stands for the nine affixes तिप्, तस्, ...मस्, while the term आत्मनेपद stands for the nine affixes त्, आताम् ...महिद्. cf. लः परस्मैपदम्, तडानावात्मनेपदम्. It is possible to say that in the terms परस्मैपद and आत्मनेपद also, the term पद could be taken to mean a word, and it is very likely that the words परस्मैपद and आत्मनेपद were originally used in the sense of 'words referring to something meant for another' and 'referring to something meant for self' respectively. Such words, of course, referred to verbal forms, roughly corresponding to the verbs in the active voice and verbs in the passive voice. There are some modern scholars of grammar, especially linguists, who like to translate परस्मैपद as 'active voice' and आत्मनेपद as 'passive voice'. Pāṇini appears, however, to have adapted the sense of the terms परस्मैपद and आत्मनेपद and taken them to mean mere affixes just as he has done in the case of the terms कृत् and तद्धित. Presumably in ancient times, words current in use were grouped into four classes by the authors of the Nirukta works, viz. (a) कृत् (words derived from roots) such as कर्ता, कारकः, भवनम् etc., (b) तद्धित (words derived from nouns) such as गार्ग्यः, काषायम्, etc., (c) Parasmaipada words viz. verbs such as भवति, पचति, and (d) Ātmanepada words i.e. verbs like दधते, वर्धते. etc. Verbs करोति and कुर्वते or हरति and हरते were looked upon as both परस्मैपद words and आत्मनेपद words. The question of simple words, as they are called by the followers of Pāṇini, such as नरः, तद्, गो, अश्वः, and a number of similar underived words, did not occur to the authors of the Nirukta as they believed that every noun derivable, and hence could be included in the कृत् words.

पदकाण्ड (1) a term used in connection with the third section of the Vākya-padiya named ब्रह्मकाण्ड also, which deals with padas, as contrasted with the second section which deals with Vākyas; (2) a section of the Aṣṭādhyāyī of Pāṇini, which gives rules about changes and modifications applicable to the pada, or the formed word, as contrasted with the base (अङ्ग) and the suffixes. The section is called पदाधिकार which begins with the rule पदस्य P.VIII. 1.16. and ends with the rule इडाया वा VIII. 3. 54.

पदकार lit. one who has divided the Saṁhitā text of the Vedas into the Pada-text. The term is applied to ancient Vedic scholars शाकल्य, आत्रेय, कात्यायन and others who wrote the Padapāṭha of the Vedic Saṁhitās. The term is applied possibly through misunderstanding by some scholars to the Mahābhāṣyakāra who has not divided any Vedic Saṁhitā, but has, in fact, pointed out a few errors of the Padakāras and stated categorically that grammarians need not follow the Padapāṭha, but, rather, the writers of the Padapāṭha should have followed the rules of grammar. Patañjali, in fact, refers by the term पदकार to Kātyāyana, who wrote the Padapāṭha and the Prātiśākhya of the Vājasaneyi-Saṁhitā in the following statement—न लक्षणेन पदकारा अनुवर्त्याः । पदकारैर्नाम लक्षणमनुवर्त्यम् । यथा लक्षणं पदं कर्तव्यम् M. Bh. on P. III. 1. 109; VI. 1. 207; VIII. 2. 16; cf. also अदीधुरिति पदकारस्य प्रत्याख्यानपक्षे उदाहरणमुपपन्नं भवति (परिभाषासूचन of व्याडि Pari. 42) where Vyādi clearly refers to the Vārtika of Kātyāyana 'दीधीवेव्यो-श्छन्दोविषयत्वात्' P. I. 1.6 Vārt. 1. The misunderstanding is due to passages in the commentary of स्कन्दस्वामिन् on the Nirukta passage I. 3, उच्चटटीका on ऋक्प्रातिशाख्य XIII. 19 and others where the statements referred to as those of Patañjali are, in fact, quotations from the Prātiśākhya works and it is the writers of the Prātiśākhya works who are referred to as padakāras by Patañjali in the Mahābhāṣya.

पदचन्द्रिका a grammar work on the nature of words written by कृष्णशेष of the sixteenth century.

पददर्शिनः The authors of the padapāṭha of the Vedic Saṁhitās e.g. Śākalya, Ātreya, Kātyāyana and others who look upon the pada-text as the original one, as against grammarians who accept Vākya (here Saṁhitā, as unit and authoritative. cf. सूत्रकारस्य भाष्यकारस्य चाल्खण्डपक्षोऽभिरुचितः । तस्माद्भाष्यवादिभिः स्फोटवादिभिरमेदकल्पनमाश्रितम् । काल्पनिकः पदवादोऽभ्युपगतः । मेदप्रतिभासपूर्वकानमेदान् स्वामिमतान् पददर्शिनः पदमेव सत्यं ये मन्यन्ते ते ह्यखण्डं वाक्यं नाम काल्पनिकमाहुः । (पुण्य.) on Vāk. pad. II. 57.

पदपाठ the recital of the Veda text pronouncing or showing each word separately as detached from the adjoining word. It is believed that the Veda texts were recited originally as running texts by the inspired sages, and as such, they were preserved by people by oral tradition. Later on after several centuries, their individually distinct words were shown by grammarians who were called Padakāras. The पदपाठ later on had many modifications or artificial recitations such as क्रम, जटा, घन etc. in which each word was repeated twice or more times, being uttered connectdly with the preceding or the following word, or with both. These artificial recitations were of eight kinds, which came to be known by the term अष्टविक्रमः.

पदप्रकृति a term used in connection with the Saṁhitā text or संहितापाठ which is believed to have been based upon words (पदानि प्रकृतिः यस्याः सा) or which forms the basis of words or word text or the pada-pāṭha (पदानां प्रकृतिः); cf. पदप्रकृतिः संहिता Nir. I.17.

पदप्रभेद lit. divisions of words: parts of speech. There are four parts of speech viz. नामन्, आख्यात, उपसर्ग and निपात given by ancient grammarians and the authors of the Prātiśākhya works, while there are given only two, सुबन्त and तिङन्त by Pāṇini. For details see pp. 145, 146, Vol. VII. Mahābhāṣya D. E. Society's edition.

पदमञ्जरी the learned commentary by Haradatta on the काशिकावृत्ति. Haradatta was a very learned grammarian of the Southern School, and the Benares School of Grammarians follow पदमञ्जरी more than the equally learned another commentary काशिकाविवरणपञ्जिका or न्यास. In the Padamañjarī, Haradatta is said to have given everything of importance from the Mahābhāṣya; cf अधीते हि महाभाष्ये व्यर्था सा पदमञ्जरी. For details see Mahābhāṣya D. E. S. Ed. Vol. VII, P. 390-391.

पदवाक्यरत्नाकर a disquisition on grammar dealing with the different ways in which the sense of words is conveyed. The work consists of a running commentary on his verses by the author Gokulanātha Miśra who, from internal evidence, appears to have flourished before Koṇḍabhaṭṭa and after Kaiyaṭa.

पदवाद or पदवादिपक्ष view that words are real and have an existence and individuality of their own. The view is advocated by the followers of both the Mīmāṃsā schools and the logicians who believe that words have a real existence. Grammarians admit the view for practical purpose, while they advocate that the अखण्डवाक्यरफोट alone is the real sense. cf. Vākyapadīya II.90 and the foll.

पदविधि an operation prescribed in connection with words ending with case or verbal affixes and not in connection with noun-bases or root-bases or with single letters or syllables. पदविधि. is in this way contrasted with अङ्गविधि (including प्रातिपदिकविधि and धातुविधि), वर्णविधि and अक्षरविधि. Such Padavidhis are given in Pāṇini's grammar in Adhyāya 2, Pādas 1 and 2 as also in VI. 1. 158, and in VIII.1.16 to VIII. 3.54 and include rules in connection with compounds, accents and euphonic combinations. When, however, an operation is prescribed for two or more padas, it is necessary that the two padas or words must be syntactically connectible; cf. समर्थः पदविधिः P. II. 1.1.

पदविराम pause between two words measuring two mātrās, or equal to the time required for the utterance of a long vowel; e.g. in इषे त्वोर्जे त्वा, the pause between इषे and त्वा is measured by two mātrās; cf. पदविरामो द्विमात्रः T. Pr. XXII. 13. Some Prātiśākhya texts declare that the pause between two words is of one mātrā as at avagraha; cf. R. Pr. II. 1 and R. T. 35-38.

पदव्यवस्था सूत्रकारिका a metrical work on the determination of the pada or padas of the roots attributed to Vimalakīrti.

पदव्यवस्थामुद्रकारिका a short gloss on the पदव्यवस्थामुद्रकारिका written by Udayakīrti, a Jain grammarian.

पदसंस्कारपक्ष an alternative view with वाक्यसंस्कारपक्ष regarding the formation of words by the application of affixes to crude bases. According to the Padasamskāra alternative, every word is formed independently, and after formation the words are syntactically connected and used in a sentence. The sense of the sentence too, is understood after the sense of every word has been understood; cf. सुविचार्यं पदस्यार्थं वाक्यं गृह्णन्ति सरयः Sira. on Pari. 22. According to the other alternative viz. वाक्यसंस्कारपक्ष, a whole sentence is brought before the mind and then the constituent individual words are formed e.g. राम + सु, गम् + अ + ति । Both the views have got some advantages and some defects; cf. Par. Śek. Pari. 56.

पदस्फोट expression of the sense by the whole word without any consideration shown to its division into a base and an affix. For instance, the word रामेण means 'by Rāma' irrespective of any consideration whether न is the affix or इन is the affix which could be any of the two, or even one, different from the two; cf. उपायाः शिक्षमाणानां बालानामपलापनाः Vākyapadiya II. 240.

पदादि (1) beginning of a word, the first letter of a word; cf. सात्पदाद्योः P. VIII. 3.111; cf. also स्वरितो वानुदात्ते पदादौ P. VIII. 2.6. Patañjali, for the sake of argument, has only once explained पदादि as पदादादिः cf. M. Bh. on I. 1.63 Vārt. 6; (2) a class of words headed by the word पद् which is substituted for पद् in all cases except the nom. and the acc. singular and dual; this class, called पदादि, contains the substitutes पद्, दद्, नस् etc. respectively for पाद्, दन्त, नासिका etc. cf. Kāś. on P. VI. 1.63; (3) the words in the class, called पदादि, consisting of the words पद्, दद्, नस्, मस्, ह्रस्व and निश्च, only, have the case affix after them accented acute; cf. P. VI. 1.171.

पदाधिकार the topic concerning padas i.e. words which are regularly formed, as contrasted with words in formation. Several grammatical operations, such as accents or euphonic combinations, are specifically prescribed together by Pāṇini at places which are said to be in the Padādhikāra formed by sūtras VIII. 1.16 to VIII. 3.54.

पदान्त final letter of a word; cf. P. VI. 1.76, 109; VII. 3.3, 9; VIII. 4.35, 37, 42, 59. At one place, Patañjali for purposes of argument has explained the word as final in a word; cf. नैवं विज्ञायते पदस्यान्तः पदान्तः पदान्तादिति । कथं तर्हि । पदे अन्तः पदान्तः पदान्तादिति M. Bh. on VIII. 4.35.

पदार्थ meaning of a word, signification of a word; that which corresponds to the meaning of a word; sense of a word. Grammarians look upon both—the generic notion and the individual object as Padārtha or meaning of a word, and support their view by quoting the sūtras of Pāṇini जात्याख्यायामेकस्मिन् बहुवचनमन्यतरस्याम् I. 2.58 and सरूपाणामेकशेष एकविभक्तौ I. 2.64; cf. किं पुनराह्वतिः पदार्थं आहोस्विद् द्रव्यम् । उभयमित्याह । कथं ज्ञायते । उभयथा ह्याचार्येण सूत्राणि प्रणीतानि । आह्वति पदार्थं मत्वा जात्याख्यायामित्युच्यते । द्रव्यं पदार्थं मत्वा सरूपाणामित्येकशेष आरस्यते, M. Bh. in I. 1. first Āhnika. In rules of grammar the meaning of a word is generally the vocal element or the wording, as the science of grammar deals with words and their formation; cf. स्वं रूपं शब्दस्याशब्दसंज्ञा, P. I. 1.68. The possession of vocal element as the sense is technically termed शब्दपदार्थकता as opposed to अर्थपदार्थकता; cf. सोसौ गोशब्दः स्वस्मात्पदार्थात् प्रच्युतो यासौ अर्थपदार्थकता तस्याः शब्दपदार्थकः संपद्यते M. Bh. I. 1.44 V. 3. The word पदार्थ means also the categories or the predicaments in connection with the different Śāstras or lores as for instance, the 25 categories in the Sāmkhyaśāstra or 7 in the Vaiśeṣika system or 16 in the Nyāyaśāstra. The Vyākaraṇaśāstra, in this way to state, has only one category the Akhaṇḍavākyaśphoṭa or the radical meaning given by the sentence in one stroke.

पद्मनाभ (I) a grammarian who wrote a treatise on grammar known as the Supadma Vyākaraṇa. He is believed to have been an inhabitant of Bengal who lived in the fourteenth century. Some say that he was a resident of Mithilā. The works Dhātu-Kaumudī, Uṇadivṛtti, Paribhāṣāvṛtti, Yaṅluguṇvṛtti etc. are also fathered upon Padmanābha, (2) A Padmanābha wrote Pṛṣodārādivṛtti. He was son of Gaṇeśvara and grandson of Śripati. He is different from the author of Supadmavyākaraṇa.

पद्य (I) a letter capable of occurring at the end of a word cp. पदान्त्यः पद्यः । Ath. Prā. I.3; (2) forming apart of a word or pada ; cf. उपोच्चमं नानुदात्तं न पद्यम् R. Pr. I. 29 ; cf. also पूर्वपद्यः R. Pr. I. 30. The word is used in this sense (पदावयव) mostly in the Prātiśākhya works. The word is used in the sense of पादसंपन्न, made up of the feet (of verses), in the Rk-Prātiśākhya in contrast with अक्षर्य, made up of syllables. In this sense the word is derived from the word पाद; cf. पद्याक्षर्ये स उक्तिवतः R. Pr. XVIII. 3.

पर (I) subsequent, as opposed to पूर्व or prior; the word is frequently used in grammar in connection with a rule or an operation prescribed later on in a grammar treatise ; cf. विप्रतिषेधे परं कार्यम् P. I. 4.2; (2) occurring after (something); cf. प्रत्ययः परश्च P. III. 1.1 and 2; cf. also तत् परस्वरम् T. Pr. XXI. 2. (3) The word पर is sometimes explained in the sense of इष्ट or desired, possibly on the analogy of the meaning श्रेष्ठ possessed by the word. This sense is given to the word पर in the rule विप्रतिषेधे परं कार्यम् with a view to apply it to earlier rules in cases of emergency ; cf. विप्रतिषेधे परं यदिष्टं तद्भवति M. Bh. on I. 1.3. Vārt. 6; परशब्दः इष्टवानी M. Bh. on I. 2.5, I. 4.2. Vārt. 7; II. 1.69 etc.

परकार्यत्व or परकार्यत्वपक्ष the view that the subsequent संज्ञा or technical term should be preferred to the prior one, when both happen to apply simultaneously to a word. The word is frequently used in the Mahābhāṣya as referring to the reading आ काडारात् परं कार्यम् which is believed to have been an alternative reading to the reading आ कडारादिका संज्ञा; cf. ननु च यस्यापि परकार्यत्वं तेनापि परग्रहणं कर्तव्यम्; M. Bh. on I. 4. 1; also भवेदेकसंज्ञाधिकारे सिद्धम् । परकार्यत्वे तु न सिद्धयति; M.Bh. on II. 1.20, II. 2.24.

परक्रम a term used in the Prātiśākhya works for 'doubling' of a consonant; cf. सातस्थादौ धारयन्तः परक्रमम् । R. Pr. XIV.23.

परग्रहण the use of the word पर; insertion of the word पर in a rule; cf. तेनापि परग्रहणं कर्तव्यम्; M.Bh. on 1.4.1; cf. also परग्रहणमनर्थकम् M.Bh. on III. 1.2.

परत्व posteriority; mention after wards, the word is frequently used in works on grammar in connection with a rule which is mentioned in the treatise after another rule; the posterior rule is looked upon as stronger than the prior one, and is given priority in application when the two rules come in conflict although technically they are equally strong; cf. परस्वादलोपः; M.Bh. on I. 1.4. Vārt 7; परस्वाच्छीभावः I. 1.11 etc.

परस्वन्याय application of the later rule before the former one, according to the dictum laid down by Pāṇini in the rule विप्रतिषेधे परं कार्यम् P. I. 4.2; cf. परस्वन्यायो न लङ्कितो भवति Sira. Pari. 84.

परनिपात lit. placing after; the placing of a word in a compound after another as contrasted with पूर्वनिपात. A subordinate word is generally placed first in a compound, cf. उपसर्जनं पूर्वम्; in some exceptional cases, however, this general rule is not observed as in the cases of राजदन्त and the like, where the subordinate word is placed after the principal word, and which cases, hence, are taken as cases of परनिपात. The words पूर्व and पर are relative, and hence, the cases of परनिपात with respect to the subordinate word (उपसर्जन) such as राजदन्त, प्रासजीविक etc. can be called cases of पूर्वनिपात with respect to the principal word (प्रधान) cf. परइशताः राजदन्तादित्वात्परनिपातः Kāś. on P. II. 1.39.

परनिमित्तक caused by something which follows; the term is used in grammar in connection with something caused by what follows; cf. परनिमित्तकोजादेशः पूर्वविधि प्रति न स्थानिवत् S. K. on अचः परस्मिन्पूर्वविधौ P.I.1.57.

परमप्रकृति the most original base; the original of the original base; the word is used in connection with a base which is not a direct base to which an affix is added, but which is a remote base; cf. आपत्यो वा

गोत्रम् । परमप्रकृतेश्च आपत्यः । M. Bh. on P. IV. 1.89; cf. also M. Bh. on IV. 1.93,98, 163.

परमाणु a time-unit equal to one-half of the unit called अणु, which forms one-half of the unit called मात्रा which is required for the purpose of the utterance of a consonant; cf. परमाणु अर्धणुमात्रा V. Pr. I.61. परमाणु, in short, is the duration of very infinitesimal time equal to the pause between two individual continuous sounds. The interval between the utterances of two consecutive consonants is given to be equivalent to one Paramāṇu; cf. वर्णान्तरं परमाणु R. T. 34.

परमात्रा an appearance of another viz. the supreme, as opposed to स्वमात्रा, appearance of the self inside, cf. सर्वो हि विकार आत्ममात्रेति केषांचिदंशानम् । स तु प्रतिपुरुषमन्तःसन्निविष्टो बाह्य इव प्रत्यवभासते । अपरेषां सर्वप्रबोधरूपः सर्वप्रमेदरूपश्चैकस्य चित्तक्रियातत्त्वस्यायं परिणाम इत्यादि स्वमात्रावादिनां दर्शनम् ।.....अन्ये त्वाहुः— तद्यथा महतीग्नेर्विस्फुलिङ्गाः सूक्ष्माद्बायोरअघनाश्चन्द्रकान्ताद्विभागिन्यस्तोयधाराः पृथिव्या वा सालादयो न्यग्रोधधानाभ्यो वा सावरोहप्रसवा न्यग्रोधा इत्येवमादि परमात्रावादिनां दर्शनम् । स्त्रो. on Vāk. pad. I 129.

पररूप the form of the subsequent letter (परस्य रूपम्). The word is used in grammar when the resultant of the two coalescing vowels (एकादेश) is the latter vowel itself, as for instance, in प्रेजते (प्र+एजते); cf. एङि पररूपम् P. VI. 1.94.

परवलिङ्गता possession of the gender of the final member of a compound word, which, in tatpuruṣa compounds, is the second of the two or the last out of many; cf. परवलिङ्गं द्रव्यतत्पुरुषयोः (P. II.4.26) इति परवलिङ्गता यथा स्यात् M. Bh. on P. V. 4.68; also Vāk. pad. III. 14. 306.

परस्मैपद a term used in grammar with reference to the personal affixes ति, तः etc. applied to roots. The term परस्मैपद is given to the first nine affixes ति, तः, अन्ति, सि, थः, थ, मि, वः and मः, while the term आत्मनेपद is used in connection with the next nine, आत्ताम् etc. ; cf. परस्मै परोदेशार्थफलकं पदम् Vāc. Koṣa. The term परस्मैपद is explained by some as representing the Active Voice as contrasted with the Passive Voice which necessarily is characterized by the Ātmanepada affixes. The term परस्मैभाष in the sense of परस्मैपद was used by ancient grammarians and is also found in the Vārttika आत्मनेभाष-परस्मैभाषयोरुपसंख्यानम् P. VI. 3.8 Vārt. 1. The term परस्मैभाष as applied to roots, could be explained as परस्मै क्रिया (or क्रियाफलं) भाषन्ते इति परस्मैभाषाः and originally such roots as had their activity meant for another, used to take the परस्मैपद affixes, while the rest which had the activity meant for self, took the आत्मनेपद affixes. Roots having activity for both, took both the terminations and were termed उभयपदिनः; also Vāk. pad. III. 12.20.

परस्मैभाष lit. speaking the activity or क्रिया for another ; a term of ancient grammarians for roots taking the first nine personal affixes only यि, ति, तः... मस्. The term परस्मैपदिन् was substituted for परस्मैभाष later on, more commonly. See परस्मैपद above. The term परस्मैभाष along with आत्मनेभाष is found almost invariably used in the Dhātupāṭha attributed to Pāṇini; cf. भू सत्तायाम् । उदात्तः परस्मैभाषः । पधादय उदात्ता अनुदात्ता आत्मनेभाषाः Dhātupāṭha.

It is described as वर्णादिविशेषरहिता चेतनमिश्रा सृष्ट्युपयोगिनी जगदुपादानभूता कुण्डलिनीरूपेण प्राणिनां मूलाधारे वर्तते । कुण्डलिन्याः प्राणवायुसंयोगे परा व्यज्यते । इयं निःस्पन्दा पश्यन्त्यादयः सस्पन्दा अस्या विवर्तः । इयमेव सूक्ष्मस्फोट इत्युच्यते ।

पराङ्गवद्भाव behaviour as having become a part and parcel of another ; treatment of a word as a part of another. The term is used by Pāṇini in connection with a word followed by and connected with a word in the vocative case of which it is looked upon as a part for purposes of accent, e.g. कुण्डेनाटन्, मद्राणां राजन् etc. Here the words अटन् and राजन्, being in the vocative case, are आद्युदात्त, i.e. अ (at the beginning of अटन्) and आ (in राजन्) are acute and as a result all the other vowels in कुण्डेनाटन् and मद्राणां राजन् become अनुदात्त or grave; cf. सुवामन्त्रिते पराङ्गवत्सरे P. II. 1.2.

परादि initial or first of the next or succeeding word; cf. किं पुनरयं पूर्वान्त आहोस्वित्परादिः आहोस्विदमक्तः M. Bh. on P. I. 1.47 Vārt. 3; cf. also M. Bh. on IV. 1.87, IV. 2.91.

परिग्रह also परिग्रहण. (1) acceptance, inclusion; cf. किं प्रयोजनम् । प्रत्ययार्थं परिग्रहार्थम् M. Bh. on P. III. 26.1; (2) repetition of a Saṁhitā word in the Pada recital, technically named वेकष्ट also; repetition of a word with इति interposed; e.g. सुप्रान्या इति सुप्रस अब्याः Rg. परिभाषा an authoritative statement or dictum, helping (1) the correct interpretation of the rules (sūtras) of grammar, or (2) the removal of conflict between two rules which occur simultaneously in the process of the formation of words (पदसिद्धिः), or (3) the formation of correct words. Various definitions of the word परिभाषा are given by commentators, the prominent ones being—परितो व्यापृतां भाषां परिभाषां प्रचक्षते (न्यास); or, परितो भाष्यते या सा परिभाषा प्रकीर्तिता. The word is also defined as विधौ नियमकारिणी परिभाषा (दुर्गसिंहवृत्तिः). परिभाषा can also be briefly defined as the convention of a standard author. Puruṣottamadeva applies the word परिभाषा to the maxims of standard writers, cf. परिभाषा हि न पाणिनीयानि वचनानि; Puru. Pari. 119; while Hari-bhāskara, at the end of his treatise परिभाषाभास्कर, states that Vyāḍi was the first writer on Paribhāṣās. The rules तस्मिन्निति निदिष्टे पूर्वस्य, तस्मादित्युत्तरस्य and others are in fact Paribhāṣā rules laid down by Pāṇini. For the difference between परिभाषा and अधिकार, see Mahābhāṣya on II. 1.1. Many times the writers of Sūtras lay down certain conventions for the proper interpretation of their rules, to which additions are made in course of time according to necessities that arise, by commentators. In the different systems of grammar there are different collections of Paribhāṣās. In Pāṇini's system, apart from commentaries thereon, there are independent collections of Paribhāṣās by Vyāḍi, Bhojadeva, Puruṣottamadeva, Sīradeva, Nilakaṅṭha, Haribhāskara, Nāgeśa and a few others. There are independent collections of Paribhāṣās in the Kātantra, Cāndra, Śākaṭāyana, Jainendra and Hemacandra systems of grammar. It is a noticeable fact that many Paribhāṣās are common, with their wordings quite similar or sometimes identical in the different systems. Generally the collections of Paribhāṣās have got scholiums or commentaries by recognised grammarians, which in their turn have sometimes other glosses or commentaries upon them. The Paribhāṣenduśekhara of Nāgeśa is an authoritative work of an outstanding merit in the system of Pāṇini's Grammar, which is commented upon by more than twentyfive scholars during the last two or three centuries. The total number of Paribhāṣās in the different systems of grammar may well-nigh exceed 500. See परिभाषासंग्रह.

पश्यन्ती name of the second out of the four successive stages in the origination or utterance of a word from the mouth. According to the ancient writers on Phonetics, sound or word (वाक्), which is constituted of air (वायु), originates at the Mūlādhāracakra where it is called परा. It then springs up and it is called पश्यन्ती in the second stage. Thence it comes up and is called मध्यमा in the third stage; rising up from the third stage when the air strikes against the vocal chords in the glottis and comes in contact with the different parts of the mouth, it becomes articulate and is heard in the form of different sounds, when it is called वैखरी; cf. वैखर्या मध्यमायाश्च पश्यन्त्याश्चैतद्वदमुतम् । अनेकतीर्थभेदायास्त्वस्या वाचः परं पदम् ॥ Vākya-padiya I.144, and also cf. पश्यन्ती तु सा चलाचलाप्रतिबद्धसमाधाना संनिविष्टज्ञेयाकारा प्रतिलीनाकारा निराकारा च परिच्छिन्नाथैप्रत्यवभासा संसृष्टार्थप्रत्यवभासा च प्रशान्तसर्वाथैप्रत्यवभासा चैत्यपरिमितभेदा । पश्यन्त्या रूपमनपभ्रंशमसंकीर्णं लोकव्यवहारातीतम् । com. on Vākya-padiya I. 144. cf. also तत्र श्रोत्रविषया वैखरी । मध्यमा हृदयदेशस्था पदप्रत्यक्षानुपपत्त्या व्यवहारकारणम् । पश्यन्ती तु लोकव्यवहारातीता । योगिनां तु तत्रापि प्रकृतिप्रत्ययविभागावगतिरस्ति । परायां तु न इति त्रय्या इत्युक्तम् । Uddyota on चत्वारि वाक्परिमिता पदानि० M. पाणिनि the illustrious ancient grammarian of India who is well-known by his magnum opus, the Aṣṭaka or Aṣṭādhyāyī which has maintained its position as a unique work on Sanskrit grammar unparalleled upto the present day by any other work on grammar, not only of the Sanskrit language, but of any other language, classical as well as spoken. His mighty intelligence grasped, studied and digested not only the niceties of accentuation and formation of Vedic words, scattered in the vast Vedic Literature of his time, but those of classical words in the classical literature and the spoken Sanskrit language of his time in all its different aspects and shades, noticeable in the various provinces and districts of the vast country. The result of his careful study of the Vedic Literature and close observation of the classical Sanskrit, which was a spoken language in his days, was the production of the wonderful and monumental work, the Aṣṭādhyāyī, which gives an authoritative description of the Sanskrit language, to have a complete exposition of which, several life times have to be spent, in spite of several commentaries upon it, written from time to time by several distinguished scholars. The work is a linguist's and not a language teacher's. Some Western scholars have described it as a wonderful specimen of human intelligence, or as a notable manifestation of human intelligence. Very little is known unfortunately about his native place, parentage or personal history. The account given about these in the Kathāsaritsāgara and other books is only legendary and hence, it has very little historical value. The internal evidence, supplied by his work shows that he lived in the sixth or the seventh century B.C., if not earlier, in the north western province of India of those days. Jinendrabuddhi, the author of the Kāśīkāvivarāṇapañjikā or Nyāsa, has stated that the word शलातुर mentioned by him in his sūtra (IV. 3.94) refers to his native place and the word शलातुरीय derived by him from the word शलातुर by that sūtra was, in fact his own name, based upon the name of the town which formed his native place. Pāṇini has shown in his work his close knowledge of, and familiarity with, the names of towns, villages, districts, rivers and mountains in and near Vāhika, the north-western Punjab of the present day, and it is very likely that he was educated at the ancient University of Takṣaśilā. Apart from the authors of the Prātiśākhya works, which in a way could be styled as grammar works, there were scholars of grammar as such, who preceded him and out of whom he has mentioned ten viz. Āpiśali, Śakaṭāyana, Gārgya, Śākalya, Kāśyapa, Bhāradvāja, Gālava, Cākravarmaṇa, Senaka and Sphoṭāyana. The grammarian Indra has not been mentioned by Pāṇini, although tradition says that he was the first grammarian of the Sanskrit language. It is very likely that Pāṇini had no grammar work of Indra before him, but at the same time it can be said that the works of some grammarians mentioned by Pāṇini such as Śakaṭāyana, Āpiśali, Gārgya and others had been based on the work of Indra. The mention of several gaṇas as also the exhaustive enumeration of all the two thousand and two hundred roots in the Dhātupāṭha can very well testify to the existence of systematic grammatical works before Pāṇini of which he has made a thorough study and a careful use in the composition of his Gaṇapāṭha and Dhātupāṭha. His exhaustive grammar of a rich language like Sanskrit has not only remained superb in spite of several other grammars of the language written subsequently, but its careful study is felt as a supreme necessity by scholars of philology and linguistics of the present day for doing any real work in the vast field of linguistic research. For details see pp. 151-154, Vol.

VII of Pāṭaṅjala Mahābhāṣyā, D. E. Society's Edition.

पाणिनिसूत्र called also by the name षट्क or पाणिनीय-षट्क; name given to the Sūtras of Pāṇini comprising eight adhyāyas or books. The total number of Sūtras as commented upon by the writers of the Kāśikā and the Siddhāntakaumudī is, 3983. As nine sūtras out of these are described as Vārttikas and two as Gaṇasūtras by Patañjali, it is evident that there were 3972 Sūtras in the Aṣṭaka of Pāṇini according to Patañjali. A verse current among Vaiyākaraṇa schools states the number to be 3996; cf. त्रीणि सूत्रसहस्राणि तथा नव शतानि च । षण्णवतिश्च सूत्राणां पाणिनिः कृतवान् स्वयम् ॥ The traditional recital by Veda scholars who look upon the Aṣṭādhyāyī as a Vedāṅga, consists of 3983 Sūtras which are accepted and commented upon by all later grammarians and commentators. The Sūtras of Pāṇini, which mainly aim at the correct formation of words, discuss declension, conjugation, euphonic changes, verbal derivatives, noun derivatives and accents. For details see Vol. VII, Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣyā, D. E. Society's edition pp. 152-162.

पाणिनिसूत्रवार्तिक name given to the collection of explanatory pithy notes of the type of Sūtras written mainly by Kātyāyana. The Vārttikas are generally written in the style of the Sūtras, but sometimes they are written in verse also. The total number of Vārttikas is well-nigh above 5000, including Vārttikās in Verse. There are three kinds of Vārttikas ; cf. उक्तानुक्तदुरुक्तानां चिन्ता यत्र प्रवर्तते । तं ग्रन्थं वार्तिकं प्राहुर्वार्तिकज्ञा मनीषिणः ॥ Nāgeśa appears to have divided Vārttikas into two classes as shown by his definition 'सूत्रेऽनुक्तदुस्वतन्विन्ताकरत्वं वातिकत्वम्'. If this definition be followed, many of the Vārttikas given in the Mahābhāṣya as explaining and commenting upon the Sūtras will not strictly be termed as Vārttikas, and their total number which is given as exceeding 5000, will be reduced to about 1400 or so. There are some manuscript copies which give this reduced number, and it may be said that only these Vārttikas were written by Kātyāyana while the others were added by learned grammarians after Kātyāyana. In the Mahābhāṣya there are seen more than 5000 statements of the type of Vārttikas out of which Dr. Kielhorn has marked about 4200 as Vārttikas. At some places the Mahābhāṣyakāra has quoted the names of the authors of some Vārttikas or their schools, in words such as क्रोधीयाः पठन्ति, भारद्वाजीयाः पठन्ति, सौनागाः पठन्ति, etc. Many of the Vārttikas given in the Mahābhāṣya are not seen in the Kāśikāvṛtti, while some more are seen in the Kāśikāvṛtti, which, evidently are composed by scholars who flourished after Patañjali, as they have not been noticed by the Mahābhāṣyakāra. It is very difficult to show separately the statements of the Bhāṣyakāra popularly named 'iṣṭis' from the Vārttikas of Kātyāyana and others. For details see Vol. VII Mahābhāṣya, D. E. Society's edition, pp. 193-214.

पाणिनिसूत्रवृत्ति a gloss on the grammar rules of Pāṇini. Many glosses were written from time to time on the Sūtras of Pāṇini, out of which the most important and the oldest one is the one named Kāśikāvṛtti, written by the joint authors Jayā-ditya and Vāmana in the 7th century A.D. It is believed that the Kāśikāvṛtti was based upon some old Vṛttis said to have been written by कुणि, निर्लेर, चुल्लिमट्टि, श्रोभूति, वररुचि and others. Besides Kāśikā, the famous Vṛtti, and those of कुणि, निर्लेर and others which are only reported, there are other Vṛttis which are comparatively modern. Some of them have been printed, while others have remained only in manuscript form. Some of these are: the Bhāṣāvṛtti by Puruṣottamadeva, Vyākaraṇasudhānidhi by Viśveśvara, Gūḍhārthadīpini by Sadāśivamiśra, Sūtravṛtti by Anambhaṭṭa, Vaiyākaraṇasarvasva by Dharaṇīdhara, Śabdabhūṣana by Nārāyaṇa Paṇḍita, Pāṇini-sūtravṛtti by Rāmacandrabhaṭṭa Tāre and Vyākaraṇadīpikā by Orambhaṭṭa. There are extracts available from a Sūtravṛtti called Bhāṣāvṛtti which is ascribed to Bhartṛhari, but, which is evidently written by a later writer (विमलमति according to some scholars) as there are found verses from Bhāravi and Māgha quoted in it as noticed by Śiradeva in his vṛtti on Pari. 76. Glosses based upon Pāṇini Sūtras, but having a topical arrangement are also available, the famous ones among these being the Prakriyākaumudī by Rāmacandra Śeṣa and the Siddhāntakaumudī by Bhaṭṭoji Dikṣita. The मध्यमकौमुदी and the लघुकौमुदी can also be noted here although they are the abridgments of the Siddhānta Kaumudī. There are Vṛttis in other languages also, written in modern times, out of which those written by Böhlingk, Basu and Renou are well-known.

The rule पूर्वत्रासिद्धम् is taken also as a governing rule i.e. अधिकार laying down that in the last three quarters also of his grammar, a subsequent rule is invalid to the preceding rule. The purpose of this dictum is to prohibit the application of the rules in the last three quarters as also that of a subsequent rule in the last three quarters, before all such preceding rules, as are applicable in the formation of a word, have been given effect to ; cf. एवमिहापि पूर्वत्रासिद्धवचनं आदिशच्छ्रुणप्रतिषेधार्थमुस्मर्ग-

लक्षणभाषार्थं च M.Bh. on P. VIII.2.1 Vārt. 8.

Generally the dictum is that a subsequent rule should supersede the preceding one ; cf. विप्रतिषेधे परं कार्यम् P. I. 4. 2 ; but sometimes the previous rule has to supersede the subsequent one in spite of the dictum विप्रतिषेधे परम्. The author of the Mahābhāṣya has brought these cases of the पूर्वविप्रतिषेध, which are, in fact, numerous, under the rule विप्रतिषेधे परं कार्यम् by taking the word पर in the sense of इष्ट 'what is desired' ; cf. इष्टवाची परशब्दः । विप्रतिषेधे परं यदिष्टं तद्भवतीति । M. This kind of antaraṅgatva is, of course, not admitted by Nāgeśa although mentioned by him ; cf. Par. Śek. Pari. 50.

It has almost about a dozen commentaries of which Prasāda of Viṭṭhala and Prakāśa of Śeṣakṛṣṇa are famous. Prakriyākaumudī has an abridgement called Tattvacandra by Jayanta, a pupil of Rāmacandra. There are glosses like Prakriyā-rañjana by Viśvanātha, Prakriyā-vyākṛti by Viśvakarmā, Prakriyā-ratnāmaṇi by Dhaneśvara, preceptor of Bopadeva.

The conjugational signs (शप्, झ्यन् etc.), the signs of tenses and moods (ञिच्, सिच्, स्य, तास् etc.) and the compound endings (समासान्त) are all called pratyayas according to Pāṇini's grammar, as they are all given in the jurisdiction (अधिकार) of the rule प्रत्ययः III. 1.1, which extends upto the end of the fifth chapter (अध्याय). Śek. Pari. 23. The rule यञिञोश्च, which prescribes the affix फञ् (आयन), has the word यञ् and इञ् which respectively mean यञन्त and इञन्त; in the word परमगार्थार्थायण from परमगार्थे the word गार्थे is looked upon as यञन्त to which फञ् (आयन) is affixed and hence the word परमगार्थार्थायण is arrived at and not पारमगार्थे.

words in a few cases, such as roots or nouns) by mentioning the first and the last only for the sake of brevity. It is a means to obtain brevity of utterance. The term Pratyāhāra is generally used in connexion with brief terms such as अण्, अक्, अच्, हल्, and the like, created by Pāṇini in his grammar by taking any particular letter and associating it with any mute final letter (अनुबन्ध) of the fourteen Śivasūtras with a view to including all letters beginning with the letter uttered and ending with the letter that precedes the mute letter. The practice of using such abbreviations was in existence before Pāṇini, possibly in the grammar attributed to Indra. Bopadeva uses the word Samāhāra for Pratyāhāra. The word प्रत्याहार is not actually used by Pāṇini. It is found in Rkṭantra 1.3, 'प्रत्याहारार्थो वर्णानुबन्धो व्यञ्जनम्। Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya has the same प्रत्याहार as in Pāṇini. The term appears to have come into use after Pāṇini. Pāṇini has not given any definition of the term Pratyāhāra. He has simply given the method of forming the Pratyāhāras and he has profusely used them. For a list of Pratyāhāras used by Pāṇini, see Kāśikā on Māheśvara Sūtras. According to Kāśikā प्रत्याहारसूत्र are forty two. Candra has reduced the number. Jainendra, Śakaṭāyana, Malayagiri and Mugdhabodha have adopted the प्रत्याहारसूत्र of Pāṇini. They are not found in Kātantra. Sārāsvata uses them without इत् (marker).

प्रदीप popular name of the famous commentary on the Mahābhāṣya of Patañjali, written by the reputed grammarian Kaiyaṭa in the eleventh century A.D. The commentary is a very scholarly and critical one and really does justice to the well-known compliment given to it, viz. that the Pradīpa has kept the Mahābhāṣya alive which otherwise would have remained unintelligible and consequently become lost. The commentary प्रदीप is based on the commentary महाभाष्यदीपिका, or °प्रदीपिका written by Bhartṛhari, The Pradīpa is to this day looked upon as the single commentary on the Mahābhāṣya in spite of the presence of a few other commentaries on it which are all thrown into the back-ground by it.

प्राग्देश districts of the east especially districts to the east of Ayodhyā and Pāṭaliputra, such as Magadh, Vāṅga and others; nothing can definitely be said as to which districts were called Eastern by Pāṇini and his followers Kātyāyana and Patañjali. A Vārttika given in the Kāśikā but not traceable in the Mahābhāṣya defines Prāgdeśa as districts situated to the east of शरावती (probably the modern river Rāvi or a river near that river); cf. प्राग्देशो विभजते हंसः क्षीरोदके यथा । विदुषां शब्दसिद्धयर्थं सा नः पातु शरावती ॥ Kāś. on एङ् प्राचां देशे P. I.

1.75. There is a reading सरस्वती in some manuscript copies and सरस्वती is a well-known river in the Punjab near Kurukṣetra, which disappears in the sandy desert to the south ; a reading शरावती is also found and शरावती may stand for the river Rāvi. शरावती in Burma is simply out of consideration. For details see Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya Vol. VII, pp. 202-204 and 141-142 D. E. Society's Edition.

प्राग्वलीय name given to tad. affixes prescribed in rules from P. V. 1.18 to 115.

प्राचीनमत the view or doctrine of the former or rather older grammarians. The word is used in many commentary books and the meaning of the word is to be decided according to the context. For example, in the works of Rāmacandra, the author of the Prakriyākaumudī and his followers, the word refers to the view given by the writers of the Kāśikāvṛtti and the commentaries thereon; in the works of Bhaṭṭojī and his pupils, it refers to the writer of the Prakriyākaumudī in addition to the writers of the Kāśikā, while in the works of Nāgeśa it refers to the writings of Bhaṭṭojī and his pupils. For details see Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya Vol. VII, pp. 23-24 D. E. Society's Edition.

प्राच्यपदवृत्ति succession of two vowels where the former vowel, which is either ए or ओ remains without coalescence with the following vowel अ, even though by rules it is liable to be changed; e.g. सुजाते

अश्वसन्ते । अध्वर्यो अद्रिभिः सुतम् । In such cases the vowel अ is pronounced ए. This view is held by the senior Śākalya (स्थविरशाकल्य); cf. प्राच्यपञ्चाल-उपधानिभेदयाः शाकल्यस्य स्थविरस्येतरा स्थितिः, R. Pr. II. 44; cf. also स पूर्वस्यार्धसदृश-मेकेषाम्, T. Pr. XI. 19 and the commentaries thereon; cf. also छन्दोगानां सात्यमुधिराणायनीया अर्धमेकारमर्धमोकारं चाधीयते । सुजाते ए अश्वसन्ते । अध्वर्यो ओ अद्रिभिः सुतम् । M. Bh. on Śiva Sūtra 3, 4 as also on P. I. 1.43.

प्राच्यवैयाकरण an eastern grammarian; the term प्राच्य (eastern) being a relative term, the east is to be taken with respect to the place in the context. The word प्राच्य occurs many times in Pāṇini's Sūtras and the term प्राक् may refer to countries east of the river शरावती or सरस्वती in the Punjab. See प्राग्देश above. प्राच्य is understood by some commentators as referring to time, in which case, the word may refer to ancient grammarians आपिशलि, शाकटायन, इन्द्र and others who lived before Pāṇini; cf. प्राचीनवैयाकरणतन्त्रे वाचनिकानि..Par. Śek. Pari. 1. The word प्राचीन is, of course, mostly used in the sense of ancient, rather than the word प्राच्य. For specific peculiarities of the eastern grammarians see pp. 148-149 Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya Vol. VII. D. E. Society's Edition.

प्राणपणा a gloss on the Mahābhāṣya of Patañjali, written by the famous eastern grammarian Puruṣottama-deva of the 12th century A. D., of which only a fragment of a few pages is available. As the legend goes, the name प्राणपणा was given to the gloss as it was accompanied by an oath on the part of the author that his life was at stake if he did even the slightest injustice to the author of the Mahābhāṣya.

The term प्रातिपदिक can be explained as प्रतिपदं गृह्णाति तत् प्रातिपदिकम् । cf. P. IV. 4.39. or पदं पदं प्रति प्रतिपदम् । प्रतिपदेषु भवम् । The original form of words. It originally included roots also. Ancient works like Śabda pāraṇya included them all. The term प्रातिपदिक, although mentioned in the Brāhmaṇa works, is not found in the Prātiśākhya works probably because those works were concerned with formed words which had been actually in use. The regular division of a word into the base (प्रकृति) and the affix (प्रत्यय) is available, first in the grammar of Pāṇini, who has given two kinds of bases, the noun-base and the verb-base. The noun-base is named Prātipadika by him while the verb-base is named Dhātu. The definition of Prātipadika is given by him as a word which is possessed of sense, but which is neither a root nor a suffix; cf. अर्थवदधातुरप्रत्ययः प्रातिपदिकम् P. I. 2.45. Although his definition includes, the Kṛdanta words, the taddhitānta words and the compound words, still, Pāṇini has mentioned them separately in the rule कृतद्धितसमासाश्च P. I. 2.45 to distinguish them as secondary noun-bases as compared with the primary noun-bases which are mentioned in the rule अर्थवदधातुरप्रत्ययः प्रातिपदिकम्. Thus, Pāṇini implies four kinds of Prātipadikas मूलभूत, कृरन्त, तद्धितान्त and समास. The Vārttikakāra appears to have given nine kinds-

गुणवचन, सर्वनाम, अव्यय, तद्धितान्त, कृदन्त, साम, जाति, संख्या and संज्ञा. See Vārttikas 39 to 44 on P. I. 4. 1. Later on, Bhojarāja in his Śrīngāra-Prakāśa has quoted the definition अर्थवदधातुं given by Pāṇini, and has given six subdivisions. ; cf. नामाव्ययानुकरणकृतद्वितसमासाः प्रातिपदिकानि Śr. Prak. I. page 6. For the sense conveyed by a Prātipadika or noun-base, see प्रातिपदिकार्थ.

प्रातिपदिककार्य corresponding to अङ्कार्य in the case of the declinables, which the Sūtrakāra mentions specifically with respect to the noun-base.

प्रातिपदिकग्रहण express mention by wording of a noun-base as in दित्यदित्यादित्यं, सुधातुरकञ् च etc., and not by description as अदन्त in अत इञ् (P. IV.1.95) or in a group of words (गण) ; cf. प्रातिपदिकग्रहणे लिङ्गविशिष्टस्यापि ग्रहणम् Par. Śek. Pari. 71, which recommends the feminine form of the base for an operation, provided the base is specifically expressed and not merely described e.g. युवतिः खलतिः युवखलतिः, चटकस्यापत्यं चाटकैरः, वहीनां पूरणी बहुतिथी etc.

प्रातिपदिकस्वर the general accent of the Prātipadika viz. the acute (उदात्त) for the last vowel as given by the Phit-sūtra फिषः (प्रातिपदिकस्य) अन्त उदात्तः ; cf. also प्रातिपदिकस्वरस्यावकाशः ! आत्रः । M. Bh. on P. VI. 1.91 Vārt. 7.

प्रातिपदिकार्थ denoted sense of a Prātipadika or a noun-base. Standard grammarians state that the denotation of a prātipadika is five-fold viz. स्वार्थ, द्रव्य, लिङ्ग, संख्या and कारक. The word स्वार्थ refers to the causal factor of denotation or प्रवृत्तिनिमित्त which is of four kinds जाति, गुण, क्रिया and संज्ञा as noticed respectively in the words गौः, शुद्धः, चलः and स्थितः. The word द्रव्य refers to the individual object which sometimes is directly denoted as in अश्वमानय, while on some occasions it is indirectly denoted through the genus or the general notion as in ब्राह्मणः पूज्यः; लिङ्ग the gender, संख्या the number and कारक the case-relation are the denotations of the case-terminations, but sometimes as they are conveyed in the absence of a case-affix as in the words पद्म, दश, and others, they are stated as the denoted senses of the Prātipadika, while the case-affixes are said to indicate them ; cf. वाचिका चोत्तिका वा स्युः शब्दादीनां विभक्तयः Vākyapadīya.

प्रातिलोम्य in inverse order, antithesis, reverse sense ; e.g. प्र and परा mean the reverse of आ, or प्रति means the reverse of अभि ; cf. आ इत्यर्वागर्थे । प्र परेत्येतस्य प्रातिलोम्यम् etc. Nir. I.4.

प्रातिशाख्य a work on Vedic grammar of a specific nature, which is concerned mainly with the changes, euphonic and others, in the Pada text of the Saṁhitā as compared with the running text, the Saṁhitā itself. The Prātiśākhya works are neither concerned with the sense of words, nor with their division into bases and affixes, nor with their etymology. They contain, more or less, Vedic passages arranged from the point of view of Saṁdhi. In the Rk Prātiśākhya, available to-day, topics of metre, recital, phonetics and the like are introduced, but it appears that originally the Rk Prātiśākhya, just like the Atharva Prātiśākhya, was concerned with euphonic changes, the other subjects being introduced later on. The word प्रातिशाख्य shows that there were such treatises for everyone of the several Śakhās or branches of each Veda many of which later on disappeared as the number of the followers of those branches dwindled. Out of the remaining ones also, many were combined with others of the same Veda. At present, only five or six Prātiśākhya are available which are the surviving representatives of the ancient ones—the Rk Prātiśākhya by Śaunaka, the Taittiriya Prātiśākhya, the Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya by Kātyāyana, the Atharva Prātiśākhya and the Rk Tantra by Śakaṭyāyana, which is practically a Prātiśākhya of the Sāma Veda. The word पार्षद or पारिषद was also used for the Prātiśākhya as they were the outcome of the discussions of learned scholars in Vedic assemblies; cf. परिषदि अवं पार्षदम्. Although the Prātiśākhya works in nature, are preliminary to works on grammar, it appears that the existing Prātiśākhya, which are the revised and enlarged editions of the old ones; are written after Pāṇini's grammar, each one of the present Prātiśākhya representing, of course, several ancient Prātiśākhya, which were written before Pāṇini. Uvvaṭa, a learned scholar of the twelfth century has written a brief commentary on the Rk Prātiśākhya and another one on the Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya. The Taittiriya Prātiśākhya has got two commentaries—one by Somayārya, called Tribhāṣyaratna and the other called Vaidikābharana written by Gopālayajvan. There is a commentary by Ananta Bhaṭṭa on the Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya. These commentaries are called Bhāṣyas also.

प्रौढमनोरमा popularly called मनोरमा also ; the famous commentary on the Siddhāntakaumudī of Bhaṭṭojī Dikṣita written by the author himself to explain fully in a scholarly manner the popular grammar written by him ; the word प्रौढमनोरमा is used in contrast with बालमनोरमा another commentary on the Siddhāntakaumudī by Vāsudeva-dikṣita. On account of the difficult nature of it, it is usual to read the प्रौढमनोरमा upto the end of the Kāraka-prakaraṇa only in the Sanskrit Pāṭhaśālās before the study of the Śabdenduśekhara and the Paribhāṣenduśekhara is undertaken.

The work is not a scholarly one and it has got a tone of banter. It was written by Jagannātha to show that he could also write works on Grammar and the bearded pedant Bhaṭṭoji should not be proud of his profound scholarship in Grammar. The work of Jagannātha was named मनोरमाकुचमर्दन possibly by his followers or even by himself.

प्रौढमनोरमाटीका a commentary on Bhaṭṭoji Dīkṣita's Prauḍhamanoramā written by Bhaṭṭoji's grandson Hari Dīkṣita. The commentary is called लघुशब्दरत्न or simple शब्दरत्न which is an abridgment of the author's work बृहच्छब्दरत्न. The Laghuśabdaratna is widely studied along with the Prauḍhamanoramā in the Pāṭhaśālās.

प्लक्षि an ancient writer of a Prātiśākhya work quoted in the Taittirīya Prātiśākhya. See प्लक्षायण above. The words प्लक्षि and प्लक्षायण as also प्लक्षी (feminine) occur in the Mahābhāṣya also, but not in the Gaṇapāṭha of Pāṇini.

2.27. The word is derived from प्लु (प्लु also) I Ātmane. to go, and explained as प्लवते इति. The word प्लवते is often found for प्लुतो भवति in the Prātiśākhya works; cf. also मात्रा ह्रस्वस्तावदवग्रहान्तरं, द्वे दीर्घस्तिष्ठः प्लुत उच्यते स्वरः। अधः स्विदासीश्दुपरि स्विदासीश्द् अर्थे प्लुतिर्भौरिव विन्दतीश् त्रिः ॥ R. Pr. I. 16.

प्लुति prolotion or protraction of a vowel when it is possessed of three mātrās; cf. R. Pr. I. 31. See प्लुत above; cf. अविदांसः प्रत्यभिवादे नाम्नो ये न प्लुति विदुः। कामं तेषु तु विप्रोष्य स्त्रीष्विवायमहं वदेत् M. Bh. on P. I. 1 Āhnika 1.

P. VI. 4.125.

II. 18. बस्वर्च्य is explained here by the commentator as दन्तपङ्क्त्यपरिष्ठादुच्चपदेशेषु ऋकारस्य ऋकारस्य लकारस्य च बस्वर्च्यः स्थानम्। The word उपरिष्ठात् in the explanation given above is 'questionable'; the explanation given by Uvvaṭa in his comment on बस्वर्च्येकं इच्छन्ति रेफम् R. Pr. I. 20. viz. बस्वर्च्यशब्देन दन्तमूलादुपरिष्ठादुच्छूनः प्रदेश उच्यते appears better although apparently बस्वर्च्य is written in the text for बस्वर्च्य or बस्वर्च्य.

II. 1.32, 57; II. 3.62; II. 4.39, 73, 76, 84; III. 1.34 etc.; cf. the usual explanation of बहुलम् given by grammarians in the lines कचि-त्प्रवृत्तिः कचिद्विभाषा कचिदन्यदेव । विषेर्विधानं बहुधा समीक्ष्य चतुर्विधं बाहुलकं वदन्ति Com. Pāṇini in his grammar has not given any definition of बहुव्रीहि, but has stated that a compound other than those already given viz. अव्ययीभाव, द्वन्द्व and तत्पुरुष, is बहुव्रीहि, and cited under Bahuvrīhi all cases mentioned above; cf. श्रेयो बहुव्रीहिः II. 3.23-28; also cf. अन्यपदार्थ-प्रधानो बहुव्रीहिः M. P. VI. 2.1. The expression बहुव्रीहिसंज्ञा in this very sense is used in the Mahābhāṣya cf. बहुव्रीहिसंज्ञं शास्त्रि समासान्तविधेः सुकृत् M. Bh. on P. VI. 2.1.

बह्वच multisyllabled, a word which contains three, or more than three vowels; the word occurs many times in the sūtras of Pāṇini. cf. P. II. 4.66, IV. 2.73, IV. 2.109, IV. 3.67; V. 3.78, VI. 2.83, VI. 3.118.

This kind of अन्तरङ्गबहिरङ्गत्व, cited by Kaiyaṭa is, however, disapproved by Nāgeśabhaṭṭa; cf. बहिरङ्गान्तरङ्गशब्दाभ्यां बह्वपेक्षत्वाल्पापेक्षत्वयोः शब्दमयादिशा भलाभाच्च । तथा सति असिद्धं बह्वपेक्षमल्पापेक्षे इत्येव वदेत् । Par. Kāś. on P. IV. 1.45.

बाध sublation, setting aside; सामान्य-शास्त्रस्य विशेषशालेण बाधः Par. Śek. on Pari. 51.

बाधक lit. that which sublates or sets aside; generally a special rule which sets aside a general rule; cf. येन नाप्राप्ते यो विधिरारभ्यते स तस्य बाधको भवति, Pari. Pāṭha of पुरुषोत्तमदेव Pari. 51; cf. also नैतज्ज्ञापकसाध्यं अपवादैरुत्सर्गा बाध्यन्त

इति । बाधकेनानेन भवितव्यं सामान्यविहितस्य विशेषविहितेन । M. Bh. on P. II. 1.24. Vārt. 5. बाधक is used as a synonym of अपवाद. cf. अपवादशब्दोत्र बाधकपरः । Par. Śek. Pari. 58.

बाधकत्व the same as बाध; sublation; setting aside; this sublation is described to be of two types—(1) complete sublation when the rule set aside, is for ever set aside and cannot, by the maxim called तत्र-कौण्डिन्यन्याय, be applied again; cf. दधि ब्राह्मणेभ्यो दीयतां तत्र कौण्डिन्यायेति सत्यपि संभवे दधिदानस्य तत्रदानं निवर्तकं भवति । cf. M. Bh. on P. I. 1.47; VI. 1.2; VI. 2.1; etc.; (2) temporary sublation when the rule set aside, can be applied, if possible after the special, rule has been applied; cf. सर्वथा अनवकाशात्वादेव बाधकत्वे स्वस्य (अनवकाशाशास्त्रस्य) पूर्वप्रवृत्तिरित्येव बाधः । तत्र बाधके प्रवृत्ते यद्युत्सर्गप्राप्तिर्भवति तदा भवत्येव यथा तत्रैव याडादयः Par. Śek. on Pari. 57. The sublation or बाधकत्व is not only in the case of सामान्यविशेष-भाव and अनवकाशात्वात्वादेव as given above, but a rule or operation which is पर (cited later), or नित्य, or अन्तरङ्ग sets aside the rule or operation which is पूर्व, or अनित्य, or बहिरङ्ग respectively. This बाध्यबाधकभाव occupies a very important position in respect of the application of grammar rules for arriving at the correct forms (इष्टरूपसिद्धि) and grammarians have laid down a number of Paribhāṣās in the field of बाध्यबाधकभाव.

बाधासमुदेश a section of the third Kāṇḍa of Vākyapadiya. Along with लक्षणसमुद्देश it was lost early, probably a few years after Bhartṛhari's death, cp. Puṅyarāja on Vāk. pad. II. 77.

Other scholars believe that Bālaṃbhaṭṭa was the son of Vaidya-nātha and that he wrote only the commentary on Mitākṣarā called Bālaṃbhaṭṭī after him. (2) There was also a comparatively modern grammarian of Tanjore who has written small grammar works बाल-बोधिनी and बालरञ्जनी.

In many sūtras, Pāṇini has put the word बहुलम् to arrive at such forms; e.g. see P. II. 1.32, 57; II. 3.62, II. 4.39, 73, 76, 84 etc.

बाहुलेय a word which is given along with the word शाबलेय to show that the presence of one particular word in language, as for instance, शाबलेय does not necessarily mean the absence of another word such as बाहुलेय, although as a matter of fact, शाबलेय which is found in the शुभ्रादिनाम shows that the word शबल can have the affix ल्क् (एय) added to it in the sense of an offspring, while बहुल cannot have it. cp. Vāk. pad. III. 3.75; III. 14.149.

descendant ; e.g. बाह्विः, पौष्करसादिः, पात्रिः etc. The class called बाह्वादि is looked upon as आकृतिगण on the strength of the word च in the rule, so that similar words, not included in the class, could be explained ; cf. Kās. on P. IV. 1.96.

विदादि a class of words headed by the word विद् to which the affix अ (अब्) is added in the sense of a grandchild and further descendants ; e.g. वैदः, -और्वः, काश्यपः, कौशिकः etc. The words in this class are mostly names of sages. In the case of such words as are not names of sages, the affix अ is added in the sense of the offspring and not any descendant. e.g. पौत्रः, दौहित्रः etc.; cf. Kās. on P. IV. 1.104.

The work बृहच्छब्दरत्न is only in a Manuscript form at present. Some scholars believe that it was written by Nāgeśabhaṭṭa, who ascribed it to his preceptor Hari Dikṣita, but the belief is not correct as proved by a reference in the Laghuśabdaratna, where the author himself remarks that he himself has written the बृहच्छब्दरत्न, and internal evidences show that लघुशब्दरत्न is sometimes a word-for-word summary of the बृहच्छब्दरत्न. cf. विस्तरस्तु अस्मत्कृते बृहच्छब्दरत्ने मदन्तेवासिकृतलघुशब्देन्दु-

अ fourth letter of the labial class which is possessed of the properties कण्ठसंवृत्ता, नादानुप्रदान, बोध, and महा-प्राणत्व.

अ (1) the letter or sound अ with the vowel अ added for facility of utterance; (2) a technical term in the Grammar of Pāṇini given to a noun-base before such case and taddhita affixes as begin with any vowel or with the consonant य्. The utility of this designation of य् to the base is (1) to prevent the substitutes which are enjoined for the final vowel or consonant of a pada (a word ending with a case-affix or a base before case and tad-affixes beginning with any consonant excepting य्) just as the substitution of Visarga, anusvāra, the first or third consonant, and others given in P. VIII. 4.37 and the following. For the various changes and operations for a base termed य् see P. VI. 4.129 to 175.

भकार the consonant भ् with the vowel अ and the affix कार added for facility of utterance; cf. T. Pr. I. 17, 21.

भक्त forming a part or portion (of something in connection with which it has been prescribed as an augment) cf. तद्भक्तस्तद्ग्रहणेन गृह्यते Vyāḍi Pari. 17; cf. also आमः सुडयं भक्त आमग्रहणेन ग्राहिष्यते। M. Bh. on P. VII. 1.33.

भक्तलृ tad. affix भक्त applied to the words भौरिकि and others in the sense of 'a place of residence'; cf. P. IV. 2.54.

भक्ति (1) name given to two of the five divisions of a Sāman which are प्रस्तावभक्ति, उद्गीथ, प्रतिहार, उपद्रव and निधानभक्ति; (2) the vowel portion surrounding, or placed after, the consonant र् or लृ which (consonant) is believed to be present in the vowel ऋ or ॠ respectively, forming its important portion, but never separately noticed in it. The vowels ऋ and ॠ are made up of one mātrā each. It is contended by the grammarians that the consonants र् and लृ, forming respectively the portion of ऋ and ॠ, make up half-a-mātrā, while the remaining half is made up of the भक्ति of the vowel surrounding the consonant or situated after the consonant. The word which is generally used for this 'bhakti' is 'ajbhakti' instead of which the word स्वरभक्ति is found in the Piātisākhya works; cf. यत्तदे-फात्परं भक्तेस्तेन व्यवहितत्वान्न प्राप्नोति।..... यच्चान्न रेफात्परं भक्तेर्न तत् क्वचिदपि व्यपवृक्तं दृश्यते। M. Bh. on P. VIII. 4.1. Vārt-2; cf. स्वरभक्तिः पूर्वभागक्षराङ्गं R. Pr. I. 17; also cf. रेफात्स्वरोपहिताद् व्यञ्जनोदयाद् ऋकारावर्णां स्वरभक्तिरुत्तरा। R. Pr. VI. 13.

भक्ष्यनियम a restriction regarding edibles of a particular kind. The word is quoted to illustrate the नियमविधि or restrictive rule in grammar. Although the restriction in the instance पञ्च पञ्चनखा भक्ष्याः is of the kind of परिसंख्या and called परिसंख्या, and not नियम, by the Mimāṃsakas, the grammarians call it a नियमavidhi. There is no परिसंख्याविधि according to grammarians; they cite only two kinds of vidhi, viz. simple vidhi or apūrva vidhi and नियमavidhi.

भट्टोजि surnamed Dikṣita; a stalwart grammarian of the Pāṇini system who flourished in the first half of the seventeenth century and wrote many independent books and commentaries such as the Siddhāntakaumudī, the Prauḍhamanoramā, the Vaiyākaraṇasiddhāntakārikā, the Śatdakaustubha and others. The most reputed work out of these, however, is the Siddhāntakaumudī, which is very popular even today and which has almost set aside other works of its kind such as the Prakriyākaumudī and others. Bhaṭṭoji was a Telugu

Brāhmaṇa, as is generally believed, and although he belonged to the South, he made Vārāṇasī his home where he prepared a school of learned Grammarians. Although he carried on his work silently in Vārāṇasī, he was envied by the reputed rhetorician of his time Paṇḍita Jagannātha, who criticised his work (Bhaṭṭoji's work) named Manoramā very severely, See प्रौढ-मनोरमा above. The Siddhānta-kaumudī has got many commentaries of which the Tattvabodhini written by Bhaṭṭoji's pupil Jāneन्द्रasarasvatī is appreciated much by learned grammarians.

Vākya-padiya, “शब्दाथेसंबंधीयं प्रकरणम् वाक्य-पदीयम् । Vākya-padiya is divided into three books (Kāṇḍas), viz. Brahma, Vākya and Prakīrṇa. The work is very widely quoted by Brahmanical, Buddhist and Jain philosophers beginning from Diṅnāga till Nāgeśa. The work is an authoritative and scholarly work on Philosophy of Grammar. He has written an auto-commentary. (Svopajñavṛtti) on the first two kāṇḍas of Vākya-padiya. Gram-marian Bhartṛhari is different from Bhaṭṭi, poet Bhartṛhari or yogin Bhartṛhari of the ‘Kāṇḍāṭṭā’ sect. Nothing is known about his birth-place or personal history. Another important work of Bhartṛhari is Mahābhāṣyadīpikā, a scholarly commentary on Mahābhāṣya upto seven Āhnikas (Mahābhāṣya on P. 1.1. 57). He was a great scholar of Veda, Mīmāṃsā and Vedānta. Three other works viz. Mīmāṃsābhāṣya, a Vedāntasūtravṛtti and Śabdadhā-tusamīkṣā are fathered on him. A number of modern Indian gram-marian scholars prominent among them being Profs. Abhyankar, Limaye, and S. Iyer have edited and studied his two major works.

भवत् (भवन्त्) ancient term for the present tense found in the Bṛhad-devatā and other works. The term ‘vartamānā’ for the present tense was also equally common. A grammarian Śrīdhara is said to have commented upon this Bhāṣāvṛtti. The authorship of the work is attributed to Bharīṭhari, but the point is doubtful as Śiradeva in his Paribhāṣāvṛtti on Pari. 76 has stated that the author of the Bhāṣāvṛtti has quoted from Māghakāvya; cf. अत एव तत्रैव सूत्रे भागवृत्तिः पुरातनमुनेर्मुनितामिति पुरातनीनेदीरिति च प्रमादपाठदेवौ गतानुगतिकतया कवयः प्रयुञ्जते न तेषां लक्षणे चक्षुरिति। Some scholars attribute its authorship to Vimalamati. Whosoever be the author, the gloss (भागवृत्ति) was a work of recognised merit; cf. काशिका-भागवृत्तेश्चैव सिद्धान्तं वेत्तुमस्मिन् ॥ तदा विचिन्त्यतां भ्रातर्भाषावृत्तिरियं मम ॥ Bhāṣāvṛtti at the end. सृष्टिपर in his commentary on the Bhāṣāvṛtti also says "सा हि द्वयोर्विवरणकर्त्री."

These six modes of existence first mentioned by Vārṣṣyāyaṇi and quoted by Yāska are explained philosophically by Bhartṛhari as a mere appearance of the Śabdabrahman or Sattā when one of its own powers, the time factor (कालशक्ति) is superimposed upto it, and as a result of that superimposition, it (i.e. the Śabdabrahman) appears as a process; cf. षड् भाषाविकारा भवन्ति इति वार्थ्यायणिः । जायते अस्ति विपरिणमते वर्धते अपक्षीयते विनश्यति इति । Nir. The treatise does not comment upon Vedic portions or rules referring to Vedic Language because, as the legend goes, king Lakṣmaṇa Sena, for whom the gloss was written, was not qualified to understand Vedic Language; cf. वैदिकभाषानर्हत्वात् Com. on Bhāṣāvṛtti by Śrīṣṭidhara. There is a popular evaluation of the Bhāṣāvṛtti given by the author himself in the stanza “काशिकाभाषावृत्तेश्चेत्सिद्धान्तं बोद्धुमस्ति धीः । तदा विचिन्त्यतां भ्रातर्भाषावृत्तिरियं मम ॥” at the end of his treatise; for details see पुरुषोत्तमदेव.

Out of the various Bhāṣya works of the kind given above, the Bhāṣya on the Vyākaraṇa sūtras of Pāṇini is called the Mahābhāṣya, on the nature of which possibly the following definition is based “सूत्रार्थो वर्ण्यते यत्र पदैः सूत्रानुकारिभिः । स्वपदानि च वर्ण्यन्ते भाष्यं भाष्यविदो विदुः ॥”. Parāśara Purāṇa XVIII. 15. In books on Sanskrit Grammar the word भाष्य is used always for the Mahābhāṣya. The word भाष्य is sometimes used in the Mahābhāṣya of Patañjali (cf. उक्तो भावमेदो भाष्ये III. 3.19, IV. 4.67) where the word may refer to a work like लघुभाष्य which Patañjali may have written, or may have got available to him as written by somebody else, before he wrote the Mahābhāṣya.

The word is uniformly used by commentators and classical Sanskrit writers for the reputed commentary on Pāṇini's Sūtras and the Vārttikas thereon, by Patañjali in the 2nd century B.C. The commentary is very scholarly yet very simple in style, and exhaustive although omitting a number of Pāṇini's rules. It is the first and oldest existing commentary on the Aṣṭādhyāyī of Pāṇini, and, in spite of some other commentaries and glosses and other compendia written later on to explain the Sūtras of Pāṇini, it has remained supremely authoritative and furnishes the last and final word in all places of doubt; cf. the remarks इति भाष्ये स्थितम्, इत्युक्तं भाष्ये, इत्युक्तमाकरे etc. scattered here and there in several Vyākaraṇa treatises forming, in fact, the patent words used by commentators when they finish any chain of arguments. Besides commenting on the Sūtras of Pāṇini, Patañjali, the author, has raised many other grammatical issues and after discussing them fully and thoroughly, given his conclusions which have become the final dicta in those matters. The work, in short, has become an encyclopaedic one and hence aptly called खनि or आकर. The work is spread over such a wide field of grammatical studies that not a single grammatical issue appears to have been left out. The author appears to have made a close study of the method and explanations of the Sūtras of Pāṇini given at various academies all over the country and incorporated the gist of those studies given in the form of Vārttikas at the various places, in his great work. He has thoroughly scrutinized and commented upon the Vārttikas many of which he has approved, some of which he has rejected, and a few of which he has supplemented. Besides the Vārttikas which are referred to above, he has quoted stanzas which verily sum up the arguments in explanation of the difficult sūtras, composed by his predecessors. There is a good reason to believe that there were small glosses or commentaries on the Sūtras of Pāṇini written by learned teachers at the various academies, and the Vārttikas formed in a way, a short pithy summary of those glosses or Vrttis. The explanation of the word वृत्तौ साधु वार्तिकम् given by Kaiyaṭa may be quoted in support of this point. Kaiyaṭa has at one place even stated that the argument of the Bhāṣyakāra is in consonance with that of Kuṇi, his predecessor. The work is divided into eightyfive sections which are given the name of lesson or आहिक by the author, probably because they form the subject matter of one day's study each, if the student has already made a thorough study of the subject and is very sharp in intelligence. cf. अह्नि निवृत्तम् आहिकम्, (the explanation given by the commentators). Many commentary works were written on this magnum opus of Patañjali during the long period of twenty centuries upto this time under the names टीका, टिप्पणी, दीपिका, प्रकाशिका, व्याख्या, रत्नावली, स्फूर्ति, वृत्ति, प्रदीप, व्याख्यान and the like, but only one of them the 'Pradīpa' of कैयटोपाध्याय, is found complete. The learned commentary by Bhartṛhari, written five centuries before the Pradīpa, is available only in a fragment and that too, in a manuscript form copied down from the original one from time to time by the scribes very carelessly. The available commentary is upto the first seven Āhnikas of Mahābhāṣya (upto P. 1.1.53). Two other commentaries which are comparatively modern, written by Nārāyaṇaśeṣa and Nilakaṇṭha are available but they are also incomplete and in a manuscript form. Possibly Kaiyaṭabhaṭṭa's Pradīpa threw into the background the commentaries of his predecessors and no grammarian after Kaiyaṭa dared write a commentary superior to Kaiyaṭa's Pradīpa or, if he began, he had to abandon his work in the middle. The commentary of Kaiyaṭa is such a scholarly one and so written to the point, that later commentators have almost identified the original Bhāṣya with the commentary Pradīpa and many a time expressed the two words Bhāṣya and Kaiyaṭa in the same breath as भाष्यकैयटयोः (एतदुक्तम् or एतदमेतत्).

सहाभाष्यदीपिका a very learned old commentary on the Mahābhāṣya of Patañjali written by the reputed grammarian Bhartṛhari or Hari in the fifth century A.D. The commentary has been published from Poona from only one manuscript preserved in Germany available at present, of which photostat copies or ordinary copies are found here and there. The first page of the manuscript is missing and it is incomplete also, the commentary not going beyond the first seven Āhnikas. For details see page 383 Vol. VII Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya, D. E. Society's edition.

written by Kaiyaṭabhaṭṭa in the eleventh century. The commentary has so nicely explained every difficult and obscure point in the Mahābhāṣya, and has so thoroughly explained each sentence that the remark of later grammarians that the torch of the Mahābhāṣya has been kept burning by the Pradīpa appears quite apt and justified. Haradatta's Padamañjari is indebted to it. Kaiyaṭa's commentary has thrown much additional light on the original arguments and statements in the Mahābhāṣya. There is a learned commentary on the Pradīpa written by Nāgeśabhaṭṭa which is named 'vivarāṇa' by the author but which is well known by the name 'Uddyota' among students and teachers of Vyākaraṇa. लु elision of an affix or its part in the process of the formation of a word as prescribed by the specific mention of the words लुक्, लुङ् and लुप् which have the syllable लु as common. The specific feature of the elision by the use of these letters is the prohibition of any such operation for the preceding base as is conditioned by the elided affix; cf. प्रत्ययलोपे प्रत्ययलक्षणम् ! न लुमताङ्गस्य P. I. 1.62, 63.

लुक् (1) disappearance (लुच्यते इति लुक्); a term used by Pāṇini for the disappearance of an affix or its part under specified conditions as prescribed by a grammar rule with the mention of the word लुक्; e.g. प्रत्ययस्य लुक्लुङ्लुपः P. I. 1.61; (2) augment ल् added to the root ल् in the sense of melting (an oily thing); cf. घृतं विलालयति. See Kāś. on P. VII. 3.39.

I. 2.4, I. 2.12, II. 4.77 etc.) for such roots as have their Vikaraṇa (conjugational sign) dropped by a rule with the mention of the word लुक्; e.g. the roots of the second conjugation as contrasted with other roots; cf. लुग्विकरणालुग्विकरणयोरलुग्विकरणस्य Par. Śek. Pari. 90.

लुट्लृट् लिट्: P. III. 4.6. The conjugational affixes ति, तः, etc. are substituted for लुट् as for the lakāras of other tenses and moods and the distinguishing sign or विकरण is added to a root before the affix called लुट्; cf. च्लि लुट् and the following P. III. 1.4} etc.

लुप् disappearance (लुप्यते इति लुप्); a term used by Pāṇini with reference to the disappearance of an affix or its part under specified conditions by the express mention of the word लुप्. Although after the disappearance of an affix no operation for the base before, can take place as conditioned by the affix, i.e. although there is no प्रत्ययलक्षण, still, when the disappearance is mentioned as लुप्, the base gets the gender and number of that original form of it which existed before the affix, which has disappeared, was applied; cf. कुरवः देशः, चञ्चव पुरुषः चञ्चा; cf. लुपि युक्तवद् व्यक्तिवचने. P. I. 2.51 and Kāśikā thereon.

लुप्त that which has been elided or dropped during the process of the formation of words. As elision or लोप is looked upon as a kind of substitute, in short a zero-substitute, the convention of the substitute being looked upon as the original one, viz. the sthānivadbhāva, applies to it.

particular rule, for the sake of bringing about some grammatical operation with a view to arriving at some desired forms; cf. लृहान्तस्येत्यत्र वकारोऽपि निर्दिश्यते। किं वकारो न श्रूयते। लुप्तनिर्दिष्टे वकारः। M. Bh. on P. I. 1.3. Vārt. 10; cf. also M. Bh. on I. 3.7, III. 1.44 etc.; also cf. क्लिति च P. I. 1.5 where the consonant ग् is supposed to be present in the word क्लिति.

लृट् general term for the personal affixes of the conditional, which are applied to a root to show the happening of an action only if there was another preceding action, both the actions being expressed by लृट् or conditional affixes; e.g. देवश्च देव-धिष्यत् सुभिक्षममधिष्यत्; cf. लिङ्निमित्ते लृट् क्लियातिपत्तौ P. III. 3.139, 140. लृट् is also used under certain other conditions when some specific particles are used; cf. III. 3.141-146, 151.

conditions, the affixes ति, तः, अन्ति being substituted for the ल् and the sign (vikarāṇa) स्य being added to the root; cf. P. III. 3.13 and III. 3.133. The terminations अत् and आन are substituted for the affix लद् to form future participles; e.g. मविष्यत्, एषिष्यमाण, cf. लट्: सद् P. III. 3.14.

लेद् a general term for the affixes of the Vedic subjunctive, the usual personal-endings ति, त्स etc. being substituted for लेद् as in the case of other tenses and moods. The augments अद् and आद् are sometimes prefixed to the लेद् affix and the sign (विकरण) स् (सिप्) is sometimes added to the roots. The forms of लेद् are to be arrived at as they are found actually used in Vedic language, even by placing personal-endings of a person or number different from what is actually required.

लेश such a slow or indistinct utterance or pronunciation of the letter य् or व् preceded by अ, as shows that it is almost dropped. This indistinct or slurred utterance of य् or व्, which is described as advocated by the Prātiśākhya-kāra Vātsapra, corresponds to the utterance of य् or व् with a very low tone as mentioned by Pāṇini in the rule व्योर्लुपप्रयत्नतरः शाकटायनस्य; e.g. आप उन्दन्तुः या जाता ओषधयः etc.; cf. लेशो वात्सप्रस्य एतयोः T. This disappearance in the case of an affix is tantamount to its notional presence or imaginary presence, as operations caused by it do take place although the word element has disappeared ; cf. प्रत्ययलोपे प्रत्ययलक्षणम् । प्रत्यये लुपेपि तद्वेतुकं कार्यं भवति Kās. on P. I. 1.52.

III. 1. 13 ; (2) a class of words headed by लोहित, to which the fem. affix क् (आयनी) is added after they have got the taddhita affix क्च् added to them in the sense of ' a grandchild ' ; e.g. लौहित्यायनी, कात्यायनी etc. ; cf. also धातुकारिकावली and गीर्वाणपदमञ्जरी. The work under the name सारसिद्धान्त-कौमुदी, which is the shortest abridgment, is, in fact, the लघुसिद्धान्तकौमुदी itself. It is possible that the author first prepared the सारसिद्धान्तकौमुदी and then, he himself or a pupil of his, put additional necessary matter and prepared the Laghusiddhānta-kaumudī.

वररुचि (1) a reputed ancient grammarian who is identified with Kātyāyana, the prominent author of the Vārttikas on the Sūtras of Pāṇini. Both the names वररुचि and कात्यायन are mentioned in commentary works in connection with the Vārttikas on the Sūtras of Pāṇini, and it is very likely that Vararuci was the individual name of the scholar, and Kātyāyana his family name. The words कात्य and कात्यायन are found used in Śloka-vārttikas in the Mahābhāṣya on P. III. 2.3 and III. 2.118 where references made are actually found in the prose Vārttikas (see कविधौ सर्वत्र प्रसारणिभ्यो ङः P. III. 2.3 Vārt. 1 and स्मपुरा मृतमात्रे न सपुराचतने P. III. 2.118 Vārt. 1) indicating that the Śloka-vārttikakāra believed that the Vārttikas were composed by Kātyāyana. There is no reference at all in the Mahābhāṣya to Vararuci as a writer of the Vārttikas; there is only one reference which shows that there was a scholar by name Vararuci known to Patañjali, but he was a poet; cf. वाररुचं काव्यं in the sense of 'composed' (कृत and not प्रोक्त) by वररुचि M. Bh. on P. IV. 2.4. (2) वररुचि is also mentioned as the author of the Prākṛta Grammar known by the name प्राकृतप्रकाश or प्राकृतमञ्जरी. This वररुचि, who also was कात्यायन by Gotra name, was a grammarian later than Patañjali, who has been associated with Śarvavarman, (the author of the first three Adhyāyas of the Kātantra Sūtras), as the author of the fourth Adhyāya. Patañjali does not associate वररुचि with Kātyāyana at all. His mention of वररुचि as a writer of a Kāvya is a sufficient testimony for that. Hence, it appears probable that Kātyāyana, to whom the authorship of the Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya and many other works allied with Veda has been attributed, was not associated with Vararuci by Patañjali, and it is only the later writers who identified the grammarian Vararuci, who composed the fourth Adhyāya of the Kātantra Grammar and wrote a Prākṛit Grammar and some other grammar works, with the ancient revered Kātyāyana, the author of Vārttikas, the Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya and the Pnspasūtra; (3) There was a comparatively modern grammarian named वररुचि who wrote a small treatise on genders of words consisting of about 125 stanzas with a commentary named Liṅga-vṛtti, possibly written by the author himself. (4) There was also another modern grammarian by name वररुचि who wrote a work on syntax named प्रयोगमुखमण्डन, discussing the four topics कारक, समास, तद्धित and कृदन्त. Some catalogues of manuscripts mention a gloss on the Mahābhāṣya by Vararuci.

Śikṣā. Rkprātiśākhya lists them as निरस्त, व्यास, पीडन, अम्बुकृत, नद्ध, दुष्ट, शून, संदष्ट, विच्छिष्ट, ग्रस्त, अनुनासिक, अयथामान etc. cp. Rk Prāt. XIV. 1-3.

वर्णराशि the collection of letters as mentioned in works on grammar and Prātiśākhya ; cf. इति वर्णराशिः क्रमश्च R. Pr. I. 10.

वर्णविकार change of one letter into another (in the formation of a word) the discussion of which is looked upon as one of the features of grammar ; cf. लोपागमवर्णविकारज्ञो हि सम्यग्वेदान्तरिपालयिष्यति. M. Bh. Āhnika 1.

वर्णव्यत्यय transposition of letters; cf. वर्णव्यत्यये चाथन्तरगमनात् (अर्थवन्तो वर्णाः); M. Bh. on Śiva Sūtra 5; cf. कृतेस्तर्कुः कसेः सिकताः । हिंसेः सिंहः । वर्णव्यत्ययो नार्थव्यत्ययः । M. Bh. on Śiva Sūtra 5.

वर्णसमाम्नाय a collection of letters or alphabet given traditionally. Although the Sanskrit alphabet has got everywhere the same cardinal letters i.e. vowels अ, इ etc., consonants क्, ख् etc., semivowels य्, र्, ल्, व्, sibilants श् ष् स् ह् and a few additional phonetic units such as अनुस्वार, विसर्ग and others, still their number and order differ in the different traditional enumerations. Pāṇini has not mentioned them actually but the fourteen Śiva Sūtras, on which he has based his work, mention only 9 vowels and 34 consonants, the long vowels being looked upon as varieties of the short ones. The Śikṣā of Pāṇini mentions 63 or 64 letters, adding the letter ङ (दुःस्पृष्ट); cf. त्रिषष्टिः चतुःषष्टिर्वा वर्णाः शम्भुमते मताः Pāṇini Śikṣā. St. 3. The Rk Prātiśākhya adds four (Visarga, Jihvāmūliya, Upadhmaniya and Anusvāra) to the forty three given in the Śiva Sūtras and mentions 47. The Taittirīya Prātiśākhya mentions 52 letters viz. 16 vowels, 25 class consonants, 4 semivowels, six sibilants (श्, ष्, स्, ह्, ञ्, ञ्) and anusvāra. The Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya mentions 65 letters 3 varieties of अ, इ, उ, ऋ and ॢ, two varieties of ए, ऐ, ओ, औ, 25 class-consonants, four semivowels, four sibilants, and जिह्वामूलीय, उपध्मानीय, अनुस्वार, विसर्जनीय, नासिक्य, and four यम letters; cf. एते पञ्चषष्टिवर्णा ब्रह्मराशिरात्मवाचः V. Pr. VIII. 25. The Rk Tantra gives 57 letters viz. 14 vowels. 25 class consonants, 4 semivowels, 4 sibilants, Visarga, Jihvāmūliya, Upadhmaniya, Anunāsika, 4 yamas and two Anusvāras. The Rk Tantra gives two different serial orders, the Uddeśa (common), and the Upadeśa (traditional). The common order or Uddeśa gives the 14 vowels beginning with अ, then the 25 class consonants, then the four semivowels, the four sibilants and lastly the eight ayogavāhas, viz. the visarjanīya and others. The traditional order gives the diphthongs first, then long vowels (आ, ऋ, ॢ, ई and ऊ) then short vowels (ऋ, ॢ, इ, उ and lastly अ), then semivowels, then the five fifth consonants, the five fourths, the five thirds, the five seconds, the five firsts, then the four sibilants and then the eight ayogavāha letters and two Anusvāras instead of one anusvāra. Pāṇini appears to have followed the traditional order with a few changes that are necessary for the technique of his work.

वर्णसूत्र by Candragomin, is a Śikṣā work of Cāndra system of grammar. In about twenty-three sūtras, it describes topics like Sthāna, Karaṇa, Prayatna and so on.

वर्णार्थवत्त्व the view that letters do not possess the sense, as individually in every letter no separate sense is seen; cf. अनर्थकास्तु etc. M. Bh. on Śiva Sūtra 5, Vārt. 14 and 15.

वर्णार्थवत्त्व the theory or view that individual letters are severally possessed of different senses. For instance, the difference in the meanings of the words कूप, रूप, and सूप, is due to the difference in their initial letter. The theory is not acceptable to the Vaiyākaraṇas nor the theory वर्णार्थवत्त्व given above. They follow the theory of संवातार्थवत्त्व i.e. sense given by a group of words together. See M. Bh. on Śiva Sūtra 5, Vārttikas 9 to 15.

वर्णाश्रय a grammatical operation depending upon a single letter i.e. an operation caused by a letter singly ; cf. वर्णाश्रये नास्ति प्रत्यक्षणम् । Par. Śek. Pari. 21 ; cf. also वर्णाश्रयः प्रत्ययो वर्ण-विचालस्यानिमित्तम् । दाक्षिः । M. Bh. on P. I. 1.39 Vārt. 10.

वर्णिकुवेरनाथ or वर्णिकुवेरानन्द an old writer on grammar who has written a work named शब्दविवरण on the meanings of words. The work forms a part of his bigger work दानभागवत. Both the works are incomplete. The शब्दविवरण is based mostly upon ancient grammar works of Patañjali, Vararuci, Vārttikakāra, Śarvavarman, Bharṭhari and others.

वर्णैकदेश a part or a portion of a combined letter i.e. संयुक्तस्वर or संयुक्तव्यञ्जन. The diphthongs or संयुक्तस्वराः are divisible into two Svaras, for instance, ऐ into आ and ए, औ into आ and ओ. Similarly double consonants like क्क्, च्च्, ञ्म, क्त् etc. are also divisible. Regarding the point raised whether the individual parts can be looked upon as separate letters for undergoing or causing a grammatical operation, the decision of the grammarians is that they cannot be looked upon as separate, when they are completely mixed as the diphthongs ; cf. नाव्यपवृक्तस्यावयवस्य तद्वि-धिर्यथा द्रव्येषु M. Bh. on Śiva Sūtra 3, 4 Vārt. 6.

वर्तै a term used by ancient grammarians and later on by commentators for compound words ; cf. वर्तनं वर्तैः समासः Nyāsa on Kāś. II. 4.15.

वर्तमान the present tense ; cf. वर्तमाने लट् P. III. 2.123 ; cf. also क्तस्य च वर्तमाने P. II. 3 67 ; also वर्तमानसामीप्ये वर्तमानवद्वा P. III. 3.131.

वर्तमानात् a term used by ancient grammarians for the present tense, along with the term वर्तमान also ; cf. यदा हि बुद्धिकर्म तदा वर्तमाना भविष्यति, M. Bh. on P. III. 3.133 Vārt. 8. See also Vāk. pad. III. 9.

वर्तिन् from वर्तै which means a compound ; see वर्तै. (1) The term वर्तिन् or वर्तिपद is used in the sense of a member of a compound ; cf. वर्तोस्यास्तीति वर्ति समासावयवभूतम् Nyāsa on P. II. 4. 15. (2) the term वर्तिन् is also used for a syllable (अक्षरम्) ; cf. वर्ति R. T. 47, explained by the commentator as अकारादिषु वर्तै व्यञ्जनं वर्ति चाप्यक्षरं भवति । cf. also गुर्वक्षराणां गुर्वृत्ति सर्वं R. Pr. XVIII. 32.

वर्त्स्ये lit. gingival, or produced at the gums ; the letter र according to some scholars who believe that र is produced at the root of the teeth i.e. at the gums ; cf. एके आचार्या रेफं वर्त्स्ये-मिच्छन्ति । वर्त्से भवो वर्त्स्यैः । वर्त्सेशब्देन दन्तमूला-दुपरिष्ठादुच्छूनः प्रदेशः (gums) उच्यते Uvvaṭa on R. Pr. I. 20.

वर्धमान (1) a long vowel ; (2) name of a famous Jain grammarian, disciple of Govindasūri, who lived in the beginning of the twelfth century A.D. and wrote a metrical work on gaṇas or groups of words in grammar, named गणरत्नमहोदधि, and also a commentary on it. The work consists of 8 chapters and has got some commentaries besides the well-known one by the author himself. He also wrote two other works on grammar कातन्त्रविस्तर and क्रियागुप्तक as also a few religious books.

वर्ष name of an ancient scholar of grammar and Mīmāṃsā, cited by some as the preceptor of कात्यायन and Pāṇini. If not of Pāṇini, he may have been a preceptor of Kātyāyana, वर्त्य or वर्त्य gingival, produced at the gums ; the word वर्त्य is probably the correct word meaning the root of the teeth or gums ; the word वर्स also used in the same sense as वर्त्य from which the word वर्त्य could be derived. वर्त्य and वर्त्य are only the variant pronunciations of वर्त्य and वर्त्य. The word वर्त्य, with त् inserted between र् and स, is given above as explained by Uvvaṭa from वर्स. It is very likely that वर्स is wrongly written for वर्त्य or वर्स.

वाक्यकार a term used for a writer who composes a work in pithy, brief assertions in the manner of Sūtras, such as the Vārttikas. The term is found used in Bhartṛhari's Mahābhāṣyadīpikā where by contrast with the term Bhāṣyakāra it possibly refers to the Vārttikakāra Kātyāyana; cf. एषा साध्यकारस्य कल्पना न वाक्यकारस्य Bhartṛhari Mahābhāṣyadīpikā. cf. also Nāgeśa's statement वाक्यकारो वातिकमारभते; cf. also चुलुम्पादयो वाक्यकारीयाः Mādhaviyā Dhātuvṛtti.

वाक्यपदी name of a work on the denotation of words in verse-form with a commentary of his own written by a grammarian named गङ्गादास. The वाक्यपदीय a celebrated work on meanings of words and sentences written by the famous grammarian Bhartṛhari (called also Hari) of the fifth century. The work is looked upon as a final authority regarding the grammatical treatment of words and sentences for their interpretation and often quoted by later grammarians. It consists of three Chapters, Brahmakāṇḍa, Vākyakāṇḍa & Prakīrṇakāṇḍa and has got excellent commentaries written by Bhartṛhari himself on the Brahma & Vākyakāṇḍas, by Puṅyarāja on the Vākyakāṇḍa and by Helārāja on the Prakīrṇakāṇḍa.

वाक्यपरिसमाप्ति completion of the idea to be expressed in a sentence or in a group of sentences by the wording actually given, leaving nothing to be understood as contrasted with वाक्यपरिसमाप्ति used in the Mahābhāṣya; cf. वाक्यपरिसमाप्तिर्वा P. I. 1.10 Vārt. 4 and the Mahābhāṣya thereon. There are two ways in which such a completion takes place, singly and collectively; cf. प्रत्येकं वाक्यपरिसमाप्तिं सुसिद्धात् by the usual example देवदत्तयज्ञ-दत्तविष्णुमित्रा भोज्यन्ताम् where Patañjali remarks प्रत्येकं (प्रत्येकं) मुञ्जिः परिसमाप्यते; cf. also समुदाये वाक्यपरिसमाप्तिः where Patañjali remarks गणाः शतं दृश्यन्ताम् ।

वाक्यपाठ the same as Vārtikapāṭha for which see below. The word is used by Haradatta in his Padamañjarī, cp. खिलपाठो धातुपाठः प्रातिपदिकपाठो वाक्यपाठश्च । on Kāśikā on P. I. 3.2.

वाक्यभेद a serious fault of expression when a sentence is required to be divided into two sentences for the sake of its proper interpretation; cf. केचिद्वा सुष्यापिशलेरित्यनुवर्तयन्ति तद्वाक्यभेदेन सुष्यातो विकल्पं करोति Kāś on P. वाक्यसंस्कारपक्ष the grammarian's theory that as the individual words have practically no existence as far as the interpretation or the expression of sense is concerned, the sentence alone being capable of conveying the sense, the formation of individual words in a sentence is explained by putting them in a sentence and knowing their mutual relationship. The word गाम् cannot be explained singly by showing the base गो and the case ending अम् unless it is seen in the sentence गाम् आनय; cf. यथा वाक्यसंस्कारपक्षे कृष्णादिसंबुद्धयन्त उपपदे ऋषेः क्तिनि कृते कृष्ण ऋषि इति स्थिते असिद्धत्वात्पूर्वमादगुणे कृते अचो रहाभ्यामिति द्वित्वं...Pari. Bhāskara Pari. 99. The view is put in alternation with the other view, viz. the पदसंस्कारपक्ष which has to be accepted in connection with the गौणमुख्यन्याय; cf. पदस्यैव गौणार्थकत्वस्य ग्रहेण अस्य (गौणमुख्यन्यायस्य) पदकार्यविषयत्वमेवोचितम् । अन्यथा वाक्यसंस्कारपक्षे तेषु तदनापत्तिः Par. Śek. on Pari. 15. The grammarians usually follow the वाक्यसंस्कारपक्ष.

वाक्यार्थ the meaning of a sentence, which comes as a whole composite idea when all the constituent words of it are heard; cf. पदानां सामान्ये वर्तमानानां यद्विशेषेऽवस्थानं स वाक्यार्थः, M. Bh. on P. I. 2.45 Vārt. 4. According to later grammarians the import or meaning of a sentence (वाक्यार्थ) flashes out suddenly in the mind of the hearer immediately after the sentence is completely uttered. The import is named प्रतिभा by Bhartṛhari, cf. Vākya-padiya II.45; cf. also वाक्यार्थश्च प्रतिभामान्नविषयः Laghu-mañjūṣā. For details and the six kinds of vākyaārtha, see Vākya-padiya II.154.

लिङ्गता असंख्यता च (अन्ययानाम्) । स्वाभाविकमेतत् M. Bh. on P. I. 1.38 Vārt. 5 and P. II. 2.6; cf. also M. Bh. on P. I. 2.64 Vārt. 53.

I. 4. 1; cf. also वाच्य ऊर्णोर्णुवद्भावः M. Bh. on P. III. 1.22 Vārt. 3; III. 1.36 Vārt. 6.

वाजप्यायन an ancient grammarian who holds the view that words denote always the jāti i.e. they always convey the generic sense and that the individual object or the case is understood in connection with the statement or the word, as a natural course, when the purpose is not served by taking the generic sense; cf. आकृत्यभिधानाद्वा एकं शब्दं विभक्तौ वाजप्यायन आचार्यो न्याय्यं मन्यते M. Bh. on P. I. 2.64 Vārt. 35.

वाजसनेयिप्रातिशाख्य the Prātiśākhya work belonging to the Vājasaneyi branch of the White Yajurveda, which is the only Prātiśākhya existing today representing all the branches of the Śukla Yajurveda. Its authorship is attributed to Kātyāyana, and on account of its striking resemblance with Pāṇini's sūtras at various places, its author Kātyā-

yana is likely to be the same as the Vārttikakāra Kātyāyana. It is quite reasonable to expect that the subject matter in this Prātiśākhya is based on that in the ancient Prātiśākhya works of the same White school of the Yajurveda. The work has a lucid commentary called Bhāṣya written by Uvvaṭa.

वाहव possibly the same as Kuṅara-vāḍava; an ancient grammarian quoted in the Mahābhāṣya; cf. तत्र सौर्यभगवतोक्तमनिष्टिज्ञो वाहवः पठति, M. Bh. on P. VIII. 2.106 Vārt 3.

वाणी speech; utterance; the same as वाच् which is believed to be of four kinds as cited by the grammarians and explained by Bhartṛhari; the four kinds are based upon the four places of origin, the three first places belonging to the inarticulate speech and the fourth belonging to the articulate one; cf. चत्वारि वाक्परिमिता पदानि तानि विदुर्ब्रह्मणा ये मनीषिणः । गुहा त्रीणि निहिता नेह्यन्ति तुरीयं वाचो मनुष्या वदन्ति॥ M. Bh. I Āhnika 1 and the Pradīpa and Uddyota thereon.

वादनक्षत्रमाला a work on grammatical debates etc. by Appaya Dikṣita, a well-known scholar and a senior contemporary of Jagannātha in the seventeenth century.

वादि roots headed by वा and similar to वा. Really there is no class of roots headed by वा given anywhere but in the interpretation of the rule मूवादयो धातवः it is suggested that 'the roots which are similar to वा are termed roots (धातु)' could also be the interpretation of the rule; cf. मूवादय इति च वादय इति M. Bh. on P. I. 3. 1. Vārt. 11.

वादिवटसुदूर name of a commentary on the Sārasvatā Vyākaraṇa by a grammarian named Jayanta.

वामन name of one of the joint authors of the well-known gloss or वृत्ति upon the Sūtras of Pāṇini, who lived in the seventh century A. D. It cannot be ascertained which portion of the Kāśikā was written by Vāmana and which by his colleague जयादित्य. There was another famous scholar of Kashmīr by name Vāmana who flourished in the tenth century and who wrote an independent grammar treatise विश्रान्तविद्याधर, together with उणादिसूत्रवृत्ति and लिङ्गानुशासन.

Pr. XIII. 13, V. Pr. I. 7-9; T. Pr. II. 2; Śikṣā of Pāṇini st. 6. According to Taitt. Saṁ. VI. 4.7 Vāyu helped Indra in producing words.

वारणावतेश a grammarian of the seventeenth century who wrote a gloss named अमृतसृति on the Prakriyā-kaumudī. He is also known as Vāraṇāvanaśa.

वाररुच a work attributed to वाररुचि; cf. वाररुचं काव्यम् M. Bh. on P. IV. 3.101; cf. also वाररुचो ग्रन्थः S. K. on P. IV. 3.

101. This work possibly was not a grammar work and its author also was not the same as the Vārttikakāra Kātyāyana. See वररुचि above. The name वाररुचव्याकरण was given possibly to Kātyāyana's Prākṛt Grammar, the author of which was वररुचि surnamed Kātyāyana. For details see p. 395 Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya Vol. VII. D. E. Society's Edition.

वाररुचकारिका an ancient grammar-work in verse believed to have been written by an ancient scholar of grammar, who, if not the same as Kātyāyana who wrote the Vārttikas, was his contemporary and to whom the authorship of the Uṇādi Sūtras is ascribed by some scholars. See वररुचि.

वाररुचसंग्रह a grammar work of twenty-five verses on case-construction, compounds, verbs and nominal formation fathered on Vararuci Kātyāyana.

वार्त्ति of no use; serving no purpose; the word is possibly derived from वार्त्ता (लोकवार्त्ता) meaning people's gossip; cf. एतच्च वार्त्तम् M. Bh. on P. I. 2.64 Vārt. 25; also on P. II. 2.24, II. 4.13 etc.

वार्त्ताक्ष an ancient grammarian who held the view that the intended sense in the case of a sentence, has a stable and real existence and the division of a sentence into several words, put into four categories, is all imaginary; he is referred to by भरतृहरि with औदुम्बरायण who is mentioned by यास्क (निरुक्त I.1-2.)

वार्त्तिक a statement which is as much authoritative as the original statement to which it is given as an addition for purposes of correction, completion or explanation. The word is defined by old writers in an often-quoted verse उक्तानुक्तदुस्तानां चिन्ता यत्र प्रवर्तते । तं ग्रन्थं वार्त्तिकं प्राहुर्वार्त्तिकज्ञा मनीषिणः ॥ This definition fully applies to the Vārttikas on the Sūtras of Pāṇini. The word is explained by Kaiyaṭa as वृत्तौ साधु वार्त्तिकम् which gives strength to the supposition that there were glosses on the Sūtras of Pāṇini of which the Vārttikas formed a faithful pithy summary of the topics discussed. The word Vārttika is used in the Mahābhāṣya at two places only हन्तेः पूर्वविप्रतिषेधो वार्त्तिकेनैव ज्ञापितः M. Bh. on P. III. 4.37 Vārt. 3. and अपर आह यद्वात्तिक इति M. Bh. on P. II. 2.24 Vārt. 18. In अपर आह यद्वात्तिक इति the word is contrasted with the word वृत्तिसूत्र which means the original Sūtra (of Pāṇini) which has been actually quoted, viz. संख्ययाव्ययासन्ना० II. 2.25. Nāgeśa gives 'सूत्रे अनुक्तदुस्तचिन्ताकारसं वार्त्तिकत्वम् as the definition of a Vārttika which refers only to two out of the three features of the Vārttikas stated above. If the word उक्त has been omitted with a purpose by Nāgeśa, the definition may well-nigh lead to support the view that the genuine Vārttikapāṭha of Kātyāyana consisted of a smaller number of Vārttikas which along with a large number of Vārttikas of other writers are quoted in the Mahābhāṣya, without specific names of writers. For details see pages 193-223 Vol. VII Pāṭāñjala Mahābhāṣya, D. E. Society's Edition.

वार्त्तिककार believed to be Kātyāyana to whom the whole bulk of the Vārttikas quoted in the Mahābhāṣya is attributed by later grammarians. Patañjali gives the word वार्त्तिककार in four places only (in the Mahābhāṣya on P. I. 1.34, III. 1.44, III. 2.118 and VII. 1.1) out of which his statement

कारः प्रतिषेधेन करोति in explanation of the Śloka-vārttika स्यादिविधिः...इति ब्रवता कात्यायनेनेह, shows that Patañjali gives कात्यायन as the Vārttikakāra (of Vārttikas in small prose statements) and the Śloka-vārttika is not composed by Kātyāyana. As assertions similar to those made by other writers are quoted with the names of their authors (भारद्वाजीयाः, सौनागाः, क्रोष्टीयाः etc.) in the Mahābhāṣya, it is evident that the Vārtti-kas quoted in the Mahābhāṣya—(even excluding the Śloka-vārttikas) did not all belong to Kātyāyana.
For details see pp. 193-200, Vol.
VII, Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya, D.
E. Society's Edition.

वार्त्तिकपाठ the text of the Vārttikas as traditionally handed over in the oral recital or in manuscripts. As observed above (see वार्त्तिक), although a large number of Vārttikas quoted in the Mahābhāṣya are ascribed to Kātyāyana, the genuine Vārttikapāṭha giving such Vārttikas only, as were definitely composed by him,
has not been preserved and Nāgeśa has actually gone to the length of making a statement like “वार्त्तिकपाठः ऋष्टः”; cf. Uddyota on P. I. 1.12
Vārttika 6.

वार्त्तिकवचन a small pithy statement or assertion in the manner of the original sūtras which is held as much authoritative as the Sūtra;
cf. न ब्रूमो वृत्तिसूत्रवचनप्रामाण्यादिति । किं तर्हि । वार्त्तिकवचनप्रामाण्यादिति । M.Bh. on
P. II. 1.1 Vārttika 23.

वार्त्तिकसिद्धान्त categorical conclusive statements made by the Vārttikakāra many of which were cited later on as Paribhāṣās by later writers. For details see pp. 212-220

Vol. VII, Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya,
D. E. Society's Edition.

वार्त्तिकसूत्र the same as वार्त्तिकवचन which see above. The Vārttikas are termed Vārttika sūtras on account of their close similarity with the original Sūtras, which in contrast are termed Vṛttsūtras.

वाच्यार्थयणि an ancient grammarian quoted in the Mahābhāṣya and the Nirukta in connection with the six-fold division of bhāva or verbal

III. 1.31 Vart. 2; cf. also M. Bh. on
P. III. 1.94.

वासरूपन्याय the dictum of applying optionally any two or more kṛt affixes to a root if they become applicable at one and the same time, only provided that those affixes are not in the topic of स्त्रियाम् (P. III. 3.
94 etc.) and are not the same in appearance such as ण, अ, क etc., which are the same viz. अ; cf. वासरूपो- स्त्रियाम् P. III. 1.94; cf. also वासरूप-न्यायेन ण्वुलपि भविष्यति M. Bh. on P. III.
2.146 Vart. 1; cf. also M. Bh. on P.
III. 2.150 Vart. 1. The words वासरूप and वासरूपविधि are also used in the same sense; cf. ताच्छीलिका वासरूपेण न

भवन्तीति M. Bh. on P. III. 2.150 Vārt. 2, as also ताच्छीलिकेषु वासरूपविधिर्नास्ति Par. Śek. Pari. 67.

वासिष्ठीशिक्षा a शिक्षा work belonging to the White Yajurveda. It is a selection from the Sarvānukramaṇī and is therefore a late work. Another work of the same name belongs to the Taittiriya school of the Black Yajurveda. It seems to be older than Vaidikābharana.

वासुदेव दीक्षित son of महादेव दीक्षित, the author of the Bālamānoraṁā, a commentary on the Siddhāntakaumudī. Vāsudevadiḥṣita was a resident of Tanjore who lived in the beginning of the eighteenth century A.D. and wrote a few works on Pūrvamīmāṁsā.

वासुदेव (शास्त्री) surnamed Abhyankar, who lived from 1863 to 1942 and did vigorous and active work of teaching pupils and writing essays, articles, commentary works and original works on various Śāstras with the same scholarship, zeal and acumen for fifty years in Poona. He wrote गृह्यार्थप्रकाश, a commentary on the Laghuśabdenduśekhara and तत्त्वादर्श, a commentary on the Paribhāṣenduśekhara in 1889. His works total more than twenty-five. His edition of the Pātañjala Mahābhāṣya with full translation and notes in Marāthī can be called his magnum opus. See अभ्यंकर.

वि (1) Uṇādi affix वि quoted by Pāṇini in the rule जाप्रोऽविचिण्णलडित्सु VII. 1.85; e.g. जागृविः; cf. जुष्टस्तृजागृभ्यः क्विन् Uṇādi IV. 54; also वृद्ध्यां विन् IV. 53; (2) common term for the affixes क्विप्, क्विन्, च्वि, ण्वि, ण्विन्, विच् and विद्. See व्.

विकरण an affix placed between a root and the personal ending, for showing the specific tense or mood or voice to convey which, the personal ending is applied; e.g. the conjugational signs शप्, इयन्, श्चु, श, शम्, उ, श्वा and यक्, आम्, as also स्य, तास्, सिप्, आम् and च्चि with its substitutes. Although the term विकरण is used by ancient grammarians and freely used by the Mahābhāṣyakāra in connection with the affixes, mentioned in the sūtras of Pāṇini, such as शप्, इयन् and others, the term is not found in the Sūtras of Pāṇini. The vikaraṇas are different from the major kinds of the regular affixes तिच्, कृत्य and other similar ones. The vikaraṇas can be called कृत्; so also, as they are mentioned in the topic (अधिकार) of affixes or Pratyayas, they hold the designation 'pratyaya'. For the use of the word विकरण see M. Bh. on P. I. 3. 12, III. 1.31 and VI. 1.5. The term विकरण is found in the Yājñavalkya Śikṣā in the sense of change, (cf. उपधारञ्जनं कुर्यान्मनोविकरणे सति) and possibly the ancient grammarians used it in that very sense as they found the root कृ modified as करु or कुरु, or च्वि as चिनु, or श्चु as भव before the regular personal endings तिप्, तस् etc.

विकर्ष (1) a fault in the utterance of a vowel with its proper accent (acute, grave or circumflex) which results from the proper accent being mixed

विकृत mutilated, changed in nature; e.g. the word राम into राम् in रामौ which is equivalent to राम् + औ. For technical purposes in grammar a word, although mutilated a little by lopa, āgama or varṇavikāra, is looked upon as the original one for undergoing operations; cf. एकदेशविकृतमनन्यवत् Par. Śek. Pari. 37.

विकृतनिर्देश utterance of a word in its mutilated form with some object in view; e.g. दीव्यत् for दीव्यति in प्राग्दीव्यतोऽण् P. IV. 1.83; cf. किं पुनः कारणं विकृतनिर्देशः क्रियते । M. Bh. on P. IV. 1.83; cf. also कर्म इति विकृतनिर्देशः रूपतेनिर्देश्यर्थः Kās. on P. VI. 1.159; cf. also गोह इति विकृतिकरणं विषयाधर्मम् Kās. on P. VI. 4.89.

विक्रान्त name given to a saṁdhi where the visarga remains intact although it can optionally be changed into a sibilant consonant; e.g. यः ककुभः, यः

पञ्च, यो वः शिवतमो रसः । cf. विक्रान्तसंधिस्तु
प्राक्तोपधो वेदितव्यो यत्र विसर्गः श्रूयेत R. Pr.
IV. 11.

It is also divided into two kinds according to the nature of the constituent words (a) स्वपदविग्रह separation by means of the constituent words, e.g. राजहितम् into राज्ञे हितम्; (b) अस्वपदविग्रह, e.g. राजार्थम् into राज्ञे इदम्; or e.g. सुसुखी into शोभनं मुखं अस्याः cf. M. Bh. on P. V. 4.7. The compounds whose separation into constituent words cannot be shown by those words (viz. the constituent words) are popularly termed nityasamāsa. The term नित्यसमास is explained as नित्यः समासो नित्यसमासः । यस्य विग्रहो नास्ति । M. Bh. on P. II. 2.19 Vārt. 4. The upapadasamāsa is described as नित्यसमास. Sometimes especially in some Dvandva compounds each of the two separated words is capable of giving individually the senses of both the words e.g. the words चावा and क्षामा of the compound चावाक्षामा. The word विग्रह is found used in the Prātiśākhya works in the sense of the separate use of a word as contrasted with the use in a compound; cf. अच्छेति विग्रहे प्लुतं भवति R. Pr. VII. 1. विग्रह is defined as वृत्त्यर्थोपबोधकं वाक्यं विग्रहः in the Siddhāntakaumudī.

I. 4.2; cf. also यत्र द्वौ प्रसङ्गौ अन्याथो एकस्मिन् युगपत् प्राप्नुतः स

तुल्यबलविरोधो विप्रतिषेधः । Kāś. on P. I. 4.2 ; cf. also विप्रतिषेध उत्तरं बलवदलोपे V. Pr. I. 159. The dictum of the application of the subsequent rule is adopted only if the conflicting rules are of equal strength ; hence, rules which are either nitya, antaraṅga or apavāda, among which each subsequent one is more powerful than the preceding one and which are all more powerful than the पर or the subsequent rule, set aside the पर rule. There is another dictum that when by the dictum about the subsequent rule being more powerful, an earlier rule is set aside by a later rule, the earlier rule does not apply again in that instance, barring a few exceptional cases ; cf. सङ्कलितौ विप्रतिषेधे यद् बाधितं तद् बाधितमेव । पुनःप्रसङ्गविज्ञानात् सिद्धम् Par. Śek. Pari. 40, 39.

The word विभक्ति is generally used in the sense of case affixes ; but in Pāṇini's grammar the term विभक्ति is applied also to personal endings applied to roots to form verbs ; cf. विभक्तिश्च । सुप्तिङौ विभक्तिसंज्ञौ स्तः S. K. on P. I.4. 104. The term is also applied to tad. affixes which are applied to pronouns, किम् and बहु, ending in the ablative or in the locative case or in other cases on rare occasions. Such affixes are तस् (तसिद्), त्र (त्रिद्), ह, अत्, दा, ऋहिल्, दानीम्, था (थाल्) and थम् given in P. V. 3.1 to V. 3.26. The case affixes are further divided into उपपदविभक्ति affixes and कारकविभक्ति affixes. For details see P. II. 3.1 to 73.

विभक्तिप्रतिरूपक a term applied to such words ending with kṛt affixes as appear similar to words ending with case-affixes ; such words have no further case affixes put after them, and hence, they are called by the term 'avyaya' ; e.g. कर्तुम् ; cf. विभक्तिप्रतिरूपकमव्ययम् similar to उपसर्ग-विभक्तिस्वरप्रतिरूपकश्च निपाताः Gaṇasūtra inside the Cādigāṇa P. I. 4-57.

विभक्तिविपरिणाम supposition of a different case affix in the place of that which is actually stated, for purposes of construing and interpreting. cf. Vāk. pad. III. 14.468.

विभक्तिस्वरप्रतिरूपक similar in form to a word ending in a case-affix or to a vowel. Such words are looked upon and are treated as indeclinables ; e.g. शनैः, चिरेण, अस्ति, उ, ए etc. ; cf. the usual expressions तिङन्तप्रतिरूपक-

मन्वयम् etc. cf. विभक्तिस्वरप्रतिरूपकाश्च निपाता भवन्ति M. Bh. on P. VIII. 3.1 ; cf. also उपसर्गविभक्तिस्वरप्रतिरूपकाश्च निपाताः a Gaṇasūtra inside the चादिगण mentioned in P. I. 4.57.

विभक्त्यर्थप्रधान an indeclinable, which is generally described as having the sense of a case affix predominant in it ; e.g. तत्र, अथः, नीचैः etc. ; some indeclinables have the sense of a root viz. the verb-activity as predominant ; cf. किञ्चिद्व्ययं विभक्त्यर्थप्रधानं किञ्चित् क्रियाप्रधानम् M. Bh. on P. I. 1.38.

विभज्यान्वाख्यान a method of forming a word, or of arriving at the complete form of a word by putting all the constituent elements of the word such as the base, the affix, the augment, the modification, the accent, etc. one after another and then arriving at the form instead of completing the formation stage by stage ; e.g. in arriving at the form सौमि the wording सौमि+अ+ई is to be considered as it stands and not सौमि+अ. = सौमि and then सौमि+ई. The विभज्यान्वाख्यानपक्ष in connection with the formation of a word corresponds to the पदसंस्कारपक्ष in connection with the formation of a sentence.

I. 1.44) in consonance with its derivation from the root भाष् with वि ; cf. नेति प्रतिषेधे वेति विकल्पस्तयोः प्रतिषेधविकल्पयोर्विभाषेति संज्ञा भवति । विभाषाप्रदेशेषु प्रतिषेधविकल्पाद्युपतिष्ठेते । तत्र प्रतिषेधेन समीकृते विषये पश्चाद्विकल्पः प्रवर्तते. The option (विभाषा) is further divided into three kinds प्राप्ते विभाषा, अप्राप्ते विभाषा and उभयत्र विभाषा. For details see Mahābhāṣya on P. I. 1.44.

विभाषित (1) stated or enjoined optionally ; cf. मेध्यः पशुविभाषितः । आलन्धव्यो नालन्धव्य इति M. Bh. on P. I. 1.44 Vārt. 15 ; cf. also मन्ये घातुर्विभाषितः । M. Bh. on P. III. 1.27 Vārt. 4 ;

विमलमति an old grammarian who is believed to have written a gloss named भागवृत्ति on Pāṇini's Sūtras to which the grammarians Puruṣot-tamadeva, Śīradeva and others of the twelfth century refer. Some scholars say that भागवृत्ति was written by भर्तृहरि ; but it is not feasible, as there is a reference to Māghakāvya in भागवृत्ति. In books on grammar, especially of the Eastern School in the 11th and the 12th century, there are several quotations from the Bhāgavṛtti. See भागवृत्ति.

विमुक्तादि a class of words headed by the word विमुक्त to which the taddhita affix अ (अण्) is added in the sense of 'possessed of', provided the word so formed, denotes a chapter or a lesson of a sacred work ; cf. विमुक्तशब्दोस्मिन्नस्ति वेमुक्तकोध्यायः अनुवाको वा । देवासुरः । Kāś. on P. V. 2.61.

विमोक्ष liberation of the last letter (especially a class consonant) of a word from phonetic modifications by coalescence with the initial letter of the following word, or liberation of modification of a consonant or vowel standing at the end of a verse or sometimes even in the middle of a verse ; e.g. तद् नो

मित्रः, सम् यौमि, संमधुमतीर्मधुमतीभिः पृच्यन्तान् शुक्रं दुदुहे अहयः ; cf. V. Pr. I. 90, 91.

विराम omission of a consonant, sometimes when it is preceded and also followed by another consonant, as if it were squeezed between the two; this is no doubt looked upon as a fault ; e.g. the omission of the consonant द् in उपमा षद् द्वा द्वा uttered as उपमा षद् वा द्वा ; cf. अन्योन्येन व्यञ्जनानां विरामः R. Pr. XIV. 16. where Uvvaṭa explains विराम as लोप.

विराम an ancient term used in the Prātiśākhya works for a stop or pause in general at the end of a word, or at the end of the first member of a compound, which is shown split up in the Padapāṭha, or inside a word, or at the end of a word, or at the end of a vowel when it is followed by another vowel. The duration of this virāma is different in different circumstances ; but sometimes under the same circumstances, it is described differently in the different Prātiśākhyas. Generally, there is no pause between two consonants as also between a vowel and a consonant preceding or following it. The Taittirīya Prātiśākhya has given four kinds of विराम (a) ऋग्विराम, pause at the end of a foot or a verse of duration equal to three mātrās or moras, (b) पदविराम pause between two words of duration equal to two mātrās ; e.g. इषे त्वा ऊँजे त्वा, (c) pause between two words the preceding one of which ends in a vowel and the following begins with a vowel, the vowels being not euphonically combined ; this pause has a duration of one mātrā e.g. स इधानः, त एनम्, (d) pause between two vowels inside a word which is a rare occurrence ; this has a duration of half a mātrā ; e.g. प्रउगम्, तित्तः ; cf. ऋग्विरामः पदविरामो विद्वृत्तिविरामः समान-

पदविवृत्तिविरामस्त्रिमात्रो द्विमात्र एकमात्रोर्धमात्र इत्यानुपूर्व्येण T. Pr. XXII. 13. The word विवृत्ति is explained as स्वरयोसंधिः. The vivṛtti-virāma is further divided into वत्सानुसृति which has the preceding vowel short and the succeeding long, वत्सानुसारिणी which has the preceding vowel a long one and the succeeding vowel a short one, पाकवती which has both the vowels short, and पिपीलिका which has got both the vowels long. This four-fold division is given in the Śikṣā where their duration is given as one mātrā, one mātrā, three-fourths of a mātrā and one-fourth of a mātrā respectively. The duration between the two words of a compound word when split up in the पदपाठ is also equal to one mātrā; cf. R. Pr. I. 16. The word विराम occurs in Pāṇini's rule विरामोऽज्ञानम् P. I. 4.110 where commentators have explained it as absence; cf. वर्णानामभावोवसानसंज्ञः स्यात् S. K. on P. I. 4.110; cf. also विरतिविरामः। विरम्यते अनेन इति वा विरामः Kās. on P. I. 4.110. According to Kāśikā even in the Saṁhitā text, there is a duration of half a mātrā between the various phonetic elements, even between two consonants or between a vowel and a consonant, which, however, is quite imperceptible; cf. परो यः संनिकर्षो वर्णानां अर्धमात्राकालव्यवधानं स संहितासंज्ञो भवति Kās. on P. I. 4.109, cf. also विरामे मात्रा R. T. 35; cf. also R. Pr. I. 16 and 17. For details see Mahābhāṣya on P. I. 4.109 and I. 4.110.

as stronger and given preference to, as far as its application is concerned; cf. तुल्यबल्योविरोधो विप्रतिषेधः। विप्रतिषेधे परं कार्यम् P. I. 4.2; (2) contradiction where one thing prevents another; cf. सर्वनामस्थाने इति अनुवर्तमानमपि विरोधादिह न संबध्यते Kās. on P. VII. 1.86.

Bh. on P. I. 1.70; cf. also द्रुतविलम्बितयोश्चानुपदेशात् P. I. 1.69 Vārt. 11.

T. 87 which is explained by the commentator as शकन्धुकादीनां च न संनिकृष्यते.

शकन्ध्वादि name of a class of words in which an irregular coalescence of the vowels of the kind of the latter vowel in the place of the former and latter both is observed; e.g. शकन्धुः, कुलटा, सीमन्तः, मनीषा etc. cf. शकन्ध्वादिषु च (पररूपं वाच्यम्) P. VI. 1. 94 Vārt. 4.

It is described to be of two kinds—(a) स्मरिका शक्ति or recalling capacity which combines चैत्रत्व with पाक, and (b) अनुभाविका शक्ति which is responsible for the actual meaning of a sentence. For details see Vākyapadiya III.

शक्य the substratum of potentiality which forms the object pointed out by means of the potentiality to the hearer by the word (i.e. शब्द) which directly communicates the sense, in which case it is termed वाचक as contrasted with भेदक or श्रोतक when the sense, which is of the type of संबन्ध is conveyed rather indirectly. This nice division into वाचकता and भेदकता was introduced clearly by भरतृहरि; cf. Vākyapadiya Kāṇḍa 2.

The words formed with this शत् (अत्) affix are termed present participles in the declension of which, by virtue of the indicatory vowel ऋ in शत्, the augment नुम् is inserted after the last vowel of the base, and the root receives such modifications as are caused by a Sārvadhātuka affix, the affix शत् being looked upon as a Sārvadhātuka affix on account of the indicatory letter श्. The word ending in this affix शत् governs a noun forming its object, in the accusative case.

शत्स्वर the acute accent specifically stated for the vowel of the case-affix beginning with a vowel etc. prescribed by the rule शतुरनुमो नञजादी P. VI. 1.173; cf. शत्स्वर । तुदती नुदती... शतुरनुमो नञजादिरन्तोदात्तादित्येष स्वरो यथा स्यात् । M. Bh. on P. VIII. 2.6. Vārt 2.

This लिङ्गानुशासन has a commentary written by हर्षवर्धन. Evidently these grammarians शबरस्वामिन् and हर्षवर्धन are different from the famous author of the मीमांसाभाष्य and the patron of the poet Bāṇa respectively.

शबादेश the Vikaraṇa affixes इयन्, श, श्म्, उ and आ according to those who hold the view that these affixes do not form the exceptions of शप्, but they are substituted for शप् cf. शबादेशाः इत्यन्नादयः करिष्यन्ते M. Bh. on P. I. 1.27, II. 2.3, III. 1.33 and III. 1.67.

Bh. in Āhnika I; cf. also येनोच्चारितेन अर्थः प्रतीयते स शब्दः Śṛṅgāra Prakāśa I; cf. also अथ शब्दानुशासनम् M. Bh. Āhnika I. In the Vājasaneyi-Prātiśākhya, शब्द is said to be constituted of air as far as its nature is concerned, but it is taken to mean in the Prātiśākhya and grammar works in a restricted sense as letters possessed of sense. The Vājasaneyi-Prātiśākhya gives four kinds of words तिङ्, कृत्, तद्धित and समास while नाम, आख्यात, निपात and उपसर्ग are described to be the four kinds in the Nirukta. As शब्द in grammar is restricted to a phonetic unit possessed of sense, it can be applied to crude bases, affixes, as also to words that are completely formed with case-endings or personal affixes. In fact, taking it to be applicable to all such kinds, some grammarians have given twelve subdivisions of शब्द, viz. प्रकृति, प्रत्यय, उपस्कार, उपपद, प्रातिपदिक, विभक्ति, उपसर्जन, समास, पद, वाक्य, प्रकरण and प्रबन्ध; cf. Śṛṅgāra Prakāśa I.

This शब्दपरविप्रतिषेध is contrasted with the standard शास्त्रपरविप्रतिषेध which is laid down by Pāṇini in his rule विप्रतिषेधे परं कार्यम् and which lays down the superior strength of that rule which is put by Pāṇini later on in his Aṣṭādhyāyī; e.g. in the rule विभाषा गमहनविदविशाम्, it is not the word हन् although occurring earlier, but the word विश् occurring later in the rule, which helps us to decide which विद् should be taken. cf. ज्ञानार्थस्य सत्यपि विदिरूपत्वे अर्थस्य भेदकत्वेन रूपवदाश्रयणात्प्रतिषेधाभावः । यद्यपि हन्तिना साहचर्यं विदेरस्ति तथापि शब्दपरविप्रतिषेधाद् विशिर्व्यवस्थाहेतुर्न हन्तिः । Kaiyaṭa on P. शिक्षा general name given to a work on Phonetics. Although there are many such works which are all called शिक्षा, the work, which is often referred to, by the word, is the Śikṣā named पाणिनीयशिक्षा, about the authorship of which, however, there is a doubt whether it was the work of Pāṇini or of somebody belonging to his school. The Śikṣā works are helpful, no doubt, for the study of grammar, but no topic belonging to Śikṣā is given by Pāṇini which apparently means that these works do not come under the subject or province of Grammar. The reason why the Śikṣā topics are not given by Pāṇini, is worth consideration. These Śikṣā works are not specifically related to a particular Veda and it cannot be said whether they preceded or succeeded the Prātiśākhya works.

It is divided into eight chapters by the author and it deals with letters, their origin and their classification, the euphonic and other changes when the Saṁhitā text is rendered into the Pada text, and accents. The work appears to be a common work for all the different branches of the White Yajurveda, being probably based on the individually different Prātiśākhya works of the different branches of the Śukla Yajurveda composed in ancient times. Kātyāyana is traditionally believed to be the author of the work and very likely he was the same Kātyāyana who wrote the Vārttikas on the Sūtras of Pāṇini.

who has also written a commentary on the Śabdakaustubha called कौस्तुभ-गुण and सिद्धान्तकौमुदीगूढफिककाप्रकाश.

संवार one of the external efforts in the production of a sound when the gullet is a little bit contracted as at the time of the utterance of the third, fourth and the fifth of the class-consonants; cf. कण्ठविलस्य संकोचः संवारः Uddyota on P. I. 1.9.

संविज्ञात conventional; lit. known widely among the people, as a result, of course, of convention; cf. संविज्ञातानि तानि यथा गौरश्चः पुरुषो हस्तीति Nir. I. 12.

संविज्ञान apprehension; cf. बहुव्रीहौ तद्गुण-संविज्ञानमपि.

संविधान furnishing with the necessary material for an activity. cp. Vāk. pad. III. 12.8. cp. न हि संविधानमेव प्रेषः । अपि तु तत्पूर्वकं प्रेरणं यत् कुर्वन् प्रयोजक इत्युच्यते । संविधानं हि कुर्वन्नपि यावत्प्रेषणं नाचरति न तावत्प्रयोजकः कथ्यते । (हेल.)

संवृत lit. covered or concealed; name of an internal effort in the production of sound which is accompanied with a laryngeal hum; cf. संवृती घोषवान्; cf. also ह्रस्वस्थावर्णस्य प्रयोगे संवृतम् । प्रक्रियादशायां तु विवृतमेव S. K. on P. I. 1.9; cf. also तत्रोत्पत्तेः प्राण्यदा जिह्वाश्रोत्राग्र-मध्यमूलानि तत्तद्गणोत्पत्तिस्थानानां तात्वादीनां समीपमेव केवलं अवतिष्ठन्ते तदा संवृता Śabda-kaus. on P. I. 1.9.

संश्लिष्ट very closely held together just as the sound of the consonant र in the vowel ऋ; cf. ऋल्लवर्णे रेफलकारौ संश्लिष्टौ अश्रुतिधरो एकवर्णौ where Uvvaṭa has explained the word संश्लिष्ट as एकीभूत; cf. Uvvaṭa on V. Pr. IV. 148.

संसर्ग lit. contact, connection; (1) contact of the air passing up through the gullet and striking the several places which produce the sound, which is of three kinds, hard, middling and soft; cf. संसर्गो वायुस्थानसंसर्गः अभिधातात्मकः । स त्रिविधः । अयःपिण्डवद्द्वारुपिण्डवदूर्णापिण्डवदिति । तदुक्त-मापिशलशिक्षायाम् । स्पर्शयमवर्णकरो वायुः अयः-पिण्डवत्स्थानमापीडयति । अन्तस्थावर्णकरो दाह-पिण्डवत् । ऊर्ध्वस्थस्वरवर्णकर ऊर्णापिण्डवत् । com. on T. Pr. XXIII. 1; (2) syntactical connection between words themselves which exists between pairs of words as between nouns and adjectives as also between verbs and the kārakas, which is necessary for understanding the meaning of a sentence. Some Mīmāṃsakas and Logicians hold that samsarga itself is the meaning of a sentence. The syntactical relation between two words is described to be of two kinds अमेदसंसर्ग of the type of आधाराधेयभाव and भेदसंसर्ग of the type of विषयविषयिभाव, समावाय, जन्य-जनकभाव and the like.

संसृष्ट words syntactically connected with each other, and hence, capable of expressing the sense of a sentence; cf. संसृष्टे वाक्यार्थः । Vākya-pāṭya II. 2.

संसृष्टवादिपक्ष the theory, that the meaning of a sentence is a novel thing (अपूर्व), held by some Mīmāṃsakas who believe that words connected with activity display their phenomenal capacity (अनुभाविकाशक्ति) after the recalling of the senses of words by the recalling capacity (सारिकाशक्ति).

संस्कार (1) preparation such as (a) that of a word by placing the affix after the base and accomplishing all the necessary changes, or (b) that of a sentence by placing all words connected mutually by syntax and then explaining their formation; these two views are respectively called the पदसंस्कारपक्ष and the वाक्य-संस्कारपक्ष; (2) grammatical formation ; cf. स्वरसंस्कारयोश्छन्दसि नियमः । संस्कारो लोपागमवर्णविकारप्रकृतिभावलक्षणः । Uvvaṭa on V. Pr. I. 1 ; cf. also तद्यत्र स्वरसंस्कारौ प्रादेशिकेन गुणेन अन्वितौ स्याताम् etc. Nir. I.

संस्कृतमञ्जरी a short handbook on declension and case-relations written by a grammarian named Sādhusundara, who lived in the beginning of the eighteenth century.

संस्त्यान deterioration of qualities or parts ; contraction. cp. Vāk. pad. III. 13-27 ; III. 14.171. cp. संस्त्यानं संहननं तमोन्दिष्टिः अशक्तिः उपरतिः प्रवृत्तिः प्रतिबन्धः तिरोभावः स्त्रीत्वम् । (Samgraha quoted by हेला. on Vāk. pad. III. 13.2.

संस्थान stature, form ; cp. Vāk. pad. II. 105 ; III. 1.41.

संस्पृष्ट lit. formed by combination or compact ; the term is used in the Prātiśākyas for diphthongs which are combinations, in fact, of two vowels which are completely mixed being produced with a single effort. The diphthongs and ऋ also, are called संस्पृष्टवर्ण.

संस्वाद a peculiar phonetic element described along with another one named निगार both of which have got no definite place of utterance in the mouth ; cf. अविशेषस्थानौ संस्वादनिगारौ । पकारनकारयकाराः वा संस्वादे । हकारमकारनासिक्या वा निगारे । com. on R. T. II.

संहार unnecessary contraction of the place (स्थान) as also of the instrument (करण), which results into a fault of utterance called पीडन ; cf. विहारसंहारयोर्व्यासपीडने R. Pr. XIV. 2.

संहिता position of words or parts of words in the formation of a word quite near each other which results into the natural phonetic coalescence of the preceding and the following letters. Originally when the Vedic hymns or the running prose passages of the Yajurveda were split up into their different constituent parts namely the words or padas by the Padakāras, the word संहिता or संहितापाठ came into use as contrasted with the पदपाठ. The writers of the Prātiśākyas have consequently defined संहिता as पदप्रकृतिः संहिता, while Pāṇini who further split up the padas into bases (प्रकृति) and affixes (प्रत्यय) and mentioned several augments and substitutes, the phonetic combinations, which resulted inside the word or pada, had to explain by reason of the close vicinity of the several phonetic units forming the base, the affix, the augment, the substitute and the like, and he had to define the word संहिता rather differently which he did in the words परः संनिकर्षः संहिता । cf. P. I. 4.109 ; cf. also संहितैकपदे नित्या नित्या धातूपसर्गयोः । नित्या समासे वाक्ये तु सा विवक्षामपेक्षते ॥ Śabdakaustubha on Māheśvara Sūtra 5.1.

संहितापाठ the running text or the original text of the four Vedas as originally composed. This text, which was the original one, was split up into its constituent padas or separate words by ancient sages शौनक, आत्रेय and others, with a view to facilitating the understanding of it, and consequently to preserving it in the oral tradition. The original was called मूलप्रकृति of which the पदपाठ and the क्रमपाठ which were comparatively older than the other artificial recitations such as the ऋपाठ, घनपाठ and others, are found mentioned in the Prātiśākhya works.

सक् augment स added to the roots यन् रम्, नम् as also to roots which end in आ before affixes of the aorist tense; e.g. अयंसीत्, व्यरंसीत्, अयासीत्, cf. P. VII. 2.73.

सकर्मक a root which, by virtue of the nature of its meaning i.e. verbal activity, requires or expects an object which is covered by the activity; a transitive root. In the passive voice of these roots the object is expressed by the verbal termination and hence it is put in the nominative case.

सकारक accompanied by the qualifying words such as the different Kāraḥas or causal agents for the verbal activity; cf. आख्यातं साध्यं सकारकं सकारकविशेषणं वाक्यम्! सकारकम्। ओदनं पचति। M. Bh. on P. II. 1.1. Vārt. 9.

सकृदाख्यातनिर्ग्राह्या capable of being understood on being mentioned only once just as the notion of genus or generality which is so understood; the phrase सकृदाख्यातनिर्ग्राह्या is cited as definition of जाति cf. सकृदाख्यातनिर्ग्राह्या गोत्रं च चरणैः सह। M. Bh. on P. IV. 1.63.

सकृद्गति or सकृद्गतिन्याय the maxim or convention of the non-application of a grammatical rule or operation any longer when, on conflict with another, it has been once set aside. The maxim is सकृद्गति विप्रतिषेधे यद्वाधितं तद्वाधितमेव M. Bh. on P. I. 1.56, I.4. 2, VI. 3.42 etc. cf. also Par. Śek. Pari. 40.

सक्रियाविशेषण accompanied by a word qualifying the verbal activity; sometimes a verb with such a word makes a sentence; cf. सक्रियाविशेषणं चेति वक्तव्यम्। सुष्ठु पचति। M. Bh. on P. II. 1.1 Vārt. 9.

सगति or सगतिक accompanied by a preposition which is called गति; cf. सगतिरपि तिङ् P. VIII. 1.68; cf. also सगतिरपि। प्रपचति M. Bh. on P. VIII. 1.68.

सङ् a short term or प्रत्याहार made up of the स of सन् in गुणिल्लिङ्गः सन् P. III. 1.5, and the ङ् of महिङ् in P. III. 4.78 with a view to including all affixes from सन् to महिङ्; cf. सङ् झलीति कुत्वादयो न सिध्यन्ति, M. Bh. on P. VI. 1.9 Vārt. 7; cf. also M. Bh. on P. VIII. 2.22.

सण् tad. affix सण् prescribed after the word पशु in the sense of collection; e.g. पशुम्; cf. पशुः सण् P. IV. 2.43 Vārt. 3 for which there is an alternative reading पशुं णस् वक्तव्यः; for facility of grammatical operations णस् is recommended with preference in the Mahābhāṣya; cf. एवं तद्दि णस् वक्तव्यः M. Bh. on P. IV. 2.43 Vārt. 3; (2) सण् is given as a technical term for संयोग in the Prātiśākhya works; cf. सयुक् सण् I संयुक्तं व्यञ्जनं संयोग-संज्ञं भवति R. T. 27.

सत् a short term used for the affixes शच् (अत्) and शानच् (आन) which are applied to roots to form the present and the future participles; cf. तौ सत् P. III. 2.127; cf. also लटः सदा P. III. 3.14.

सतिशिष्ट prescribed subsequently; occurring after the preceding has taken place; cf. सति शिष्टेषु विकरणस्वरः सार्वधातु-कस्वरं न बाधते। although the words सति and शिष्टः are separate still it is habitual to take them combined in an adjectival sense and make the word सतिशिष्ट an adjective to the word स्वर as in the dictum सतिशिष्ट-स्वरबलीयस्त्वं च P. VI. 1.158 Vārt. 9.

सतिशिष्टस्वरबलीयस्त्वं the comparatively superior strength of a subsequent accent which prevails by the removal of the accent obtaining before in the process of the formation of a word; cf. VI. 1.158 Vārt. 9. See सतिष्ठि above. cf. Vāk. pad. III. 4.413; III. 14.62.

सत्ता existence, supreme or universal existence; the Jāti par excellence which is advocated to be the final sense of all words and expressions in the language by Bhartṛhari and other grammarians after him who discussed the interpretation of words. The grammarians believe that the ultimate sense of a word is सत्ता which appears manifold and limited in our everyday experience due to different limitations such as deśa, kāla and others. Seen from the static viewpoint, सत्ता appears as द्रव्य, while from the dynamic viewpoint, it appears as a क्रिया. This सत्ता is the soul of everything and it is the same as शब्दतत्त्व or ब्रह्मन् or अस्त्यर्थ; cf. Vākyapadiya II. 121. The static existence, further, is called व्यक्ति or individual with reference to the object, and जाति with reference to the common form possessed by individuals. cf. Vāk. pad. III. 3.464.

सत्त्व an aspect of सत्ता of the type of the static existence possessed by substantives as contrasted with भाव the dynamic type of existence possessed by verbs; cf. भावप्रधान-माख्यातम् । सत्त्वप्रधानानि नामानि Nir. I; cf. also सत्त्वाभिधायकं नाम निपातः पादपूर्णः । R. Pr. XII. 8. V. Pr. VIII. 50. cf. Vāk. pad. III. 1.35.

सत्त्वशब्द the word सत्त्व meaning द्रव्य; cf. चादयोऽसत्त्वे । अयं सत्त्वशब्दः अस्त्येव द्रव्य-पदार्थकः । M. Bh. on P. I. 4.57.

सत्यप्रबोध name of commentary work on the Sārasvatapraṅkiyā.

सत्सप्तमी the locative case prescribed by the rule यस्य च भावेन भावलक्षणम् P. II. 3.37 as seen in गोषु दुह्यमानास्तु गतः; cf. लुकि इति नैषा परसप्तमी । का तर्हि । सत्सप्तमी । लुकि सति इति M. Bh. on P. I. 2.49 Vārt. 2. On account of the frequent occurrence of the word सति in a large number of examples of this locative absolute, the term सतिसप्तमी is used by modern grammarians for the better word सत्सप्तमी in the Mahābhāṣya; cf. M. Bh. on P. VI. 4.23 as also on P. VIII. 3.61.

सधीनर् tad. affix अधीन proposed by the Vārttikakāra in the sense of ' something in that or from that ' ; e.g. राजनीर् राजाधीनः ; cf. तस्मात्तत्रेदमिति सधीनर् P. V. 4.7 Vārt. 2. The standard affix in such cases is ख (ईन) by the rule अवडक्ष ...अध्युत्तरपदात् खः । P. V. 4.7.

III. 1.7 ; (2) applied in the specific senses possessed by the root to the roots गुष्, तिज्, कित्, मान्, बध्, दान् and शान् ; e. g. जुगुप्सते, तितिक्षते, चिकित्सति, मीमांसते, वीभत्सते, दीदांसते, शीशांसते ; cf. P. III. 1.5 and 6. The roots to which सन् is applied are reduplicated and the reduplicated form ending with सन् (स) is looked upon as a different root from the original one for purposes of conjugation, which takes, however, conjugational affixes of the same Pada as the original root ; cf. सनाद्यन्ता धातवः III. 1.32.

सन्नतर graver, comparatively more grave ; a term used in connection with a grave accent which is followed by a vowel with an acute or circumflex accent ; e.g. the vowel इ of सरस्वति in इमं मे गङ्गे यद्गुने सरस्वति शुतुद्रिः ; cf. सन्नं दृष्ट्वा सन्नतर इत्येतद् भवति M. Bh. on P. I. 2.33.

सन्वद्भाव behaviour like that of the affix सन् in point of its specific features, viz. causing reduplication in the case of the previous root by the rule सन्वडोः VI. 1.9, as also the substitution of इ for अ in the reduplicated syllable (अभ्यास) by P. VII. 4.79. This सन्वद्भाव is prescribed in the case of a root ending in इ (णिच्) before the aorist sign (विकरण) चङ्. cf. सन्वडुति चङ्परिज्ञग्लोपे VII. 4.93.

सपादसहाध्यायी a term used in connection with Pāṇini's first seven books and a quarter of the eighth, as contrasted with the term Tripādī, which is used for the last three quarters of the eighth book. The rules or operations given in the Tripādī, are stated to be asiddha or invalid for purposes of the application of the rules in the previous portion, viz. the Sapādasaptādhyāyī, and hence in the formation of words all the rules given in the first seven chapters and a quarter, are applied first and then a way is prepared for the rules of the last three quarters. It is a striking thing that the rules in the Tripādī mostly concern the padas or formed words, the province, in fact, of the Prātiśākhya treatises, and hence they should, as a matter of fact, be applicable to words after their formation and evidently to accomplish this object, Pāṇini has laid down the convention of the invalidity in question by the rule पूर्वत्रासिद्धम् P. VIII. 2.1.

सपूर्व together with a word that is put before, and not with any suffix like बहुच् placed before ; cf. सपूर्वायाः प्रथमाया विसाषा. P. VIII. 1.26 ; सपूर्वाच्च V. 2.87.

tive case by ancient grammarians and Pāṇini; cf. न सप्तम्यामन्त्रितयोः V. Pr. III. 139; cf. ईदूतौ च सप्तम्यर्थे P. I. 1.19 or सप्तम्याखल P. V. 3.10; cf. also द्वितीयादयः शब्दाः पूर्वाचार्यैः सुपां त्रिकेषु स्मर्यन्ते Kāś. on P. II. 3.2; (2) the seventh of the moods and tenses; the optative mood; cf. Kāt. III. 1.20; Hemacandra III. 3.7.

सप्तस्वर lit. the seven accents; the term refers to the seven accents formed of the subdivisions of the three main Vedic accents उदात्त, अनुदात्त and स्वरित viz. उदात्त, उदात्तर, अनुदात्त, अनुदात्तर, स्वरित, स्वरितोदात्त, and एकश्रुति; cf. त एते तन्त्रे तरनिर्देशे सप्त स्वरा भवन्ति । उदात्तः । उदात्तरः । अनुदात्तः । अनुदात्तरः । स्वरितः । स्वरिते य उदात्तः सौन्येन विशिष्टः । एकश्रुतिः सप्तमः ॥ M. Bh. on P. I. 2.33. It is possible that these seven accents which were turned into the seven notes of the chantings of the sāmans developed into the seven musical notes which have traditionally come down to the present day known as सा रे ग म प ध नी; cf. उदात्ते निषादगान्धारौ अनुदात्ते ऋषभधैवतौ । स्वरितप्रभवा ह्येते षड्जमध्यमपञ्चमाः । Pāṇ. Śikṣā. The Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya mentions the seven accents differently; cf. उदात्तादयः परे सप्त । यथा-अभिनिहितश्लेष-प्रशिष्ट-तैरोव्यञ्जन-तैरोविराम-पादवृत्त-ताथाभाष्याः Uvvaṭa on V. Pr. I. 114.

सरस्वतीकण्ठाभरण called also सरस्वतीसूत्र, name of a voluminous grammar work ascribed to king Bhoja in the eleventh century. The grammar is based very closely on Pāṇini's Aṣṭādhyāyī, consisting of eight chapters or books. Although the affixes, the augments and the substitutes are much the same, the order of the Sūtras is considerably changed. By the anxiety of the author to bring together, the necessary portions of the Gaṇapāṭha, the Uṇādipāṭha and the Paribhāṣās, which the author has included in his eight chapters, the book instead of being easy to understand, has lost the element of brevity and become tedious for reading. Hence it is that it is not studied widely. It has an auto-commentary by Bhoja himself. There is a commentary called Hṛdayahāriṇī by Daṇḍanātha, Puruṣakāra by Kṛṣṇa, Ratnadarpaṇa by Rāmasimhadeva and a work called Prakriyāsindhu-ṣetu mentioned by Viṭṭhala in his Prasāda. Some words such as पूर्वं, परं, अवर दक्षिण, उत्तर, अपर, अथर, स्व, अन्तर etc. are treated as pronouns under certain conditions. When, however, in spite of the fault of expectancy the sense is clear, the compound is admissible; cf. यदि सविशेषणानां वृत्तिर्न वृत्तस्य वा विशेषणं न प्रयुज्यते इत्युच्यते देवदत्तस्य गुरुकुलम् देवदत्तस्य गुरुपुत्रः, अत्र वृत्तिर्न प्राप्नोति । अगुरुकुलपुत्रादीनामिति वक्तव्यम् । M. II. 4.82; in Veda स्, शे (प), या, डा, ड्या, याच् and आत् as seen, are substituted for these case affixes, which sometimes are even dropped or assimilated with the previous vowel of the base; e. g. सन्तु पन्थाः, आर्द्रं चर्मन् etc. cf. सुसुप्समास a popular name given to a compound formed of two nouns, which cannot be ordinarily explained by the rules of grammar laid down in definite terms by Pāṇini in II. 1.51 to II. 2.29. These so called irregular compounds are explained as formed in accordance with the rule सह सुपा II. 1.4 wherein the word पद presents itself by अनुवृत्ति from सुवामन्त्रिते पराङ्गवत् स्तरे II. 1.2, the rule सह सुपा as a result being explained as सुप् सुपा सह समस्यते. As these compounds cannot be put under the topics of अन्ययीभाव, तत्पुरुष and others mentioned by Pāṇini in II. 1.5 to II. 2.29 they are called सुसुप्समास or केवलसमास.

सुबन्त name given to a word formed with the addition of a case-affix and hence capable of being used in a sentence by virtue of its being called a पद by the rule सुप्तिङन्तं पदम्. The ancient grammarians gave four kinds of words or padas viz. नाम, आख्यात, उपसर्ग and निपात which Pāṇini has brought under two heads सुबन्त including नाम, उपसर्ग and निपात and तिङन्त standing for आख्यात; cf. सुप्तिङन्तं पदम् P. I. 4. 14.

सुबोधिनी name given to (1) a commentary on the Siddhāntakaumudī by Kṛṣṇamaunin or Jayakṛṣṇamaunin; (2) a commentary on the Sārasvata Vyākaraṇa by Amṛtabhārati; (3) a commentary on the Sārasvata Vyākaraṇa by Candrakīrti. III. 1.11, 12 and 14-18), क्यश् (by P. III. 1.13), णिङ् (by P. III. 1.20), णिच् (P. III. 1.21 and 25) and क्क् (by P. III. 1.27) and also by क्तिप् or zero affix by P. III. 1.11 Vārttika 3. All these formations ending with the affixes mentioned above are termed roots by the rule सनाबन्ता धातवः (P. III. 1. 32) and are regularly conjugated in all the ten tenses and moods with the general conjugational sign श् added to them in the conjugational tenses, and स्य, तास्, and others in the other tenses and moods, and have verbal derivatives also formed by the addition of suitable कृत affixes.

सूत्र a short pithy assertion laying down something in a scientific treatise; aphorism; the word is sometimes used in a collective sense in the singular, referring to the whole collection of Sūtras or rules; cf. व्याकरणस्य सूत्रम् M. Bh. on Āhnika 1. The term is defined as अल्पाक्षरमसंदिग्धं सारवद्विश्वतोमुखम् । अस्तो-मननवधं च सूत्रं सूत्रविदो विदुः॥ There are given generally six kinds of Sūtras viz. संज्ञासूत्र, परिभाषासूत्र, विधि-सूत्र, नियमसूत्र, प्रतिषेधसूत्र and अधिकारसूत्र; also cf. संज्ञा च परिभाषा च विधिलियम एव च । प्रतिषेधोधिकारश्च षड्विधं सूत्रलक्षणम् ॥ Com. on Kāt. I. 1.2.

सूत्रकार the original writer of the sūtras; e.g. पाणिनि, शाकटायन, शर्ववर्मन्, हेमचन्द्र and others. In Pāṇini's system, Pāṇini is called Sūtrakāra, as contrasted with Kātyayana, who is called the Vārttikakāra and Patañjali, who is called the Bhāṣyakāra; cf. पाणिनेः सूत्रकारस्य M. Bh. on P. II. 2.11.

सूत्रपाठ the text of Pāṇini's Sūtras, handed down by oral tradition from the preceptor to the pupil. Although it is said that the actual text of Pāṇini was modified from time to time, still it can be said with certainty that it was fixed at the time of the Bhāṣyakāra who has noted a few different readings only. The Sūtra text approved by the Bhāṣyakāra was followed by the authors of the Kāśikā excepting in a few cases. It is customary with learned Pandits and grammarians to say that the recital of the Sūtras of Pāṇini was originally a continuous one in the form of a Saṁhitā-text and it was later on, that it was split up into the different Sūtras, which explains according to them the variation in the number of Sūtras which is due to the different ways of splitting the Sūtrapāṭha.

सूत्रभेद (1) splitting up of a grammatical rule (योगविभाग); (2) change in the wording of a rule; cf. स एष सूत्रभेदेन लकारोपदेशः प्लुत्याद्यर्थः सन् प्रत्याख्यायते सैषा महतो वंशस्तन्वाछद्मानुक्रुष्यते M. Bh. on Śiva Sūtra 2 Vārt. 5.

सूत्रशाटकन्याय reference to something as present, when, in fact, it is yet to come into existence, on the analogy of the expression अस्य सूत्रस्य शाटकं वयः; cf. भाविनी संज्ञा विज्ञास्यते सूत्रशाटकवत् । M. Bh. on P. I. 3.12 Vārt. 2.

Pr. XXIII. 2. Generally there are given five places of the production of sound viz. कण्ठ, तालु, मूर्धन्, दन्त and ओष्ठ, respectively for the articulation of guttural, palatal, cerebral, dental and labial letters and नासिका as an additional one for the articulation of the nasal consonants ब्, म्, ङ्, ण् and न्. For the Jihvāmūliya sound (ः क), जिह्वामूल is given as a specific one. For details and minor differences of views, see T. Pr. III, R. Pr. 1.18 to 20, R. T. 2-10 ; V. Pr. I. 65 to 84 and M. Bh. on P. I. 1.9. (2) place, substratum, which is generally understood as the sense of the genitive case-affix in rules which prescribe substitutes ; cf. षष्ठी स्थानेयोगा. P. I. 1.49.

स्थानिन् the original word or part of a word such as a syllable or two of it or a letter of it, for which a substitute (आदेश) is prescribed; cf. स्थानिवदादेशोऽनल्विधौ P. I. 1.56.

स्थानिवत् similar to the original behaviour; cf. स्थानिवदादेशोऽनल्विधौ P. I. 1.56. See स्थानिवद्भाव.

स्थानितत्त्व acting like the original. See स्थानिवद्भाव.

स्थानिवद्भाव behaviour of the substitute like the original in respect of holding the qualities of the original and causing grammatical operations by virtue of those qualities. By means of स्थानिवद्भाव, the substitute for a root is, for instance, looked upon as a root; similarly, a noun-base or an affix or so, is looked upon like the original and it can cause such operations or be a recipient of such operations as are due to its being a root or a noun or an affix or the like. This स्थानिवद्भाव cannot be, and is not made also, a universally applicable feature; and there are limitations or restrictions put upon it, the chief of them being अल्विधौ or in the matter of such operations as are caused by 'the property of being a single letter' (अल्विधौ). There are two views regarding this 'behaviour like the original': (1) supposed behaviour which is only instrumental in causing operations or undergoing them which is called शास्त्रातिदेश and (2) actual restoration to the form of the original under certain conditions only as prescribed which is called रूपातिदेश. The रूपातिदेश is actually resorted to by some grammarians in the case of the reduplication of roots; cf. Kās. on द्विवचनेचि P. I. 1.59 and M. Bh. on P. I. 1.59. See the word रूपातिदेश also. For details see Vol. VII. pp. 241-243, Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya D. E. Society's Edition.

स्थानेद्विवचनपक्ष one of the two alternative views regarding reduplication according to which two wordings or units of the same form replace the original single wording, cf. स्थानेद्विवचनपक्षे स्थानिवद्भावात्प्रकृतिव्यपदेशः। Siradeva Pari. 68. The other kind of reduplication is called द्विःप्रयोगद्विवचनपक्ष which looks upon reduplication as the mere placing of an exactly similar unit or wording after the original first unit. This alternative view is accepted in the Kāśikā; cf. Kās. on P. VI. 1.1.

स्थानेयोगा a variety of the genitive case when it is connected in sense with the Prātipadika by the relationship of स्थान or place, as contrasted with the relationships of the kind of विषय-विषयिभाव, अवयवावयविभाव and others. As grammar is a science of words, in those places where one word is mentioned for another by the use of the genitive case it should be understood that the word mentioned is to be substituted for the other; cf. the rule of Pāṇini for that purpose षष्ठी स्थानेयोगा explained by Bhaṭṭoji Dikṣita as अनिर्धारितसंबन्धविशेषा षष्ठी स्थानेयोगा बोध्या; cf. S. K. on P. I. 1.49. In some grammars the sthānin and ādeśa are expressed in the same case, viz. the nominative case.

Pr. XIII.; (४) established or stated in the Pada-pāṭha; cf. स्थिते पदे पदपाठे इत्यर्थः gloss on T. Pr. XX. 2.

स्थिति utterance of a pada or padas in the Pada-pāṭha without इति; the utterance with इति being called उपस्थिति; cf. पदं यदा केवलमाह सा स्थितिः R. Pr. XI. 15; (२) established practice or view; cf. शाकल्यस्य स्थविरस्येतरा स्थितिः R. Pr. II. 44.

स्त् tad. affix स्त् added optionally with स्, to the word मृद् in the sense of praiseworthy; e.g. मृत्स्ना also मृत्सा; cf. सस्नौ प्रशंसायाम् । P. V. 4 40.

स्त्नञ् tad. affix स्त्, added in many tad-dhita senses, अपत्य, जात, समूह, आगत and others mentioned upto P. V. 1st pāda end; e.g. क्षेणः, पौस्नः, cf. स्त्री-पुंसाभ्यां नस्त्नञौ भवनात् P. IV. 1.87.

स्पर्ध् a word used in the sense of 'a conflict of two rules' (विप्रतिषेध) in some grammars such as those of Jainendra, Sākaṭāyana and Hema-candra; cf. Jain. I. 2.39, Śāk. I. 1.46 and Hema. VII. 4.119.

स्फ a short technical term used in the Jainendra Vyākaraṇa instead of the संयोग in Pāṇini's grammar. cp. Jain. Sū. 1.1.3.

स्फोट name given to the radical Śabda which communicates the meaning to the hearers as different from ध्वनि or the sound in ordinary experience. The Vaiyākaraṇas, who followed Pāṇini and who were headed by Bhartṛhari entered into discussions regarding the philosophy of Grammar, and introduced by way of deduction from Pāṇini's grammar, an important theory that शब्द which communicates the meaning is different from the sound which is produced and heard and which is merely instrumental in the manifestation of an internal voice which is called Sphoṭa. स्फुट्यतेऽनेन अर्थः इति स्फोटः or स्फोटः शब्दो ध्वनिस्तस्य व्यायमादुपजायते Vākyapadiyā; cf. also अभिव्यक्तवादाक्तो मध्यमावस्थ आन्तरः शब्दः Kaiyata's Pradīpa. For details see Vākyapadiyā I and Śabdakaustubha

Āhnikā 1. It is doubtful whether this Sphoṭa theory was advocated before Pāṇini. The word स्फोटायन has been put by Pāṇini in the rule अवङ् स्फोटायनस्य only incidentally and, in fact, nothing can be definitely deduced from it although Haradatta says that स्फोटायन was the originator of the स्फोटवाद. The word स्फोट is not actually found in the Prāṭisākhya works. However, commentators on the Prāṭisākhya works have introduced it in their explanations of the texts which describe वर्णोत्पत्ति or production of sound; cf. com. on R. Pr. XIII 4., T. Pr. II. 1. Grammarians have given various kinds of Sphoṭa; cf. स्फोटो द्विधा ॥ व्यक्तिस्फोटो जातिस्फोटश्च । व्यक्तिस्फोटः सखण्ड अखण्डश्च । सखण्डः । वर्णपदवाक्यभेदेन त्रिधा । अखण्डः पदवाक्य भेदेन द्विधा । एवं पञ्च व्यक्तिस्फोटाः । जातिस्फोटः वर्णपदवाक्यभेदेन त्रिधा । इत्येवमष्टौ स्फोटाः तत्र अखण्डवाक्यस्फोट एव मुख्य इति नन्वाः । वाक्य जातिस्फोट इति तु प्राञ्चः ॥ cf. also पदप्रकृतिः संहिता इति प्रातिशाख्यमत्र मानम् । पदानां प्रकृतिरिति षष्ठीतत्पुरुषे अखण्डवाक्यस्फोटपक्षः । बहुव्रीहौ सखण्डवाक्यस्फोटः ॥

III. 4.80, 91; (2) a term used in the sense of स्वर्गीय (belonging to the same class or category) in the Prātiśākhya works; cf. स्पर्शः स्वे R. T. 25; cf. also कान्त् स्वे R. T. 1.55; cf. also R. Pr. IV. 1; and VI. 1; (3) cognate, the same as सवर्ण defined by Pāṇini in तुल्यास्यप्रयत्नं सवर्णम् P. I.1.9; the term is found used in the Jain grammar works of Jainendra, Śākaṭāyana and Hemacanda cf. Jain. I. 1.2. Śāk. I. 1.2; Hema. I. 1.17.

स्वपदार्थ meaning of one's own, as possessed by a word. In many compounds especially in the Bahuvrīhi compounds the meaning expressed by the compound word is quite different from the one expressed by the constituent words; cf. स्वपदार्थे कर्मधारयः । अन्यपदार्थे बहुव्रीहिः । M. Bh. on P. II. 1. 69.

स्वपाठ the original recital of the Veda; the Saṁhitāpāṭha as opposed to the Padapāṭha which is looked upon more or less as artificial.

स्वमात्रा existence or nature of self; evolution or development of self. cp. सर्वो हि विकारः आत्ममात्रेति केषांचिद्देशनम् । (स्वो. on Vāk. pad. I. 129)

स्वर (1) vowel, as contrasted with a consonant which never stands by itself independently. The word स्वर is defined generally as स्वयं राजन्ते ते स्वराः (M. Bh. on P.), The word स्वर is always used in the sense of a vowel in the Prātiśākhya works; Pāṇini, however, has got the word अच् (short term or Pratyāhāra formed of अ in 'अइउण्' and च् at the end of ऐऔच् Māheśvara sūtra 4) always used for vowels, the term स्वर being relegated by him to denote accents which are also termed स्वर in the ancient Prātiśākhya and grammars. The number of vowels, although shown differently in different ancient works, is the same, viz. five simple vowels अ, इ, उ, ऋ, लृ, and four diphthongs ए, ऐ, ओ, and औ. These nine, by the addition of the long varieties of the first four such as आ, ई, ऊ, and ऋ, are increased to thirteen and further to twentytwo by adding the pluta forms, there being no long variety for लृ and short one for the diphthongs. All these twentytwo varieties have further subdivisions, made on the criterion of each of them being further characterized by the properties उदात्त, अनुदात्त and स्वरित and निरनुनासिक and सानुनासिक. (2) The word स्वर also means accent, a property possessed exclusively by vowels and not by consonants, as they are entirely dependent on vowels and can at the most be said to possess the same accent as the vowel with which they are uttered together. The accents are mentioned to be three; the acute (उदात्त), the grave अनुदात्त and the circumflex (स्वरित) defined respectively as उच्चैरुदात्तः, नीचैरनुदात्तः and समाहारः स्वरितः by Pāṇini (P. I. 2.29, 30, 31). The point whether समाहार means a combination or coming together one after another of the two, or a commixture or blending of the two is critically discussed in the Mahābhāṣya. (vide M. Bh. on P. I. 2.31). There are, however, two kinds of svarita mentioned by Pāṇini and found actually in use: (a) the independent स्वरित as possessed by the word स्वर् (from which possibly the word स्वरित was formed) and a few other words as also many times by the resultant vowel out of two vowels (उदात्त and अनुदात्त) combined, and (b) the enclitic or secondary svarita by which name, one or more grave vowels occurring after the udātta, in a chain, are called; cf. P. VIII. 2.4 VIII. 2.6 and VIII. 4.66 and 67. The topic of accents is fully discussed by the authors of the Prātiśākhya as also by Pāṇini. For details, see R. Pr. III. 1.19; T. Pr. 38-47 V. Pr. I. 108 to 132, II. 1.65 A. Pr. Adhyāya 1 pādas 1, 2, 3 and Rk-Tantra 51-66; see also Kaiyaṭa on P. I. 2.29; (3) The word स्वर is used also in the sense of a musical tone. This meaning arose out of the second meaning 'accent' which itself arose from the first viz. 'vowel', and it is fully discussed in works explanatory of the chanting of Sāmas. Patañjali has given seven subdivisions of accents which may be at the origin of the seven musical notes. See सप्तस्वर above.

स्वरप्रतिरूपक a word or Prātipadika which is exactly similar to a single vowel such as उ or आ or ए and the like; such words are to be looked upon as Avyayas and the case-affixes after them are dropped when they are used. cf. स्वरप्रतिरूपकमव्ययम्.

स्वरभक्ति a vowel part; appearance of a consonant as a vowel; the character of a vowel borne by a consonant. Many times a semi-vowel which consists of one letter has to be divided especially for purposes of metre, as also for accentuation into two letters or rather, has to be turned into two letters by inserting a vowel before it or after it, for instance य् is to be turned into इय् e. g. in त्रियम्बकं यजामहे, while र् or रेफ is to be turned into र्क as for instance in कर्हि चित् which is to be uttered as कर् ऋ हि चित्. This prefixing or suffixing of a vowel is called स्वरभक्ति; cf. स्वरभक्तिः पूर्वभागक्षराङ्गं द्वाधीयसी सार्धमात्रेतरं च । अर्धोनान्या । R. Pr. I. 32-35; cf. also न संयोगं स्वरभक्तिर्विहन्ति R. Pr. VI. 35; cf. also रेफात् स्वरोपहिताद् व्यञ्जनोदयाद् ऋकारवर्णा स्वरभक्तिरुत्तरा; R. Pr. VI. 46. In Pāṇini's grammar, however, the word अञ्भक्ति, which means the same, is used for स्वरभक्ति; cf. ऋति ऋ वा लृति लृ वा इत्युभयत्रापि विधेयं वर्णद्वयं द्विमात्रम् । आद्यस्य मध्ये द्वौ रेफौ तयोरेका मात्रा । अभितोऽभक्तेरपरा । S. K. on VI. 1.101.

स्वरभिन्न differing in the matter of accent; words so differing are practically looked upon as one and the same; cf. स्वरभिन्नानां यस्योत्तरस्वरविधित्तस्यैकशेषो वक्तव्यः । अक्षश्च अक्षश्च अक्षौ । M. Bh. on l. 2. 64 Vārt. 24. For technical purposes, they are sometimes looked upon as different; cf. स्वरभिन्नस्य च प्राप्नुवन् विधिरित्यः । Par. Śek. Pari. 49.

स्वरितकरण marking or characterizing by a svarita accent, as is supposed to have been done by Pāṇini when he wrote down his sūtras of grammar as also the Dhātupāṭha, the Gaṇapāṭha and other subsidiary appendixes. Although the rules of the Aṣṭādhyāyī are not recited at present with the proper accents possessed by the various vowels as given by the Sūtrakāra, still, by convention and traditional explanation, certain words are to be believed as possessed of certain accents. In the Dhātupāṭha, by oral tradition the accents of the several roots are known by the phrases अथ स्वरितेत्, अथाद्युदात्ताः, अथान्तोदात्ताः, अथानुदात्तेतः put therein at different places. In the sūtras, a major purpose is served by the circumflex accent with which such words, as are to continue to the next or next few or next many rule, have been marked. As the oral tradition, according to which the Sūtras are recited at present, has preserved no accents, it is only the authoritative word, described as 'pratiṣṭhā' of the ancient grammarians, which now is available for knowing the svarita. The same holds good in the case of nasalization (आनुनासिक्य) which is used as a factor for determining the indicatory nature of vowels as stated by the rule उपदेशेजनुनासिक इत्; cf. प्रतिज्ञानुनासिक्याः पाणिनीयाः S. K. on P. I. 3.2.

स्वरितप्रतिज्ञा the conventional dictum that a particular rule or part of a rule, is marked with the accent स्वरित which enables the grammarians to decide that that rule or that part of a rule is to occur in each of the subsequent Sūtras, the limit of continuation being ascertained from convention. It is possible that Pāṇini in his original recital of the Aṣṭādhyāyī recited the words in the rules with the necessary accents; probably he recited every word, which was not to proceed further, with one acute or with one circumflex vowel, while, the words which were to proceed to the next rule or rules, were marked with an actual circumflex accent (स्वरित), or with a neutralization of the acute and the grave accents (स्वरितत्व), that is, probably without accents or by एकश्रुति or by प्रचय; cf. स्वरितेनाधिकारः P. I. 3.11 and the Mahābhāṣya thereon.

स्वरितेत् marked with a mute circumflex vowel; the term is used in connection with roots in the Dhātupāṭha which are said to have been so marked for the purpose of indicating that they are to take personal endings of both the padas; cf. स्वरितञितः कर्त्रभिप्राये क्रियाफले P. I.3.72.

स्वरूपग्रहण mention by the verbal form, and not by the description of characteristics; e. g. मृजेवृद्धिः P. VII. 2.114; सृजिदृशोर्ज्ञेयमकिति VI. 1. 58; cf. धातोः स्वरूपग्रहणे तत्प्रत्यये कार्यविज्ञानम् M. Bh. on P. VI. 1.58.

स्वरूपविधि an operation prescribed for the verbal form of the word and not for such words as possess the meaning of the word; cf. अस्ति कश्चित्पुरुषारम्भः। कः। स्वरूपविधिर्नाम। हन्तेरात्मनेपदमुच्यमानं हन्तेरेव स्याद्वयेन स्यात्। M. Bh. on P. I. 1.56 Vārt. 1. In grammar there is a general dictum that in connection with words of a Sūtra, unless they are technical terms, the word-forms are to be understood, and not those shown by the sense of the word; cf. स्वं रूपं शब्दस्याशब्दसंज्ञा P. I. 1.68. This rule has some exceptions; for example, in the rule नदीसिश्च P. II. 1.20 the various rivers are to be understood and not the word नदी.

स्वस्थ lit. remaining in its own form without admitting any euphonic change for the final letter; an ancient term for 'praghyā' of Pāṇini.

स्वस्वामिसंबन्ध relationship of the possessor and the possessed; one of the general meanings of the type of relation, expressed by the genitive case; cf. अधिरीश्वरे । ईश्वरः स्वामी । स च स्वमपेक्षते तदयं स्वस्वामिसंबन्धः कर्मप्रवचनीयसंज्ञो भवति । Kās. on P. I. 4.97.

I. 3.28; (2) forming a part, a portion; cf. स्वाङ्गञ्चोपसर्जनादसंयोगोपधात् । किं स्वाङ्गं नाम । अद्रवं मूर्तिमत्स्वाङ्गं प्राणिस्थमविकारजम् । अतस्त्वं तत्र दृष्टं च तस्य चेतत्तथा युतम् ॥ अप्राणिनोपि स्वाङ्गम् । M. Bh. on P. IV. 1.54.

The addition of a case-affix entitles the word, made up of the base and the case-affix, to be termed a Pada which is fit for use in language; cf. अपदं न प्रयुञ्जीत; cf. निपातस्य अनर्थकस्य प्रातिपदिकसंज्ञा वक्तव्या । किं पुनरत्र पदसंज्ञया प्राथ्यते । प्रातिपदिकादिति स्वाद्युत्पत्तिः, सुबन्तं

पदमिति पदसंज्ञा, पदस्य पदादिति निघातो यथा स्यात् । M. Bh. on P. I. 2.45 Vārt. 12.

स्वार a term used in the Prātiśākhya works for स्वरित or the circumflex accent; स्वारः स्वरितः । Com. on T. Pr. XVII. 6; cf. also T. Pr. XX. 20; XXIII. 24. There are seven varieties of स्वार given in the Prātiśākhya works, viz. क्षेप, नित्य, प्रातिहत, असिनिहत, प्रस्त्रिष्ट, पादवृत्त and तैरोव्यञ्जन, cf. T.Pr. XX. 1-7.

The word is used in connection with a large number of tad. affixes which are prescribed without any special sense attached to them; vide P. V. 3.36 to P. V. 4.67. The Samāsānta affixes prescribed from P.V. 4.68 onwards can also be called स्वार्थिक; cf. स्वार्थिकाश्च प्रकृतितो लिङ्गवचनान्यनुवर्तन्ते । M. Bh. on P. V. 4.14, 27. See the word स्वार्थे.

tionally stated (आनुदेशिक); cf. अस्त्वन्न आनुदेशिकस्य बलादित्स्य प्रतिषेधः । स्वाश्रयमन्न बलादित्त्वं भविष्यति M. Bh. on P. I. 1.59 Vārt. 6.

ह the last of the spirant consonants; which is a glottal, voiced letter called also ऊष्म or spirant of a partial contact, i.e. possessed of the properties कण्ठ्य, नादानुप्रदान, ऊष्म and ईषत्सृष्टत्व. This letter has been given twice in the Pāṇinian alphabet, viz. the Māheśvara Sūtras, and the Bhāṣyakāra has given the purpose of it, viz. the technical utility of being included among soft consonants along with semivowels, nasals and the fifth, the fourth, and the third class-consonants (हश् अश् etc.), as also among the hard consonants along with the fourth and the third class-letters and spirants (शल्). The second letter ह in हल् appears, however, to have only a technical utility, as the purpose of its place there among spirants is served by the Jihvāmūliya and the Upadhmaniya letters, which are, in fact, the velar and the labial spirants respectively, besides the other three श्, ष् and स्. The Ṛk Prātiśākhya calls ह a chest sound. For details, see Mahābhāṣya on the Śiva Sūtra ह्यवरद् Vārttikas I, 2 and 3.

II.6; (3) name of an external

II.6; (4) name of a kind of external effort of the type of अनुप्रदान found in the utterance of the consonant (ह्) and the fourth class-consonants; cf. हकारो हचतुर्थेषु T.Pr. II.9.

He lived in the beginning of the twelfth century after Kaiyaṭa. His scholarship in Grammar was very sound and he is believed to have commented on many grammar-works. The only fault of the scholar was a very keen sense of egotism which is found in his work, although it can certainly be said that the egotism was not ill-placed and could be justified; cf. एवं प्रकटितोस्माभिर्भाष्ये परिचयः परः । तस्य निःशेषतो मन्ये प्रतिपत्तापि दुर्लभः ॥ also प्रक्रियातर्कगहने प्रविष्टो हृष्टमानसः । हरदत्तहरिः स्वैरं विहरन् केन वार्यते ॥ Padamañjarī, on P. हेमचन्द्र a Jain sage and scholar of remarkable erudition in the religious works of the Jainas as also in several Śāstras. He was a resident of Dhandhukā in Gujarat, who, like Śaṅkarācārya took संन्यासदीक्षा at a very early age and wrote a very large number of original books and commentaries, the total number of which may well nigh exceed fifty, during his long life of eighty-four years (1088 to 1172). He stayed at Anhilavādā-Paṭṭana in the North Gujarat and was patronised with extreme reverence by King Kumār-apāla who, in fact, became his devoted pupil. Besides the well-known works on the various Śāstras like Kāvyaṅuśāsana, Abhidhānacintāmaṇi, Deśināmamālā, Yogaśāstra, Dvyāśrayakāvya, Triṣaṣṭīśālākāpuruṣacarita and others which are well-known, he wrote a big work on grammar called सिद्धहेमचन्द्र by him, but popularly known by the name

हेमव्याकरण or हेमशब्दानुशासन. The work consists of eight books or Adhyāyas, out of which the eighth book is devoted to Prakrit Grammar, and can be styled as a Grammar of all the Prakrit dialects. The Sanskrit Grammar of seven chapters is based practically upon Pāṇini's Aṣṭādhyāyī, the rules or sūtras referring to Vedic words or Vedic affixes or accents being entirely omitted. The wording of the Sūtras is much similar to that of Pāṇini; at some places it is even identical. The order of the treatment of the subjects in the सिद्धहेमशब्दानुशासनसूत्र is not, however, similar to that obtaining in the Aṣṭādhyāyī of Pāṇini. He is mainly indebted to Pāṇini and Amoghavṛtti and Jainendra Mahāvṛtti. It is somewhat topicwise as in the Kātantra Vyākaraṇa. The first Adhyāya and a quarter of the second are devoted to Saṁjñā, Pāribhāṣā and declension; the second Pāda of the second Adhyāya is devoted to kāraka, while the third Pāda of it is devoted to cerebralization and the fourth to the Strīpratyayas. The first two Pādas of the third Adhyāya are devoted to Samāsas or compound words, while the last two Pādas of the third Adhyāya and the fourth Adhyāya are devoted to conjugation. The fifth Adhyāya is devoted to verbal derivatives or kṛdanta, while the sixth and the seventh Adhyāyas are devoted to formations of nouns from nouns, or taddhita words. On this Śabdānuśāsana, which is just like Pāṇini's Aṣṭādhyāyī, the eighth adhyāya of Hemacandra being devoted to the grammar of the Ārṣa language similar to Vedic grammar of Pāṇini, Hemacandra has himself written two glosses which are named लघुवृत्ति and बृहद्वृत्ति and the famous commentary known as the Bṛhannyāsa. Besides these works viz. the हैमशब्दानुशासन, the two Vṛttis on it and the Bṛhannyāsa, he has given an appendix viz. the Liṅgānuśāsana. The Grammar of Hemacandra, in short, introduced a new system of grammar different from, yet similar to, that of Pāṇini, which by his followers was made completely similar to the Pāṇiniya system by writing works similar to the Siddhāntakamudī, the Dhātuvṛtti, the Manoramā and the Paribhāṣenduśekhara. He has drawn very freely on earlier Brahmanical and Jain grammatical works.
